ITS LAST DAYS

The Legislature is a Wild Scene of Excitement and the Members Are Fighting Mad.

Senator Leavitt's Bill Providing For An Inheritance Tax Passed and Sent to the Governor.

A Bill of Donnelly's For Fixing Rates on Coal, Wood and Grain Defeated Today.

The Senate Killed the General Road and Bridge Bill and Few Measures Will Pass.

ST. PAUL, April 15.—[Special to The Herald.]—The house refused to concur this morning in the senate amendments to the omnibus appropriation bill. The Itasca park and forestry amendments were particularly objectionable to Mr. Wyman, of Minneapolis. Committees of conference have been named by both the house and senate.

The house passed Senator Leavitt's bill providing an inheritance tax on bequests, legacies, devises, etc., and it went to the governor for his signature. The senate bill increasing the salary of the supreme court reporter from $1500 to $5000 passed the house.

The house in a horrible temper, fighting mad, and with eighty-six bills on the calendar and several hundred upon general orders.

Senator Donnelly called up his railroad rate bill, which fixes the prices of railroads for carrying coal, hay and grain, etc., making a 25 per cent reduction, the reduction being greater as the distance is longer. It was amended by the senate so as to apply only to wheat and lost upon a final vote of 27 to 121.

In the senate a lot of useless resolutions were introduced and took up time. Senator Mott introduced a general road and bridge bill to provide for an appropriation of $45,000 for that purpose throughout the state.

The senate during the whole forenoon was occupied with routine matters. Senators would object to suspension of the rules and no business could be rushed through on the usual plan.

It was made up his mind that Bill Campbell needed the salary attached to this position and told the president he wanted Campbell appointed. Campbell is the winner.

Maj. Baldwin would not discuss the matter when asked if it was true today.

THE BALANCE OF TRADE.

It is Turning Strongly Against This Country at the Present Time.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The adverse turn of the balance of trade against the United States continues to be shown by the figures of the bureau of statistics. The total exports of breadstuffs for last month were $13,866,000; for the corresponding month in 1892 they were $23,022,000, a falling off for the month of $9,156,000.

For the nine months ending March, 1893, the exports of breadstuffs were $145,300,000; for the corresponding nine months of the previous fiscal year they were $233,150,000; a falling off in nine months of $87,850,000.

The decline in the exportation of hogs, beef and dairy products has been equally marked. For the month of March last the exports of these products were $2,341,000; for the corresponding month of 1892, $11,523,000, a falling off of $9,182,000. For the nine months ending March 3, the exports of these products were $27,300,000; for the corresponding nine months, $33,983,000, a falling off of $6,683,000.

THE LAKE SHORE ENGINEERS.

The Company Will Not Re-instate Those Who Quit Work.

CLEVELAND, O., April 15.—It was learned today that the Lake Shore railway company will not re-instate the engineers who quit work at Toledo. The board of adjustment of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers held a consultation with the company yesterday and asked that the men who left the company's service be re-instated.

In his reply today the general superintendent said he did not wish it to be understood that the company would refuse to employ the men, by simply saying that they could not be re-instated in their old position. It is possible that the engineers may carry their case up to President Newell, but it is believed his views are the same.

A prominent member of the brotherhood said today that there is no probability of a strike on the Lake Shore as a result of today's decision. The conservative ruling element of the brotherhood will cause no further action in the case and the men who quit work will do so on their own individual responsibility.

Two People Drowned.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., April 15.—Alex. W. Quarier, clerk in the secretary of state's office, and a son of the late Hon. A. W. Quarier, went out fishing Thursday night with Miss Ella Young, of Missouri, who has been visiting here for some time. They did not return, and the assumption is that both were drowned. A broken paddle, which is supposed to have belonged to Mr. Quarier, was found at lock six yesterday.

Had a Close Call.

REDWOOD FALLS, April 15.—County Attorney Madison attempted to cross a dangerous bayou leading into the Minnesota river in order to attend court at Beaver Falls. His valuable team was stalled and Attorney Madison and the driver narrowly escaped being drowned. Ex-Congressman John Lind and Judge Bowers were upset in this dangerous bayou this week.

McBRIDE HAS RESIGNED.

The Insurance Commissioner of Kansas Has Stopped Out.

TOPEKA, Kas., April 15.—W. H. McBride, state insurance commissioner, tendered his resignation today and Governor Llewelling appointed J. G. Snyder, of Kingman county, to succeed him. The change will be made May 1. Serious charges were made against McBride by the Populists recently. A full investigation adduced no evidence to sustain the charges, but knowing this fact it was generally believed that the governor would find McBride guilty and remove him. Last Monday, however, he completely exonerated McBride, but it was rumored then that the decision was the result of an agreement by which McBride was to be acquitted on the consideration of his immediate resignation. The event today confirms this report.

CANDIDATES MUST WAIT.

No Chance in the Land Offices Till the Present Terms Expire.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—"I will not consider any of those things for the present," said Secretary Hoke Smith yesterday morning. "When the terms of the registers and receivers at land offices expire, it will be time enough to bother me with the consideration of the merits of candidates for those places. My understanding is that all of the land offices in the Northwest pay the maximum of $3000 and I do not wonder that the Democrats are anxious to get them, but the policy of the president has already been plainly stated and there will be no variation from it. When appointments are made they are likely to last for four years and Mr. Cleveland considers it a good precedent to establish. I believe that ultimately the people will unanimously ratify the policy."

HE FELT DORAN'S POWER.

Why Maj. Baldwin Was Unable to Secure R. K. Doe's Appointment on the Chippewa Indian Commission.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—[Special to The Herald.]—Michael Doran has finally demonstrated that he will control what patronage he desires to in Minnesota under the present administration. There is a story today that Representative Baldwin has already felt Doran's power.

It will be remembered that Baldwin recommended R. K. Doe for the chairmanship of the Chippewa Indian commission. Doe had most excellent endorsements.

Doran made up his mind that Bill Campbell needed the salary attached to this position and told the president he wanted Campbell appointed. Campbell is the winner.

Maj. Baldwin would not discuss the matter when asked if it was true today.

A BAD CYCLONE

The Town of Thibideaux, in Louisiana, Was Struck By a Cyclone and Badly Damaged.

So Far As Reported Fifteen Persons Were Killed Outright and More Than Forty Injured.

A School House Containing One Hundred Colored Children Struck But Only Five Were Badly Hurt.

Beaumont, Texas, Visited By a Storm of Cyclonic Nature and Many Houses Blown Down.

THIBIDEAUX, La., April 15.—A cyclone passed over the town about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The railroad bridge south of the town was badly damaged. A young negro lad named Carter was struck by a flying board and instantly killed. Congressman Prince's plantation was ruined. Seventeen people on the plantation were badly injured. Two colored children aged respectively 4 and 8 years were killed. Eight dwelling houses inhabited by laborers were completely demolished. The sugar house was totally wrecked. The cane shed, which was the largest and finest in the state, was wrecked.

Six physicians of the town and the city officials are doing all that is possible to relieve the sufferers of the injured people. The St. Bernard sugar house and the Island of Cuba plantation house were badly damaged. The sugar house on the Piedra plantation was totally destroyed. It is reported that a son of D. M. Eunice was killed in the collapse of the Island sugar house.

At Leon Goddard's rice lands place, two men were killed and five injured. The school house was blown down. One hundred colored children were in the building and all made their escape, but five who were taken from the debris were badly hurt. So far as heard from, fifteen persons were killed outright and more than forty injured.

A TEXAS COUNTY SUFFERED.

Houses Blown Down and People Injured and Probably Killed.

BEAUMONT, Tex., April 15.—The storm in this county yesterday was of a cyclonic nature. A number of houses in the vicinity were blown from their foundations. Near the city the Mosso residence was demolished and a 13-year-old girl badly hurt.

Chas. Spinks' house was unroofed. His cistern fell off like a ball. A buggy near Gladys, with two men in it, was blown into a ravine, which saved the lives of the occupants.

At Leon Goddard's rice lands place, in the same neighborhood, the two story residences of C. L. Nash and Professor J. T. Terry were blown over. One man and child, names unknown, are reported to have been killed there.

At Pine Island, Perry Landrum's house was demolished. Wires are down and further reports are anxiously awaited.

Aid for the Sufferers.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 15.—The sufferers at Robinsonville, Miss., which was wiped off the map, are being cared for by a relief committee. Thousands of dollars have been collected to aid the sufferers. The Illinois Central Railway company sent out a freight train to Robinsonville yesterday loaded with provisions, tents, etc., which were distributed by the merchants.

APPEARS TO BE INNOCENT.

An Alibi Proven for Mrs. Frost's Supposed Assailant.

SALINA, Kas., April 15.—The investigation in the case of Hudson, the negro accused by Mrs. Frost will close today, and from the evidence there is but one conclusion possible, and that is that Hudson is innocent.

Mrs. Frost insists that Hudson is guilty, but there is no circumstantial evidence against the negro, and the three witnesses swear Hudson was seven miles from town the night of the crime. The belief in his innocence is constantly increasing.

A telegram from Beloit yesterday afternoon reports that a man around there answers the description of a Mexican, who is suspected of being Mrs. Frost's assailant.

Want Higher Wages.

ST. LOUIS, April 15.—About 200 members of the Composition Roofers' union went on a strike today for an average increase of wages of 50 cents a day. The men claim that the wages paid in Chicago and other cities for the same work are higher than here, and ask for equal pay with their fellow workmen in other cities. The contractors declare they will not grant the increase.

Snow Fall in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., April 15.—About two inches of snow lies on the ground here this morning, and as it is cloudy will probably remain most of the day. Trees and foliage well developed are weighted down, but it is thought the damage to fruit, even that which is in blossom, is slight.

The Columbus Caravels.

HAVANA, April 15.—The Columbus caravels Santa Maria, Nina and Pinta sailed hence for the United States today. They will take a prominent part in the great naval review to be held at New York.

Killed by Gas.

DENISON, Texas, April 15.—Wm. Courtney and Wm. Kane were killed yesterday by gas generated in a well. Courtney was one of the best known railway contractors in the southwest.

DESCENDANTS OF COLUMBUS.

Reached New York This Morning and Were Welcomed to America.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The American line steamer New York, from Southampton with the only descendants of Christopher Columbus on board, arrived at quarantine shortly after 6 o'clock this morning. A drizzling rain was falling, and the vessel was almost hidden in a prevailing fog.

As soon as the New York anchored, Commander Francis W. Dickens, representing the federal government, boarded the New York and delivered an address of welcome in Spanish, to which the duke appropriately replied. After this the band on board played "America."

The duke and his party was transferred to the steamer Blackbird and conveyed to Twenty-second street and North river, from which they were escorted to the Hotel Waldorf, where the party will remain during their stay until they leave for Chicago next week.

The duke is accompanied by the duchess of Veragua, their son, Don Christopher Columbus II Aquilera, Don Carlos Aquilera, Don Maria Del Pilar Columbus II Aquilera, Don Pedro Columbus and the marquis and marquise Barboles, among whom are descendants of Christopher Columbus.

The reception committee consists of Gen. Horace Porter, Perry Bell, Theodore W. Myers, L. E. Simmons, E. V. Skinner, Isidore Strauss, Howard Carroll, Walter Staton and J. J. Martin.

FIERCE FIRE IN A MINE.

The Homestake and Other Large Properties Endangered.

DEADWOOD, S. D., April 15.—Fire broke out yesterday on the 100-foot level of the Terra mine and is now burning fiercely. The slope in which the fire caught is heavily timbered and bulkheaded and affords ample material for the flames. The Terra is connected by drifts with the Homestake, Highland and Deadwood mines and the smoke has become so dense that all the men and mules had to be hoisted to the surface and all work in these mines suspended.

Tremendous efforts are being made to close up the connecting drifts with masonry, but the task is difficult as nobody can stay in the mines over a few minutes on account of smoke.

Unless the flames are checked, the mines will have to be flooded and heavy damage, by caving, is expected. Crowds of curious people are gathered around the different shafts, through which the smoke is pouring in volumes.

STRIKERS ARE DISORDERLY.

Serious Disturbances Are Taking Place in Belgium.

BRUSSELS, April 15.—Notwithstanding the precautions of the authorities, and the decree of the burgomaster prohibiting parades, disorderly demonstrations were renewed in Brussels yesterday. The strikers, who have left work as a protest against the action of the chamber of representatives in rejecting universal suffrage, paraded the streets and twice came into active conflict with the police, who endeavored to enforce the order against processions and to arrest the ring leaders in law breaking.

The strikers threw stones at the police and resisted the orders to disperse. In the encounters which took place several persons were hurt. The strike is gaining ground in the district of Mons, in the province of Hainaut, and more trouble is fermenting there.

At Quaregnon, four miles from Mons, the strikers are again becoming violent, and are marching through the streets, and at Wasmes, six miles from Mons, and Baturagos, four miles from Mons, the situation has already assumed a dangerous aspect. The greatest anxiety prevails, and the government is making active preparations to meet the crisis.

A Serious Disturbance.

BRUSSELS, April 15.—The most serious disturbance that has yet occurred in the present agitation against the chamber of deputies for rejecting the universal suffrage bill took place last night at Juliment. In a fight between the strikers and the gendarmes, one woman was killed and three of the strikers seriously wounded.

The strikers had been acting desperately all day and at night began to assemble in great numbers. The gendarmes attempted to disperse them and met with strong resistance. In the mob of rioters were a number of women, who with shrill voices and flashing eyes, encouraged the men to give battle to the police.

Spurred on by the women, the strikers fought desperately when the gendarmes attempted to drive them from the streets. Clubs and stones were freely used, and there was a prospect of the mob getting the upper hand of the gendarmes, when the order was given for the latter to draw their swords and charge the crowd.

The order was at once obeyed and, slashing right and left, the gendarmes mowed through the mob which broke and scattered in every direction. After the rioters were dispersed it was found that one of the women had been hit with a sword and killed and that three men had been seriously wounded. The affair has caused great excitement and further trouble is apprehended.

The labor leaders, many of whom are socialists, are striving in every way to make the strike general. In Ghent their efforts are meeting with success, and every day fresh ground is gained by the strikers. The situation is acute but the government is vigilant.

MURDERER ARRESTED

A Man and Woman Arrested For the Terrible Palace Royal Explosion in Paris.

The Affair, Which Resulted in the Death of Five Persons, Originated in the Carmaux Strike.

It Was Intended to Blow Up Baron Reill of the Mining Company Out He Escaped.

PARIS, April 15.—Ever since the terrible dynamite explosion of November 8, last, near the Palace Royal, the police have been indefatigably searching for the perpetrators of the outrage. Yesterday a man named Dupral and a woman named Desmasele were arrested on suspicion of having caused the explosion.

This affair, which resulted in the death of five persons, had its origin in the great strike of coal miners at Carmaux last August. Much bitter feeling was engendered by the strike and Baron Reill, the chairman of the principal mining company involved, incurred the special hatred of the strikers through his firm refusal to concede any of their demands.

Early on the morning of November 8, the cashier of the Carmaux Mining company, whose head offices are at No. 11 Avenue DeLux Opera, discovered, as he entered the building, a suspicious looking vessel resembling a sauce pan. He and H. Gurin, the porter, then carried the vessel to the commissary of police where the officers were examining the thing when it exploded, completely wrecking the building and killing M. Roussel, the chief clerk; M. Forne moren, under brigadier of police; M. Reaux, a constable; M. Trautet, an inspector, and Gurin, the porter.

The bodies were frightfully mangled. The only clue which the police obtained was given by H. Lefrappier, a director of the Carmaux Mining company, who stated that as he was leaving the company's office on the preceding day he saw a woman with her head covered with a shawl, as though to disguise herself, going up the stair case as he was coming down. She carried a basket with her from which protruded a curiously shaped article, wrapped in a newspaper.

The police had no doubt that this woman was the tool selected by certain of the Carmaux strikers to cause an explosion at the company's offices and to kill Baron Reill. The discovery of the bomb by the cashier frustrated this plan, but resulted in the killing of five persons who were in no way interested in the Carmaux strike.

THE LOWERING OF THE FLAG.

Carter, of Hawaii, Does Not Regard it as a Mistake.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Charles Carter, one of the Hawaiian annexation commissioners, was seen at his hotel by a reporter and asked if he had any news. He replied in the negative, but stated that he fully expected to hear something before the end of the day. Speaking of the lowering of the United States flag by Mr. Blount's order, Mr. Carter said:

"I don't think it means a reversal of policy of the government as expressed by the late administration. Secretary Foster's attitude was satisfactory to the annexationists, and he promptly disavowed the protectorate. The force of marines was placed on duty in response to the request of the provisional government to protect persons and property from assault and damage from the natives. The necessity for this has passed.

"The annexation move has gained strength and numbers, and President Dole has announced that it will be able to maintain itself if not assailed from without. Therefore the United States troops were no longer necessary. Events have made it necessary to pursue that course. We had hoped when it once was hoisted that annexation would be accomplished and that it might never again be hauled down."

No advices from Honolulu have been received at the navy department. Officers on duty there are disappointed and speak with reluctance about the matter. Naval officers as a rule are strongly in favor of annexing and are inclined to consider the bringing to an end of a protectorate as a step backward.

PRAIRIE FIRES IN KANSAS.

They Are Very Disastrous, Causing Heavy Losses.

TOPEKA, Kas., April 15.—Reports continue to come in of disastrous prairie fires in the western part of the state. The most destructive one yet reported occurred in Hodgeman county Thursday. It swept over the southern half of the county, destroying everything that lay in its path.

Many houses and barns were burned with a large number of horses and cattle. It is impossible to estimate the loss. Logan county also suffered great loss by prairie fires this week.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH.
Entered at the postoffice at Duluth, Minn., as second-class mail matter.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
April 15.—The weather continues fair in all sections, and only light rains have fallen, mostly over the South, since yesterday.
The temperature has changed very slightly to the Northwest and falls over the rest of the country standing at an average at about the freezing point, the coldest over the lower Mississippi valley.
No decided area of high or low barometer is in sight. It is lowest north of Minnesota, and highest over the central and eastern United States.
It is probable that the present weather will prevail until Monday, with slowly rising temperatures in this section.
The temperature did not get above the freezing point here at the warmest time, 39, being the highest, and fell again during the night to 35.

DULUTH, April 15.—Continued fair, slight change in temperature, cool to northeast winds.
R. H. JOHNSON,
Local Forecast Official.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
For Wisconsin: Fair, light southerly winds, warmer. For Minnesota: Fair, southerly shifting to westerly winds; warmer Sunday morning, and in eastern portion Sunday evening.

Prevention Better Than Cure.
The Superior Leader, in urging the people across the bay to clean the city
draws attention to an article by Dr.
Albert Schneider in the Literary Northwest on the cholera outbreak for 1893, in which he expresses the opinion that the cities especially liable to attack are those along the Atlantic coast, the St. Lawrence river and the great lakes and that the plague will make its entrance through Canada, our government, in view of the great peril to the World's fair, having been thoroughly aroused to the need of strict quarantine regulations
at seaports. "There is a human tendency," he says, "to lock the barn door on the stolen horse. This is especially true of Americans."

This warning should be heeded by Duluth as well as by Superior, because the danger is just as great here as it is across the bay. In fact, it is greater here, because there is a larger population and the accumulation of decayed garbage
and other disease-breeding matter is consequently larger. Hence the necessity of at once taking steps to remove all these sources of disease and thus prevent the danger of a cholera epidemic in our midst. The Herald is not seeking to become an alarmist in regard to a cholera visitation, but it is earnest in its desire that Duluth shall be in a position to meet a danger that actually exists. The city should make ready to present a clean front to the scourge, because in this instance the old maxim, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," applies with peculiar force.

If no danger of cholera visitation exists, the necessity of cleaning the city exists. The predisposition of this section to breed typhoid, unless the sanitary conditions are first-class is known to all.
By keeping the city clean we can prevent typhoid and many other diseases,
and thus promote the health and prolong the lives of the people. A clean city is also attractive to visitors and does more to secure a favorable advertisement abroad than any other one thing. Why should not Duluth obtain the reputation of being "the cleanest city in the Northwest"? It would be a powerful advertisement and could be secured at a comparatively small cost.

A Minneapolis Sneeze.
The Minneapolis Tribune is much disturbed by The Herald's references to the bank clearings for the first quarter of the present year, which show a large increase for Duluth over the corresponding period last year, and a decrease of 6 per cent for Minneapolis. It therefore sneers at the size of Duluth's clearings
as compared with those of Minneapolis and refers to them as "the combined clearings of Duluth and West Superior," which are "about one-third those of Minneapolis."

The first part of this statement is false
and the Tribune published it because it was false, on account of its intense hatred of everything tending to show Duluth's rapid growth in a business way
and its desire to belittle Duluth's trade on every possible occasion. The bank clearings credited to Duluth are those of Duluth alone, and there are no West Superior banks connected with the Duluth clearing house and consequently there is no West Superior business included in the Duluth clearing house statements.

The Herald will admit the second portion of the statement with pleasure. The total bank clearings of Duluth are "about one-third those of Minneapolis." This indicates some other facts which may not please the Tribune so well. The population of Minneapolis, according to its own claims, is about 200,000. If the clearings here are one-third those of Minneapolis, naturally the population will bear about the same relation. Consequently the population of Duluth may be estimated now at nearly 70,000, more than double what it was at the time of the last federal census. How long will it take Duluth, at this rate of growth, to surpass Minneapolis in population? Not many years, as the Tribune will perceive by a little calculation.

And if Minneapolis' business keeps falling off, as indicated by the decrease in its bank clearings, while Duluth's keeps growing in proportion to the increase in its clearings, it will not be long before Duluth's business will exceed that of Minneapolis. The Tribune does not injure Duluth by its sneers at the size of Duluth's clearings. They are constantly growing, and that is sufficient for the people who are pushing Duluth to a foremost place among the leading cities of the nation.

Should be Granted.

At the last meeting of the common council, a resolution was introduced by Alderman Howard to appropriate $200
each month for six months for the benefit of the City band, on condition that it be composed of twenty-five pieces and play
at such times and places as the council may designate. The resolution was referred to the finance committee, which will probably report next Monday night.
The committee's report should be a favorable one. The resolution is in line with the sentiment of numerous citizens who were recently interviewed on the subject. The people of Duluth are proud of the City band and want to see it up to its present high standard under Professor Meier's leadership. The engagements which he has secured for the band are sufficient to make it remunerative for twenty-five men, and therefore it has been deemed advisable that the council should make an appropriation, as has been customary in past years for public band concerts.

During the past winter the band has been increased in numbers and has greatly improved in proficiency, and Professor Meier's excellent work deserves this little mark of appreciation by the council. There is no one who will object to this being done, unless he belongs to the chronic kickers.

Professor C. N. Levermore, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has suggested a plan for setting a good example to the newspapers of this country. He wants rich men to give millions for founding an endowed newspaper. Such a newspaper, of course, would not be sensational. It would contain a great deal of agricultural and sociological news and very little about divorces and prize fights. Does Professor Lever-more really think that a newspaper of that character would attain a large circulation?

One of the men recently appointed to a position connected with the North Dakota university is an anarchist of the Parsons-Spies school, who teaches in the public press that the courts of the United States are "a fraud, an abomination, a menace to the government." That such a man should be given any public position is a disgrace to the state of North Dakota.

In Des Moines, Ia., recently, the city council passed an ordinance fixing lower water rates for fire protection and private consumption. The council refused to abandon its former rates and the city applied to the court to compel it. The court has just decided in the company's favor.

Duluth's bank clearings for the past week show an increase of 24.6 per cent over the corresponding period last year.
For the same time St. Paul shows a decrease of 8.8 per cent, and Minneapolis an increase of only 8.6 per cent. The Twins cannot keep up with the pace set by Duluth.

The St. Paul Globe criticizes Mr.
Boggs because he has cross-questioned,
in Mr. Markham's behalf, the witnesses before the investigating committee,
while he will act as a judge in the matter. Mr. Boggs' action is all right. He is trying to get at the facts. Perhaps the Globe objects to the truth coming out.

According to an order of the sultan, the morning papers in Turkey will hereafter appear in the afternoon. This will enable them to publish the news when it is news,
but judging from examples nearer home
they will find it rather tough to be obliged to hustle for news, instead of clipping it from the other papers.

The big Minneapolis miller, Charlie Pillsbury, is said to have been pinched in the May deal on the Chicago board of trade and walked up to the captain's office and settled on 5,000,000 bushels that he was "short." Yet Charlie said some time ago that he did not speculate in futures!

The latest story is that Charlie Mitchell, the prize fighter, intends to abandon the ring and become an evangelist.
It is rather problematical what success
he would make in that role, but he could be started with great effect as "a horrible example."

An Austrian meteorologist predicts that tomorrow will be a terrible day for earthquakes and hurricanes. But Duluth is outside the belt of seismic disturbances and we can all go to church as usual without any fear of the consequences.

The Herald's St. Paul correspondent says the legislature is getting warm as the last days of the session draw nigh.
And yet the coal combine and the pig-

land ring have considered the legislative temperature rather torrid during the past few weeks.

The World's fair management announces that the admission fee of 50 cents will include drinking water. This may not be of much interest to many who will go to the fair, but it is published for what it is worth.

A story comes from Brooklyn of a case where a 65-year-old husband mourns the desertion of his giddy wife of 53 who has eloped with a lively youth of 60 summers. Age is apparently no restraint on elopements.

A Wadena editor has just been responding to a charming young lady of Ver-dale. Here's hoping that this happy event will remove the political hatred
that has existed between the two towns.

Mr. Partridge appears to be game for the May wheat clique at Chicago. Before they get through with him he may conclude that he was a wild goose.

The balance of trade continues to be adverse to this country, and to a very large extent, has the McKinley bill anything to do with it?

Why Not Unite?

Superior Telegram: It is nonsense for the Superior jobber's association to stand idly aside and let Duluth alone grapple with the problems of bettering the railroad and mail facilities to the head of the lake simply because the Duluth union first took the matter up. The question of better train accommodation on the Northern Pacific and improved mail connections with Chicago, concerns Superior equally with Duluth. The one can not be benefited without the other being benefited and equally also. Hence why benefit Superior and Duluth be as a unit in grappling with these questions?

TRIAL BY JURY.

Sir Arthur Sullivan's Charming Operetta at the Lyceum Tonight.

The High School Musical Society has arranged an exceedingly attractive program for the entertainment to be given at the Lyceum tonight. First the laughable farce "Poor Pillicoddy" will be given with Misses McKenzie and War-ford, Mrs. George and Messrs. Custance and Quigley representing the characters. This is a delightful little sketch, bright and sparkling and amusing in the extreme. The cast which will present it is excellent and will be a revelation to Duluth theatre-goers, even though they are already aware that there is an abundance of dramatic talent in the city.

After the farce, "Hooray for the entertainment will conclude with the charming and melodious operetta, "Trial by Jury."
This is one of Sir Arthur Sullivan's brightest works and a more charming and catchy operetta could not be selected. The High School Musical society, numbering fifty voices, will sing
the choruses, and under the direction of Professor Custance have attained a high degree of excellence. The principals have rehearsed their respective parts with commendable persistence, and earnestness and will more than fulfill all expectations.

HAS IT COME TO THIS?

When women, lovely women, have declared that they will have the courts of law to change her land decree!
We may as well turn down our cards and give up in despair!
We cannot stop this dreadful thing that she is bound to wear.
And so let us, prepare to live with meek and humble mind.
Before this thing we dread so much—the coming criminaline.

As on the streets she trips along, when winds
are blowing high.
From grand stands we may view her as she glides by.
And as into the restaurant she makes a bluff
to go.
They will have to open both the doors to give her half a smile.
And when she sits upon his lap, poor George cannot be so bold.

For he'll be out of sight beneath the coming criminaline.
When evildoers take her up in solitary state,
Our statesmen and our orators will have to wait.
And if a fellow asha girl if she will be blown away!
We'll have to join the question through a modern telephone.
And yet, in spite of all these facts, the women,
fat and lean,
All hail the dismal advent of the coming crimi-
naline.

It's fearful just to think of when a fellow, just
for style,
Finds he cannot even kiss her by at least a half a mile.
Unless he is an acrobat and very much in love
And hugs his best girl up side down, suspended from above.
And yet, in spite of this sad fact, the women,
fat and lean,
All hail the dismal advent of the coming crimi-
naline.

A Landable Abolition.

"Miss McGurkin," said the rising young baseball player as he nervously paced the floor, "I have a request to make of you, and I trust that you will not misjudge me, but as I intend calling on you regularly for the next month or so, would it be any trouble for you to year to year the waist you were last night—the one with the large horn buttons down the front?"
"Certainly not, Mr. Hardbase," replied the queenly Hokenbake woman, "but may I ask the meaning of this extraordinary request?"
"You may," he replied as he rapidly seated himself by her side, and placing his arm around her waist began doing business again at the old stand. "I want to get my fingers in shape for the coming season."—Exchange.

THE INFANTA EULALIA. Representative of the Baby King of Spain.

The baby king of Spain, Alfonso XIII,
has chosen for his direct representative
at the World's fair, Infanta, Princess Eulalia. The Spanish government sent apart a war vessel to convey the royal party to this country.

The princess is a young and beautiful woman, scarcely 25 years of age, tall and beautifully formed, with a perfect oval face, and deep black eyes. Her hair is also deep black, and she dresses in the height of Continental fashion.
Eulalia is the sister of the late King Alfonso, and therefore aunt to the present monarch. She stands directly in the way of succession to the crown of Spain, although there is scarcely a possibility of her ever becoming queen, since Alfonso has two sisters.

The princess' husband is Prince Antonio of Orleans, a dashing man of about 28 years, tall and soldierly. Their marriage was celebrated seven years ago, at Madrid, with great pomp and ceremony.

The prince, of course, accompanies Eulalia to this country. In their suite are the duke of Tannames, the marquis de Comillat and the marquis de Vallehermosa, and the prince's secretary, Don Pedro Joverio Yova.

35 Years of Misery With Chronic Diarrhoea.

A Perfect Cure by HOOD'S.

"About 25 years ago I got overworked at work in the harvest field, and was sick about for three months. When I got on my feet again I found that I had a bad kidney trouble and chronic diarrhoea, which has drawn on me for over 35 years.

Just Think of My Misery.

I dared not eat anything more than would barely keep me alive. For years I felt that my stay on earth would be short. I have times without number been in such distress-ful pain and aching that I could not turn my eye in bed, and I would have to ask my wife to take hold of my hands and turn me. In all these years I employed the best physicians but nothing gave me permanent relief. I had an iron constitution, or I could not have stood the strain upon me.

In the fall of 1911 I was so weak I could not work. I concluded I would try Hood's Sarsaparilla. To my surprise and great joy I soon found that it was doing me good and when I had used 7 bottles I was perfectly cured. It is now 4 years and the Cure was Perfect and Permanent.

"For the past four years I have enjoyed life and felt better and younger than in any of the 35 years preceding. I endured everything a human being could and live, and I will recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla long as I live." Wm. Osborn, Gibson City, Ill.

The Smith-Fe Company Announces Its List of Appointments for the Coming Season.

Men Who Will Have Charge of the Williams, Daugherty & Upham Tugs and Dredges.

Outline of Work Which Some of the Tugs Will Do—Other Marine Matters.

Commodore and General Manager E. S. Smith, of the Smith-Fe line of passenger and freight steamers and tugs, announced the following fleet appointments and details for the opening work of the season yesterday:

Passenger steamer Osifrage—Captain, Fred Horbert; mate, H. G. Johnson; clerk, J. H. Steward, J. H. Walker; chief engineer, S. R. Morrison; assistant, Lewis Griggs.

Passenger and freight steamer S. B. Barker—Captain, E. C. Smith; clerk, P. McCabe; chief engineer, Con Sullivan.

Passenger and freight steam barge Otego—Captain, L. E. King; clerk, J. H. Walker; chief engineer, Al McMinn.

Tug A. C. Adams—Captain, Ed Brown; engineer, A. Wagner.

Tug Pathfinder—Captain, Louis La Chapelle; engineer, James Mutch.

Tug Edw. Fiske—Captain C. H. Green; engineer, Al Baker.

Fishing tug J. W. Evison—Capt. W. H. Smith; engineer, Thomas Jones.

The fleet will be up to its ears in business all the season and a large assignment of work has been mapped out. The Osifrage is assigned to the World's fair traffic between Duluth and intermediate points and Chicago, and will carry no freight. C. H. Eldridge is general manager of this special branch of work.

The S. B. Barker will start as soon as the ice will permit on her regular semi-weekly trips along the south shore between Duluth and Ashland and will carry freight and passengers.

The tug A. C. Adams will first tackle the firm's contract for towing the Bradley & Ranford logs from near Wakefield's farm on the north shore. This is a 7,000,000 lb. and the distance about twelve miles. The Pathfinder has a south shore job of towing 8,000,000 feet of logs from the mouth of Brule and Iron rivers, for H. M. Stocking & Co. The Edward Fisk will commence the season with a 14,000,000 contract on the Murray & Co.'s logs, near Amnicon river, 14 miles from the city. The J. W. Evison will be stationed at Iron River all the season and will fish in the immediate vicinity. Her catch will be shipped from that point here. The Otego is at Buffalo ready to start and will take a load of brick from Buffalo to Lake Linden. She will also tow the schooners Monticello and Montclair from Buffalo to East Tawas bay and leave them there, taking two dump scoops from there to Sault Ste. Marie for the government contractors. She will probably come up light from the Soo.

THESE WILL HAVE CHARGE.

Williams, Daugherty & Upham's Appointments For the Season.

The Williams, Daugherty & Upham fleet of tugs and dredges is about ready to tackle the open season's business. There are five tugs and seven dredges, which are officered as follows:

Tug Welcome—Captain, Eli Jacques; engineer, Fred Beauchemin.

Tug Eliza Williams—Captain, Martin Cole; engineer, Peter Duboy.

Tug John Martin—Captain, S. Draglund; engineer, W. A. Rehder.

Tug John H. Upham—Captain, John W. Matheson; engineer, W. A. Rehder.

Tug Walton H.—Captain, W. A. Rehder; engineer, H. F. Brown.

The engineers of the seven dredges, who also act as superintendents, are as follows:

follows: Dredge No. 1, Ed. Farrington; No. 2, H. S. Elliott; No. 3, George Mackie; No. 4, William Clifford; No. 5, Samuel McElroy; No. 6, F. Oestreich; No. 7, George, Fincoat. No. 8 is not in existence now.

The dredges have a very busy season before them, and besides a large amount of government work they have considerable to do for the various railway companies. They will get at their respective locations as soon as the harbor is open of ice.

Nautical Nubbins.

Stone & Ordens's new dock on Commerce slip is well along and will be completed about Tuesday.

The new warehouse of Cutler & Gilbert, located on the Spencer & Forbes dock on the long slip is about ready for use and will be a busy place after next week.

A new dock is to be built at Flag river on the south shore where the new town has been started. The steamer Barker will touch there regularly this week, four times a week.

Northern Pacific people are repairing their dock on the bay front. About $1000 will be expended in new facing and planking.

The first trip of the whaleback steamer E. Bartlett and the barges 111, 116 and 127 will be with coal from Buffalo to Chicago. They will take grain on the single trip to Buffalo, and the barge 111 blockaded at Buffalo is removed by that time.

The A. H. Taylor, well known here, will run between Muskegon and Sheboygan this season.

G. H. Gillett has been appointed manager for the Superior Towing and Dredging company, organized last winter.

The big steamer Otego, this early in the season has broken all previous grain records at Chicago. She loaded 167,800 bushels of oats there Wednesday. This is 500 bushels ahead of her 2 cent record which amounted to $3350.

There is a fairly brisk demand for coal tonnage at Buffalo. Recent charters are the propellers America, New Orleans, H. S. Pickards, for Chicago; schooner Marengo, for Milwaukee; propeller A. L. Hopkins, for Green Bay.

Whalebacks 102 and 103 have gone to Toledo to load for Lake Superior. The Edward Sheldon, Adriatic, Ely, and Neagane are loading for Lake Superior on private terms.

"In the past thirty-five years that I have spent in the Lake Superior country," said J. H. Gillett, the Marquette tugman, Thursday, "I have never seen more ice on the lake than this winter and those who talk of an early opening on Lake Superior this spring don't know what they are talking about."

The ice extends off the Marquette shore as far as the eye can reach. Sunday morning it was seen extending northward, leaving a blue ribbon of water near the shore, but a change in the wind brings the vast plain of ice back. Though warm weather has prevailed for two weeks, the ice is hard and thick and will remain so until the middle of May unless heavy rains intervene.

Keweenaw Bay is ice-bound and heavy teaming is still done over the ice on Portage lake.

The Western Transit company has bought the schooner Gray Oak and will use her as a lighter at Duluth this season. The Gray Oak was built at Bayfield in 1885, and was owned by R. D. Pike. She is valued in the Inland Lloyd's Register at $6000.

The famous Brazil-Mather collision case was amicably settled out of court a few days ago. All parties concerned were of the opinion that it would be the easiest way out of the difficulty. It will be remembered that on Nov. 22, 1891, at 3 o'clock in the morning, the coal-laden steamer Brazil, upward bound, collided with the Samuel Mather on private terms.

about eight miles out from Iroquois point, the latter sinking in about twenty-five minutes in 250 feet of water. The Mather was laden with 58,000 bushels of wheat from Duluth to Buffalo.

The Two Harbors Iron News says: Wednesday at noon no break in the ice field opposite this village was discernible. At 8 o'clock a wide strip of blue water, extending from point to point of bay, gladdened the sight of those who have been anxiously looking therefor.

The opening has since rapidly widened and reaches to the open water several miles east, which has been for some time in sight. In the bay the ice is intact, but a slight southwest wind would break it up, it being very rotten.

THE ANNUAL MEETING.

Duluth, Red Lake Falls & Northern Railway Stockholders in Session.

A meeting of the Duluth, Red Lake Falls & Northern railway stockholders was held yesterday afternoon in the chamber of commerce rooms. The following directors were elected: James M. Paine, J. D. Ensign, Luther Mendenhall, J. D. Ray, C. H. Graves, M. R. Baldwin, H. H. Hanford and J. B. Holmes.

The officers chosen by the directors are: President, James M. Paine; vice president, J. B. Holmes; treasurer, Luther Mendenhall; secretary, Frank Myer.

The articles of incorporation are to be amended and the charter made perpetual. This being suggested by Eastern capitalists who are interested. The name was also changed to the Duluth & Great Western railway.

A form of bond was adopted. These bonds run for fifty years to the Central Trust company of New York. The amount is $25,000 per mile for the first 100 miles and $20,000 per mile for all over that number. There is also $500,000 to be issued for obtaining dock and terminal facilities. It is intended that the terminals shall be located on Minnesota point and that they shall be reached by ferry across the canal.

Mr. Holmes will go to New York at once and now that everything has been arranged to meet the wishes of the Eastern capitalists, expects to commence work by May 15.

GYMNASTIC ENTERTAINMENT.

Exhibition to be Given at the Temple by Y. M. C. A. Gymnasts.

The gymnastic entertainment, which the Y. M. C. A. gymnasts will give in the Temple Opera next Wednesday evening will be the athletic event of the season.

The program will contain spring-board jumping, tumbling, horizontal bar work, vaulting horse work, wrestling, posing with calcium light, high jumping, parallel bar work, club swinging and pyramids. The Temple orchestra will furnish the music and every effort will be made to make the entertainment a grand success.

American Medical Dispensary!

There are many specialists practicing their profession in the Northwest who are none among them who stand higher in the estimation of the people than does Dr. Faulkner, and deservedly so, as his eminence and success in the practice of his profession will testify.

Dr. Faulkner is known throughout the entire Northwest as a master of his profession, whose cures can stand the light of day, and are sufficient recommendations as to his skill in this most exacting profession. Success cannot be achieved in any business or profession unless there is sufficient merit behind it to recommend it to the public, and in this connection we may state that Dr. Faulkner has hitherto been eminently successful, as nine-tenths of the cases which he has attended have been permanent cures, and this is stronger and more convincing proof than anything we could add in his behalf.

Many of our prominent citizens can testify as to the accuracy of our assertion and patients may see for themselves the results of his country if desired. In St. Paul or Duluth the doctor is best known and his friends are legion.

All who may meet the doctor will find him a courteous, considerate and agreeable gentleman, whose greatest desire is to relieve the sufferings of humanity. The doctor's reception parlors and private consultation rooms have been newly and richly furnished and his new dispensary stocked with a full supply of new and fresh drugs.

All medicines are put up by the doctor himself—each case receives his individual attention.

REMEMBER—The doctor treats all Chronic, Skin, Nervous, Blood and Kidney diseases, Piles, Rheumatism, "Secret" and all other diseases. No assistant paid. You, Charges reasonable. Cases and correspondence sacredly confidential. Medicine sent by express everywhere, free from risk and exposure. Consultation free, personally or by letter.

The doctor confines himself STRICTLY to office work—9 a. m. to 12 m.; 2 p. m. to 9 p. m.; Sundays 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

When we recollect that the stomach is the grand laboratory in which the food is transformed into the secretions which furnish vigor to the system after entering and enriching the blood; that it is, in short, the fountain head of strength, it is essential to keep it important supporting machine in order and to restore it to activity when it becomes inactive. This is the Stomach Bitter, which does so effectively, seasonably regulating and reinforcing digestion, promoting due action of the liver and bowels. Strength and vigor of the system depend on the great measure upon thorough digestion. There is no nervous tonic more highly esteemed by the medical fraternity than the Bitters. Physicians also commend it for children and fever, rheumatism, kidney and bladder trouble, sick headache and want of appetite and sleep. Take a wineglassful three times a day.

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing to do for her but she was so weak and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her household. E. H. Johnson, of C. K. STATE OF MINNESOTA, ss.

Court of St. Louis.
District Court, Eleventh Judicial District.
In the matter of the petition for dissolution of the American Mechanical Improvement Company.

The duly verified petition of J. H. Triggs, Geo. V. Brown, Frederick W. Paine, J. H. Triggs and F. E. Kennedy, co-petitioners, in Triggs and Kennedy, H. T. Abbott, John B. Sutphin, Daniel G. Clegg, Joseph D. Ensign, Andrew Jackson, Clinton Mackell as assignees of Henry H. Bell, solvent, A. H. Holgate, James McCall, E. Lovett, Chas. E. Shannon, J. E. Bowers and Luther Mendenhall, executors of the estate of S. E. Walbank deceased, and Joseph H. Hilyer, having been filed, praying among other things, that the court cause proper notice to be given to the persons interested of the hearing of said petition.

That dissolution of said corporation be adjudged.

That the money belonging to said corporation be applied, first, to paying the necessary and reasonable expenses of said proceeding, including attorneys' fees, costs and disbursements, and second, that the balance be distributed as to the court shall deem just and equitable among the several parties who shall be found to own stock of said corporation.

Notice is hereby given that, at a special term of said court, to be held at the court house in the city of Duluth, in said county of St. Louis, state of Minnesota, on the 22nd day of April, 1893, at the opening of court on said day, or at a time thereafter to which the said cause may be adjourned, the court will hear and consider said petition and all persons interested therein may then be heard; and

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be served upon the several persons interested at least ten days before the said time of hearing in the manner provided by law for service of summons in civil cases; provided, that as to any person to whom no copy of this order has been served, the court will hear and consider said petition not found by the sheriff of said county and as to whom it shall be made up to the state of Minnesota, or that after diligent inquiry his residence cannot be ascertained, it is ordered that a copy of this order be published in a newspaper published in said county of St. Louis.

Dated April 14th, 1893. CHAS. L. LEWIS, Judge.

AT TENNYSON'S HOME

Rev. George H. Kemp Tells Some of His Recollections of the Great English Poet Laureate.

Shunned All Social Pleasures, Was Extremely Sensitive and Tried to Avoid the Public Gaze.

Loved to Wander Over the Cliffs Wrapped in his Cloak—Mistaken for a Smuggler.

"When a boy I used to attend church with Alfred Tennyson."

That remark was made to a Herald reporter recently as he stood upon a street corner talking with Rev. George H. Kemp. It is a pleasure to talk to Mr. Kemp, for he always has something worth saying and also knows how to say it. Some people avoid talking to that gentleman because he is an expounder of the gospel and a dispenser of life insurance, but that's all nonsense. Those who object to the first function will always be found to possess guilty consciences, and those who cannot stand the second, are foolish enough to let Mr. Kemp choose his own subject for conversation.

That remark made the long nosed reporter prick up his big ears, for he happened to know that Mr. Kemp has travelled as widely, seen as much of the world, touched elbows with as many kinds of humanity and smiled with as many celebrities as any person in Duluth.

When it is known that a person who has read gravesites in Westminster abbey, played with the British lion, twanged the harp of Wales, studied theology under the tutelage of Spurgeon, broken bread many times with Charles Kingsley, and occupied the same gallery in the house of parliament with Albert Edward, whose stage name is the Prince of Wales, it is only natural that he should, at some time in his career, worship in the same sanctuary with Alfred Tennyson.

"On the south of England," continued the speaker in answer to the look of inquiry that galloped across the reporter's calloused visage, "twenty miles from the mainland, is that heavenly spot, the Isle of Wight. On that is located Cairnsbrook castle, whose walls were erected by the ancient Romans. In that stronghold, King Charles I was imprisoned, and on one occasion made an unsuccessful attempt to escape through a window. There, at Osborne House, the queen had her marine residence. There, on that bit of earth only sixty miles in circumference, I was born.

"The Isle of Wight is beautiful beyond conception. It is an ideal home for a poet, with the woods, green hedges and grasslands; in the springtime, the anemones, primroses and violets; then the black birds, thrushes, sea gulls and other representatives of the feathered tribe;

the white cliffs, the beautiful sea and the balmy breezes. Dr. Talmage once told me, 'I know now what paradise is. I found it when I visited the Isle of Wight.'

"There, at Farringford, Tennyson once had his home. I think he originally resided in Lincolnshire and there got the dialect for the 'Northern Farmer.' At Swainston lived Sir John Simon, a Roman Catholic member of parliament, a most cultured man, gentle and loved by all—in fact a perfect gentleman. I believe that Tennyson's love for Sir John led to his removal to the Isle and his settlement at Farringford.

"His house was a grey country mansion with a grassy park before it. Behind it was a hill, 'Tennyson's down.' From his house could be seen the waves in Fresh Water bay, the white cliffs, all the features in the way of flowers, birds, greenwards and woods which I have mentioned as characteristic of the island. Bayard Taylor, the American traveler, said of the place: 'A journey from Newport to Farringford was alone worth a journey from London.'

"My first recollection of Tennyson is of driving past his house when a boy and seeing him stretched out at full length on the lawn under a lofty linden tree, with a book before him and a huge pipe in his mouth. He was extremely tall, had broad shoulders and a deep voice. His eyes and beard were dark as also was his hair, which was long and almost matted in its shaggy appearance. He shunned all society, was extremely sensitive and avoided public gaze. His home life was very happy, however. When any public matters called for his attention, he nearly always attended to them by letter. In my boyhood, tourists were few and far between. In those days he used to attend the little village church but as his name and writings became better known, visitors would invade our simple place of worship just to gaze at the poet. He soon ceased to attend. He had a few choice and intimate friends and upon them alone he bestowed his society. From the Queen's marine residence at Osborne House, her husband, Prince Albert, used to walk and call upon the great bard.

"Tennyson was very fond of stealing out at night, walking on the downs and along the cliff tops, with his slouch hat pulled down and wrapped in his mysterious cloak. That hat and cloak had much of mystery to the simple country people and they used to remark about it in awesome accents.

One lady visitor asked some village boys if they knew Tennyson. 'Yes,' they replied, 'he makes poets for the queen.' Sometimes, when the youngsters would see him on his lonely strolls, they would make remarks to the effect that 'He's walking out in the night making poets.' They seemed to have an indistinct idea as to what his business was and what the terms applied to him by visitors meant.

"One wild, stormy night, just the kind in which Tennyson loved to wander along the cliffs, wrapped in his cloak, shielded by that slouch hat, and breathing the elements he was taken by the coastguardsmen for a smuggler, captured and carried at once to the officer, as soon as the prisoner was unfastened, he was recognized and quickly released.

"At last he left the island and again took up his abode on the mainland. The crush of vulgar tourists, practically drove him away. They would come to his place, tramp over the grounds, and actually put their noses up to his windows. His sensitive nature, love of retirement and seclusion and dread of public gaze and the approach of strangers could not stand that."

A New Canadian Magazine Which is Justifying High Expectations Caused by Its Initial Number.

Japanese Home Life Discussed by Dr. Delano Eastlake, Who Sojourned Long in That Country.

The second number of the Canadian Magazine justifies the high expectations held out by the initial number. The articles and stories are excellent and the art creditable. In politics are several thoughtful and entertaining papers: Attorney General Longley's "Nova Scotia Coal Mines," a defence of the recent famous coal mine legislation of his government; Alex. McNeill's (M. P.) "British Trade and Imperial Reciprocity," a careful paper containing very suggestive facts and arguments; and Charles A. Stuart's "The National State," a scholarly and philosophic discussion of the probable future of Canada and of other nations. "Ontario's New Parliament Buildings," by Frank Veigh, is beautifully illustrated, and a second illustrated article is that by J. J. Bell on "A Famous Canadian Shrine"—St. Anne de Beaupre, "Bjornstjerne Bjornson," by Stuart Livingston, and "Balfour," by J. Castell Hopkins, are well-written and very interesting sketches of life and personal ideals. Henry Lyve's contribution to "Tales of Wayside Inns" is very entertaining. Two thrilling stories—"The Three Fives," by Cecil Logsdail, and "From East to West," by Gertrude Bartlett, comprise the fiction. Amongst the poems, Professor Chapman's long poem "East and West" deserves mention as perhaps one of the best narrative poems published anywhere in recent years. The Canadian Magazine covers a wide field, and its character is such that no Canadian desiring to follow the drift of thought in his own country should be without it. Published by the Ontario Publishing company, Manning Arcade, Toronto: $2.50 per annum; single copies, 25c.

A charming account of "Japanese Home Life," with many characteristic illustrations, will open the new volume of The Popular Science Monthly that begins in May. It is written by Dr. W. Delano Eastlake, who has had opportunities for observing the life of the people such as are not open to most foreigners who sojourn in this garden land.

The public has been informed of the suit for libel brought by Dr. Isaac K. Funk against the New York Evening Post, because of criticisms made by the Post of the action taken by Funk & Wagnalls in reproducing the Encyclopedia Britannica, which was protected by a foreign copyright.

The verdict in favor of the Post shows that there are cases where a man may with impunity be called a "thief" and a "pirate" even when he has not overstepped the bounds of the law.

The courtesy of the trade referred to at the trial is at least as strong in favor of protecting the authorized publisher of American literature which has run out of copyright, as it is in favor of protecting the authorized publisher of British reprints. The two cases are not dissimilar, and the result of the trial is of especial interest to authors, since it assures them that there is a strong public sentiment in their favor, even when the laws of their United States fail to give them what the justice claim.

The April Arena contains a strong paper by Hamlin Garland on "The Future of Fiction." Dr. Alfred Russell Wallace writes on "The Wage-Worker" and how he may be delivered from the Social Quagmire. W. D. McCrackan discusses "How the Initiative and Referendum may be introduced into our Government." Eva McDonaugh Valesh appears in a striking paper on "The Tenement House Problem in New York." Rev. Geo. Lorimer writes on "Authority in Christianity," and Mr. Flower discusses at length "The Burning and Lincing of Negroes in the South." Other papers of interest in this number are by R. F. Underwood, Katharine Coolidge, Chester A. Reed, Helen E. Starrett and Allan Forman.

The Illustrated American for April 15 is brimful of wit and wisdom. The feature of the issue is a critical review of "Twelfth Night; or, What You Will," as presented by Augustin Daly's company of players at Daly's theater, New York city. The article at the outset transports one to the balmy South, and its perfume laden atmosphere surrounds one to the end of the chapter. The illustrations are from photographs by Sarony, and show the leading characters alone and in groups. Nothing could be more artistic than the way in which text and illustrations are combined in this tasty article.

A novel and practical subject for a magazine article is "Decay in the Apple Barrel," upon which Professor Byron D. Halsted will contribute a fully illustrated article to the May Popular Science Monthly.

Alice S. Wolf has a very striking story in the Argonaut of April 10. It is entitled "A Man's Honor," and tells how two brothers discover among their dead father's papers evidence that they are irretrievably dishonored, and so resolve on suicide. The story follows one brother and shows how his attempt to kill himself is unsuccessful, how he persuades himself that he may live, and finally how he discovers that his brother, too, has recoiled from the fatal step.

"Outdoors" is the title of a refreshing little book which is a pleasure to read. The covers are in ten water-colors, and inside are articles on "Lawn Tennis," by F. A. Kellogg; "Yachting," by George A. Stewart, successor to Edwin Burgess;

"Cycling," by Julian Hawthorne; "Football," by Walter Camp; "Baseball," by J. C. Morse; "Horsemanship," by H. C. Merwin; "Rowing," by Benjamin Garbo; "Canoeing," by C. Bowyer Vaux; a collection of authoritative articles on healthful outdoor pleasures, illustrated by Copeland, Beals, Gallagher, Young and Shute. This book, published by the Pope Manufacturing company, of Boston, for the benefit of the Columbia bicycle, contains articles without any advertising in them. THE PLAYHOUSES

ston Ideal Comic Opera Company to Sing "Galatea" at the Temple Next Friday Evening.

Goodwin to be at the Temple Soon—Janauscheck at the Lyceum—Other Coming Attractions.

The theaters have not been particularly busy this week, but they are getting on their feet. The "Spider and Fly" drew good uses at the Temple Monday and Tuesday. The Mozart Symphony club had a fine concert. This evening Sullivan's charming opera, "Trial by Jury," will be presented by the High School musical society, assisted by several young people, at the Lyceum.

Next week the Lyceum will be dark. The Temple Jane Combs will appear Monday evening in a dramatization of Dickens' "Bleak House." On Friday evening the Boston Ideal Comic Opera company will present "Galatea." Clarence Eddy, the Chicago organist, will be at the First M. E. church on Tuesday evening.

Nat Goodwin, the noted comedian, will appear at the Temple on Monday and Tuesday, April 24 and 25, playing "A Gilded Fool" the first night, and by special request made to Manager Condon by a number of Duluth citizens "The Nominee" will be the bill for the second night.

Mme. Janauscheck, one of the most reputable and noted actresses of the day, who with Mme. Modjeska and one or two others now remain the exclusive representatives of the legitimate portraiture, is booked at the Lyceum for May 1 and 2 after an engagement of a week each at St. Paul and Minneapolis. It is probable that she will be seen in a new play here of which many fine critics have already appeared. Mme. Janauscheck is accompanied by one of the best actors of the day in the person of Edmund Collier.

Local Theatrical Notes.

W. H. Crane, the comedian, and Annie Pixley, are among the May bookings at the Temple.

Bobby Gaylord, the favorite Irish comedian, will be the last attraction at the Temple during the month of April.

Undoubtedly the greatest entertainment ever given in Duluth will be the appearance of Sousa's band at the Lyceum next month, as well from a musical as an operatic standpoint, for six great operatic vocalists accompany the organization.

The Lyceum management announces a notable engagement for June in the appearance of Miss Marie Wainwright, who will present a varied and brilliant repertoire for four performances, consisting of that most famous of all comedies, "The School for Scandal." Shakespeare's exquisite romance, "As You Like It," the new and successful comedy-drama, "The Social Swain," and Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night."

A VERY CLEVER TRAVESTY.

"The Poet and the Puppets" is pronounced a Bright Skit.

New York, April 12.—Charles Frohman is the owner of the American rights of Oscar Wilde's English society play, "Lady Windermere's Fan," which has ended a long run at Palmer's theater, and just around the corner at the Garden theater he has had a travesty of that very play, entitled "The Poet and the Puppets," running to big houses.

A GREAT ORGANIST.

Clarence Eddy will give a Recital on Tuesday Evening.

On Tuesday evening the beautiful new organ in the First M. E. church will feel a touch of a master hand, for Clarence Eddy is one of the greatest of organists. About three years ago he made a tour of Europe and everywhere was given the highest praise. The Leipzig Tageblatt said of him:

"A rare treat was afforded yesterday when the performance at the Motette, (in 'Thomas' church) to an invited audience, by Clarence Eddy, of Chicago, America's greatest organist. This truly great artist, after a short examination of the organ, played several compositions of Dubois, Thiele, Saint-Saens, as well as a grand sonata for organ by Dreyer, a pupil of Richter. Mr. Eddy is a technical virtuoso who controls his instrument with astonishing ease. His technical technique can hardly be equaled in the utmost repose and without the least bodily movement. Mr. Eddy plays with passages with such a degree of smoothness and legato effect as is rarely seen. But the most remarkable feature was that Mr. Eddy had in a few minutes so thoroughly identified himself with the master organ as to have it, entirely at the command of his inspiration as he was enabled to conjure up seemingly impossible effects. The beautiful playing of the organ were brilliantly displayed and by Mr. Eddy's skillful manipulation of the various parts in the most complicated voice-leading, stood out with perfect clarity. The artist's skill in weaving the stops while playing without interrupting the performance was to us a revelation. Comparisons were frequently made between German and foreign players, but Mr. Eddy is convinced us that the latter are only of the highest respect."

Mr. Eddy will be assisted by the Arion quartet, Miss Louisa Brown, soprano; Miss Lucy Cullyford, alto; and George E. Nowles, basso.

A NIGHT OF OPERA.

ston Ideal Comic Opera Company to Sing "Galatea" at the Temple.

The Boston Ideal Comic Opera company will present "Galatea" at the Temple on next Friday evening. The Circle, O., Herald says:

"The opera 'Galatea' was presented to large and appreciative audience in the new house last evening, and proved to be one of the finest entertainments ever given in this city. The company, presented by the Boston Ideal Comic Opera company, Competent judges aver that each and every part was admirably sung, and that each voice was good, that they all blended harmoniously, and that there was an evenness and smoothness in the rendition that is seldom heard. Comment regarding the performance is complimentary. The part of Galatea was admirably sustained by Inez Cusker, and her singing of the 'Last Rose of Summer' was as fine as anything ever heard in this city. The tenor, Mr. Odine, was more than meritorious. The comedian was irresistibly funny and the entire entertainment was of the highest quality should the Boston Ideals give a return date they would be given a packed house.

COMEDIAN NAT GOODWIN.

He Will Appear at the Temple Soon in His New Play, "A Gilded Fool."

The appearance of Comedian Nat C. Goodwin in a new play is always an event of theatrical importance. In "A Gilded Fool," which is the main feature of his repertoire this season, he is said to have made the hit of his great professional career. It is quite unlike any play in which he has heretofore appeared, and is a comedy, pure and simple, with a story, the interest of which is well sustained to the end, and a fund of humor that is irresistible in its effect on an audience, as interpreted by Mr. Goodwin and his admirable company.

"A Gilded Fool" is described as full of bright dialogue and brilliant lines, as a model of dramatic construction, and as replete with situations which are full of possibilities for an actor of Mr. Goodwin's caliber. As Chauncey Short he plays the part of a wealthy young man who turns out, in the language of the old proverb, not to be "such a fool as he looks." The comedy is funny for most of the performance, as comedians are naturally expected to be, but he has enough serious work to do to show that he possesses the rare ability to cope with pathos as successfully as with humor.

Nat Goodwin appears at the Temple on Monday and Tuesday, April 24 and 25, playing "A Gilded Fool" the first night, and by special request made to Manager Condon by a number of Duluth citizens "The Nominee" will be the bill for the second night.

ALEXANDER SALVINI AS DON CESAR.

A happy success in "The Poet and the Puppets" was Oscar Wilde's last, which followed him wherever he went. If he happened to get out of range on one side, "salp" went the cello on the other side of the stage, and the halo was once more in evidence.

Nat Goodwin, original as she always is, introduced a three-legged dance which set the auditors wild every night and has literally captured the town. Miss Robson can't dance a little bit (she admits that in her song), but she makes a hit nevertheless. She does the split, puts one foot—the false one—over her shoulder and twists that extra limb around in a manner that would put the much vaunted French quadrille dancers of the "Black Crook" to the blush—if they ever blush. The superfluous neither appendage is strapped to her waist—I presume—and is perfectly flat as far as the knee. From there down it looks just like the genuine article.

Naturally she can do wonderful things with such a flexible and uncomplaining member, and she does them. "Imitation" is the sinners' sin, and already Miss Robson's dance has been copied by a woman who goes through a series of four-legged saltatorial evolutions. Miss Robson's was funny because it appeared natural. The imitation is a performance in the extreme. "The Guardsman" is a humorous play in three acts by those well known collaborators, George H. Sims and Cecil Raleigh, seems to have scored a hit at the Lyceum theater. Georgia Cayvan is not in the cast, and her place is very acceptably filled by Mamie Harrison, whose excellent work in the part of Daphne Lovell has raised her greatly in the estimation of New York theatergoers.

"The Guardsman" is not considered by most persons as up to the usual standard of Lyceum plays, being too farcical and containing too many side doors into which people are conveniently pushed when it becomes inconvenient to have them about. Still every one agrees that it is very funny, as most of Sims and Raleigh's plays are, and it will be that reason probably be a go. The plot, what there is of it, is devoted first to getting the actors involved in all sorts of complications and afterward to extricating them.

By the way, it is rumored that Manager Daniel Frohman of the Lyceum will organize a company of comedians which will divide time with the regular company at his theater. This will throw Southern out, and I understand that it is Mr. Frohman's intention to have the young comedian play his annual New York engagement at a larger theater than the Lyceum, which is usually tested to its capacity while he is there.

Alexander Salvini appears to have "caught on" at the Manhattan Opera House, where he is presenting "Don Cesar de Bazan" in an elaborate manner. This actor has been seen in the title role of this play in nearly every city of importance in the United States, and a criticism here would therefore be superfluous. Miss Madeline Craigie, his leading lady, who was last seen here during Thomas W. Keene's recent engagement at the Union Square, has not been continually received in "Don Cesar de Bazan." She is by no means an improvement on Salvini's former leading lady, Judith Barde, who was married at Buffalo not long ago and has, I believe, temporarily left the stage.

Miss Barde, besides being a handsome woman of commanding presence, possesses magnetism and a picturesque method, in which Miss Craigie is entirely lacking. Besides, Miss Barde is really a better actress. Miss Craigie is to be a joint star with Frederick Houlding next season, and the dramatic critics are busy guessing whether the combination will prove a successful one.

Miss Nikita, the celebrated soprano, who has gone to Chicago, where she will sing at a number of concerts during the World's fair, has had so much that is false printed about her early life and career that the truth will perhaps be of interest. In the first place, she was never captured by Indians. That story she denounces as absurd. She was born in Kentucky less than 20 years ago and left for Europe when she was 12.

This travesty was first performed last summer by Charles Hawtree, a comedian of ability, while Oscar Wilde's play was the vogue in the English capital. It is a bright skit, but I really cannot discover anything that would indicate what might be called staying qualities.

At the rise of the curtain Oscar Wilde is seen seated at a table. He thinks aloud and finally decides to write a play. Believing that it would be decidedly out to go anything so commonplace as to be original he summons to his aid a fairy. This fairy, impersonated by plump May Irwin, attired in a light blue robe of problematical texture, gradually rises through a trapdoor, majestically waving her wand the while.

When about half way up, the machinery sticks, and Miss Irwin suggests to Oscar Wilde that it is rather an embarrassing predicament for a fairy. Oscar nods assent, goes over and tries to lift her to the stage, but her acrobatic and the attraction of gravitation are too much for her aesthetic sense of strength so he quietly turns around and calls two stage hands, who speedily land her on the stage.

After some conversation with Oscar as to the ways and means to be employed in the construction of a modern society play the fairy summons to their aid the shades of Shakespeare, Henrik Ibsen, Richard Brinsley Sheridan, Augustus Daly and Bronson Howard, who promise to render all the assistance in their power. From that time "The Poet and the Puppets" descends into a genuine variety show, more farcical than the most plotless farce comedy. But it is very amusing nevertheless, although I seriously question whether it will be more than half appreciated by a person who had not seen "Lady Windermere's Fan."

May Irwin, being a graduate from the variety stage, naturally carried off the honors of the performance and sang several very catchy songs, including a pathetic trifle. Daddy wouldn't buy me the Bowery. He wouldn't buy me the Bowery. But for that I didn't care. I'd rather have the Bow-er-ee.

Too Far Back.

A short time ago an old negro was passing through the Second market when his attention was drawn toward several piles of sea trout as they lay on the nice marble table of a fishmonger. Walking up to the counter the ducky placed his nose within an inch of the "speckled beauties," as though testing their soundness through the medium of his olfactory nerves.

The keeper of the stand eyed him with considerable interest and contempt for his impertinence for half a minute, and in a tone of anger said:

"What in the d—! are you a-smellin' o' them fish for, you black ape?"

"I ain' smellin' o' de fees-sh, boss; I was jes' er ashin um a question."

"What did you ask 'em, sir?"

Still every one agrees that it is very funny, as most of Sims and Raleigh's plays are, and it will be that reason probably be a go. The plot, what there is of it, is devoted first to getting the actors involved in all sorts of complications and afterward to extricating them.

By the way, it is rumored that Manager Daniel Frohman of the Lyceum will organize a company of comedians which will divide time with the regular company at his theater. This will throw Southern out, and I understand that it is Mr. Frohman's intention to have the young comedian play his annual New York engagement at a larger theater than the Lyceum, which is usually tested to its capacity while he is there.

Alexander Salvini appears to have "caught on" at the Manhattan Opera House, where he is presenting "Don Cesar de Bazan" in an elaborate manner. This actor has been seen in the title role of this play in nearly every city of importance in the United States, and a criticism here would therefore be superfluous. Miss Madeline Craigie, his leading lady, who was last seen here during Thomas W. Keene's recent engagement at the Union Square, has not been continually received in "Don Cesar de Bazan." She is by no means an improvement on Salvini's former leading lady, Judith Barde, who was married at Buffalo not long ago and has, I believe, temporarily left the stage.

Miss Barde, besides being a handsome woman of commanding presence, possesses magnetism and a picturesque method, in which Miss Craigie is entirely lacking. Besides, Miss Barde is really a better actress. Miss Craigie is to be a joint star with Frederick Houlding next season, and the dramatic critics are busy guessing whether the combination will prove a successful one.

Miss Nikita, the celebrated soprano, who has gone to Chicago, where she will sing at a number of concerts during the World's fair, has had so much that is false printed about her early life and career that the truth will perhaps be of interest. In the first place, she was never captured by Indians. That story she denounces as absurd. She was born in Kentucky less than 20 years ago and left for Europe when she was 12.

This travesty was first performed last summer by Charles Hawtree, a comedian of ability, while Oscar Wilde's play was the vogue in the English capital. It is a bright skit, but I really cannot discover anything that would indicate what might be called staying qualities.

At the rise of the curtain Oscar Wilde is seen seated at a table. He thinks aloud and finally decides to write a play. Believing that it would be decidedly out to go anything so commonplace as to be original he summons to his aid a fairy. This fairy, impersonated by plump May Irwin, attired in a light blue robe of problematical texture, gradually rises through a trapdoor, majestically waving her wand the while.

When about half way up, the machinery sticks, and Miss Irwin suggests to Oscar Wilde that it is rather an embarrassing predicament for a fairy. Oscar nods assent, goes over and tries to lift her to the stage, but her acrobatic and the attraction of gravitation are too much for her aesthetic sense of strength so he quietly turns around and calls two stage hands, who speedily land her on the stage.

After some conversation with Oscar as to the ways and means to be employed in the construction of a modern society play the fairy summons to their aid the shades of Shakespeare, Henrik Ibsen, Richard Brinsley Sheridan, Augustus Daly and Bronson Howard, who promise to render all the assistance in their power. From that time "The Poet and the Puppets" descends into a genuine variety show, more farcical than the most plotless farce comedy. But it is very amusing nevertheless, although I seriously question whether it will be more than half appreciated by a person who had not seen "Lady Windermere's Fan."

May Irwin, being a graduate from the variety stage, naturally carried off the honors of the performance and sang several very catchy songs, including a pathetic trifle. Daddy wouldn't buy me the Bowery. He wouldn't buy me the Bowery. But for that I didn't care. I'd rather have the Bow-er-ee.

Too Far Back.

A short time ago an old negro was passing through the Second market when his attention was drawn toward several piles of sea trout as they lay on the nice marble table of a fishmonger. Walking up to the counter the ducky placed his nose within an inch of the "speckled beauties," as though testing their soundness through the medium of his olfactory nerves.

The keeper of the stand eyed him with considerable interest and contempt for his impertinence for half a minute, and in a tone of anger said:

"What in the d—! are you a-smellin' o' them fish for, you black ape?"

"I ain' smellin' o' de fees-sh, boss; I was jes' er ashin um a question."

"What did you ask 'em, sir?"

"I jes' ax um wha'd de news fum de sea."

"What did they say?"

"De say dey doan' know, sah; dey ain't bin dar for more'n a mont', sah!"—Richmond Dispatch.

ALEXANDER SALVINI AS DON CESAR.

A happy success in "The Poet and the Puppets" was Oscar Wilde's last, which followed him wherever he went. If he happened to get out of range on one side, "salp" went the cello on the other side of the stage, and the halo was once more in evidence.

Nat Goodwin, original as she always is, introduced a three-legged dance which set the auditors wild every night and has literally captured the town. Miss Robson can't dance a little bit (she admits that in her song), but she makes a hit nevertheless. She does the split, puts one foot—the false one—over her shoulder and twists that extra limb around in a manner that would put the much vaunted French quadrille dancers of the "Black Crook" to the blush—if they ever blush. The superfluous neither appendage is strapped to her waist—I presume—and is perfectly flat as far as the knee. From there down it looks just like the genuine article.

Naturally she can do wonderful things with such a flexible and uncomplaining member, and she does them. "Imitation" is the sinners' sin, and already Miss Robson's dance has been copied by a woman who goes through a series of four-legged saltatorial evolutions. Miss Robson's was funny because it appeared natural. The imitation is a performance in the extreme. "The Guardsman" is a humorous play in three acts by those well known collaborators, George H. Sims and Cecil Raleigh, seems to have scored a hit at the Lyceum theater. Georgia Cayvan is not in the cast, and her place is very acceptably filled by Mamie Harrison, whose excellent work in the part of Daphne Lovell has raised her greatly in the estimation of New York theatergoers.

"The Guardsman" is not considered by most persons as up to the usual standard of Lyceum plays, being too farcical and containing too many side doors into which people are conveniently pushed when it becomes inconvenient to have them about. Still every one agrees that it is very funny, as most of Sims and Raleigh's plays are, and it will be that reason probably be a go. The plot, what there is of it, is devoted first to getting the actors involved in all sorts of complications and afterward to extricating them.

IN THE SOCIAL WORLD

Annual Ball of the Duluth Boat Club the Principal Coming Event Which is Exciting Interest.

Wedding of S. G. Wightman and Miss Wilhelmina Manz on Wednesday Evening Last at Verndale.

Various Matters of Social Interest Which Have Taken Place This Week—Visiting and Visitors.

The social world of Duluth is now principally interested in the approaching Boat club ball which comes off at the Spalding hotel some time during the first week in May. The social entertainments of the boat club are among the most pleasant of the city. Duluth's people and the approaching one will be, at least, up to the standard of its predecessors. A large number of friends of the Duluth armament, both male and female, are expected to attend from the Twin Cities and Superior, and that a pleasant time will be enjoyed by all is a certainty. In other matters the social swim has not been very rapid during the week, although there have been a number of musical receptions and concerts of a semi-social nature which are elsewhere mentioned.

Wightman-Manz Wedding.
The following account of the Wightman-Manz nuptials is from the Verndale Journal:

"Last evening a few invited friends gathered at the pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. James McNair, to listen to the simple and impressive marriage service pronounced by Dr. Forbes, and to share in other joys attending the wedding of S. G. Wightman and Miss Wilhelmina Manz. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. McNair, sister of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march, with admirable delicacy and fitness of touch. The bride and groom as they entered the room, were preceded by Miss Nora McNair, bearing a beautiful bouquet of white roses, which she presented to the bride. Suspended from the ceiling, above the bride, a pair of white doves, with a shower of flowers in their beaks, were released. At the close of the service, congratulations were freely bestowed, and the guests were then led to the dining hall, where a sumptuous feast was spread. After two hours, agreeably passed in social intercourse, the happy couple took their departure on a brief wedding tour to St. Paul, amid a shower of good wishes and many pleasing benisons of happiness and long life. Mr. and Mrs. Wightman will reside in Duluth."

Social Mention.

SKETCHES OF NOMINEES.
The Men Named For Positions by the President Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Richard H. Alvey, of Maryland, who was nominated yesterday to be chief justice of the newly created court of appeals of the district of Columbia, is regarded as one of the ablest jurists in Maryland. At present he is judge of the first district in Maryland. He is 67 years of age.

Martin F. Morris, associate justice of the court of appeals, is a resident of the district of Columbia and he made an enviable reputation as a lawyer. He is about 60 years of age.

The nomination of Seth Shepard, to be one of the associate justices, is calculated to cause a commotion in Texas, where Mr. Shepard occupied politically a position approximating that of the anti-snappers in New York. Mr. Shepard's character as a man and a lawyer is unimpeachable.

L. Q. C. Lamar, of Mississippi, who was made recorder of the general land office, is the eldest son of late Justice Lamar. He was private secretary to his father when the latter was secretary of the interior in President Cleveland's first administration.

Robert K. Gillespie, nominated to be principal clerk of public lands, in the general land office, was nominated at the request of Mr. McMullin, of Tennessee. Mr. Gillespie is a lawyer of Galatin, Tenn., and is about 35 years old.

FOUND DEAD IN BED.
A Man and a Woman Poisoned in a Louisville Hotel.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 15.—Thursday night a man and woman of about middle age registered at Fishback's hotel at H. B. Hibbit and wife, Chicago. As they did not show up yesterday morning an investigation of their room was made and they were found lying dead in bed.

At first it looked like a case of double suicide, but it turned out that the woman gave the man drugged whiskey and then shared the deadly potion.

The woman left a note addressed to "Mr. X. McKee," signed Lizzy. She was identified as Annie Wilson, a courtesan. No one seems to know the name of the man, but from the papers found in his possession he is thought to be W. L. Gillis, of Chicago.

George P. Tvedt has removed to room 106, Palladio building.

AN UNUSUAL SPRING

Bill Nye Describes the Kind They Have in California and it is the Rankest Kind.

He Visits Another Ostrich Farm and Tells of the Habits of This Wonderful Bird.

The Only Way Possible to Catch an Ostrich is to Appeal to His Appetite.

IN CALIFORNIA.

Florida is the home of the unusual winter, but California is the place where the unusual spring grows the rankest. The sun burs forth with a glad, wide smile a month ago as we entered San Francisco, and people told us we could now give our umbrellas away. I picked out a deserving poor man who had no other clothing and said to him, "Here, my man, take this and dress up." As I handed him a costly umbrella marked down from 75 cents, "Here," said I to the man with the style of clothing used by the California candidates for the Venus of Milo, "take this umbrella and sort of primp up a little."

Then the heavens opened at San Diego, and another of those unusual springs that have sprung from the life of California, and the house he used with polished shoes and a high hat.

When you come here, get a white hat of the rancho variety. They are made in Philadelphia, but grow to maturity in this climate. It has an embossed leather band suited to the owner's condition of life. It may cost from $5 to $10, and the hat is $10 besides. It is light gray, semi-stiff, with a flat brim, and becomes more valuable as it becomes disreputable and filled with dust and perspiration.

With one of these hats and a pair of goat or dogskin "chaps" on the legs and an 8-pound spur on each foot, also a pair of riding pants made with a county seat to them, one is dressed for tea or an exhilarating ride in a street car.

Should you ride horseback, as some do, in these clothes, and the horse is moping at the time, your horse clothes will add to the flavor of the meal, especially if you use corduroy for your suit, as it smells more like a day in Constantinople than anything you can get this side of the ocean.

Long since I have ceased to reproach the weather. The weather is what it was made to be. It means well, but very little religious advancement can be made this spring in southern California. Pastors here tell me that they can see a noted falling off in Santa Barbara in the attendance at the Look Up legion here and in the Lead a Hand society also since the weather fetched loose.

There is a fame for Disinfectant Spiritual Mediums also at Santa Barbara, and this spring there has been a retrogression there bordering on iconoclasm.

At the Do Good society's parlors members now hold their mullerian in their hands even through service instead of leaving them in the hall or in the pastor's study where they can drain into his last year's sermons. Thus they are ruined, for a sermon should be kept perfectly dry.

I have been given by Lieutenant Chase of the army a bag of seeds from the sequoia trees of the state. He says they will grow easily in North Carolina. I will plant them there, and friends are invited to come there when they mature, in 6,000 years from this spring, and we will have a basket picnic, after which I will speak.

The sequoia is like a number of men I have met here—chiefly remarkable for having been here first. I subscribed last week $5 for the relief of a man who was frankly admitted that, aside from that, there was nothing whatever the matter with him.

I visited another ostrich farm the other day. I can hardly keep away from this strange bird. Ostrich eggs are worth $150.75 per dozen. They are good to eat, and six of them will furnish a meal.

The ostrich cannot be got by means of the horse. He never runs. He just walks; but, oh, how they do emerge from where they were and arrive elsewhere!

They also do not run away in a bunch, but scatter or fly in every direction, so that the wisest rider is bewildered. The bird seems to raise the head, shrug its shoulders, and with scarcely a feeling of interest in the chase it just simply sways time for distance like a telephone.

The only way to catch an ostrich is to appeal to its appetite, which is its only intellect, for its brain and body are as unequal as those of a piglet. You take a sack of corn in a bag and start out after a bird that seems to lag a little, and if you know how and also have a little salt to put on the tail of the bird you are as liable to secure him inside of six weeks as you would be on horseback.

The first importer of ostriches to America told me that he got them off the boat at San Diego and put them in the corral, but in his blindness of being again on land and on a grassy plain he took down a quarter of a mile of stone wall and escaped. So did the others. They saw no reason why they should remain, and so they went also, disliking as they did the houses. The saying is, "A man who did not know until recently whether it was a citrus or deciduous fruit. I have therefore been taken advantage of by dealers, I now see, and have in fact been trying to graft the Rhode Island Greening on the back pine."

The ostrich can eat objects larger than the neck, which seems impossible. Big beetles or mangos are used for food as well as grain. These mangos grow to the size of a person's thigh (I decline to give the person's name). And with a hatchet—an ostrich hatchet—the owner chops off the big end of the beet and tosses it to the bird, who swallows it entirely whole. You see it as it goes down the neck, sometimes before and then again on the side or back of the neck, like a traveling tumor, till it strikes the gizzard of this beautiful conger.

One of the female birds laid a set of croquet balls for the editor of the paper here and then began on a big Easter job the following week. With a bottle of diamond dye and a quart of cracked wheat she would surprise even people who have lived in New York and who know almost everything.

The birds are good to eat, and the second joint will relieve the pangs of hunger for hours. The ostrich has a wishbone that is often used to plow corn with or cultivate the soil of the orange orchard. The kick of an ostrich will split an oak stump or knock off $8 on a hotel bill here.

One of them seemed quite fond of me, and into a large stuffed horned head out of my pocket. I got so I could hold him by one wing and feel of his plumage—the ostriches plume, I mean. They have a sort of graceful yet awkward walk, which some critics have charged with being coming from the stage. It is called the Sontar tread.

Here at Santa Barbara a strange incident occurred not long ago. General Burnett, the coast special agent for the pension bureau, told me about it. A man pensioner and his baggage man worth $60,000 was discovered to be drawing pension for the loss of an arm, while his widow in the east was drawing a pension also. It seems that the wife's father had been the victim. The man had given the wife's name for the pension of the husband's death and then assured the husband in like manner of the wife's death, so that after the war he had come to California alone, leaving his children in charge of the villainous grandfather, who had taken the method of educating the children in the Catholic church, the father being a Protestant. The father soon after married here and for 13 years has lived with his second wife totally ignorant of the other wife's existence. He could not get on in getting a possession of his children by his first marriage, but was blessed with a second crop of California children, which answered every purpose.

Imagine such a man in the beautiful city of Santa Barbara, surrounded by comfort and a new home which best the old one all to death, suddenly confronted by a general pension sleuth bound with undoubted proofs of bigamy, bastardy and fraud upon the government!

Where are our melodrama artists? Do they read the papers, or do they prefer European material adapted to this country?

Imagine a veteran of a great war, crippled by the loss of an arm, who yet had the courage to fight the battle of life all over again in loneliness and in a new world, past middle life now and with the tears on his war worn features, confronted with the charge that he has been for 13 years a felon, yet innocent as I am of a wicked or impure thought!

We had a little earthquake shock the other evening. They occur now and again often enough, so that wooden buildings are the rule and stone or brick the exception. Redwood is a good resister of these shocks and is used exclusively for the body of the building. It is very firm and seems made for that purpose. It is also almost fireproof; at least it smolders long enough before blazing so that any fire company can manage over to put a hot at its leisure, I am told.

Earthquake jars are quite common in southern California and are often used in putting down apricots and other fruit.

The prime grows well in this part of the state and is superior to the junco and clover and prairie of the east. The prime is like the codfish and the fresh young man—the farther it gets from home the more offensive it becomes.

THE TOY COWBOY.

We have here the toy cowboy, who is a tyrohead ass on his father's side. Some of them are from Harlem and some from Avenue A. They buy horsehair bristles and ride one of those saddles made from a Mexican tannery. From Market street they are shipped for just such cowboys. Their courage comes from Kentucky and bit like a serpent and sting like an adder.

"Do I look drunk?" asked one of them the other evening of a friend of mine. "No, I think not," said the man kindly. "All right," said the cow gentle man, unhooking his arms and leaving him where they had caught in a lady's trail. "I just wanted to know if I looked drunk."

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell, by their feelings, when to expect an attack. It Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, they can ward off the disease. World's Fair Visitors.
An intending visitor to the coming World's fair at Chicago need have no fear as to the possibility of securing satisfactory accommodations, at reasonable rates, at either the many hotels or residences listed in a neat pamphlet entitled, "Homes for Visitors at the World's Fair," compiled at great expense and published by a trustworthy Chicago firm. This book contains a list of about 6000 private families who will accommodate visitors in Chicago during the time of the fair, viz: May 1st to October 30th; gives their names and addresses, and number of rooms each will have to spare. The book also gives a list of the hotels and their locations; has twelve full-page, large-scale maps, each representing a section of the city, with this information before him the intending visitor himself can, at leisure, select the quarter of the city in which he would prefer to stop, corresponding in advance with one or more families in that locality with regard to rates and the accommodations desired.

The Wisconsin Central line will in due time publish low excursion rates to Chicago and return for this occasion, while its double daily passenger train service, including through sleeping and dining cars to Chicago, will be usual be at the head of the list in every particular.

To help you in fixing in advance upon your place of residence while attending the World's fair, we have placed in the hands of our agent at your station copies of this work, which may be obtained at 50 cents per copy.

And with a hatchet—an ostrich hatchet—the owner chops off the big end of the beet and tosses it to the bird, who swallows it entirely whole. You see it as it goes down the neck, sometimes before and then again on the side or back of the neck, like a traveling tumor, till it strikes the gizzard of this beautiful conger.

One of the female birds laid a set of croquet balls for the editor of the paper here and then began on a big Easter job the following week. With a bottle of diamond dye and a quart of cracked wheat she would surprise even people who have lived in New York and who know almost everything.

The birds are good to eat, and the second joint will relieve the pangs of hunger for hours. The ostrich has a wishbone that is often used to plow corn with or cultivate the soil of the orange orchard. The kick of an ostrich will split an oak stump or knock off $8 on a hotel bill here.

One of them seemed quite fond of me, and into a large stuffed horned head out of my pocket. I got so I could hold him by one wing and feel of his plumage—the ostriches plume, I mean. They have a sort of graceful yet awkward walk, which some critics have charged with being coming from the stage. It is called the Sontar tread.

Here at Santa Barbara a strange incident occurred not long ago. General Burnett, the coast special agent for the pension bureau, told me about it. A man pensioner and his baggage man worth $60,000 was discovered to be drawing pension for the loss of an arm, while his widow in the east was drawing a pension also. It seems that the wife's father had been the victim. The man had given the wife's name for the pension of the husband's death and then assured the husband in like manner of the wife's death, so that after the war he had come to California alone, leaving his children in charge of the villainous grandfather, who had taken the method of educating the children in the Catholic church, the father being a Protestant. The father soon after married here and for 13 years has lived with his second wife totally ignorant of the other wife's existence. He could not get on in getting a possession of his children by his first marriage, but was blessed with a second crop of California children, which answered every purpose.

Imagine such a man in the beautiful city of Santa Barbara, surrounded by comfort and a new home which best the old one all to death, suddenly confronted by a general pension sleuth bound with undoubted proofs of bigamy, bastardy and fraud upon the government!

Where are our melodrama artists? Do they read the papers, or do they prefer European material adapted to this country?

Imagine a veteran of a great war, crippled by the loss of an arm, who yet had the courage to fight the battle of life all over again in loneliness and in a new world, past middle life now and with the tears on his war worn features, confronted with the charge that he has been for 13 years a felon, yet innocent as I am of a wicked or impure thought!

We had a little earthquake shock the other evening. They occur now and again often enough, so that wooden buildings are the rule and stone or brick the exception. Redwood is a good resister of these shocks and is used exclusively for the body of the building. It is very firm and seems made for that purpose. It is also almost fireproof; at least it smolders long enough before blazing so that any fire company can manage over to put a hot at its leisure, I am told.

Earthquake jars are quite common in southern California and are often used in putting down apricots and other fruit.

The prime grows well in this part of the state and is superior to the junco and clover and prairie of the east. The prime is like the codfish and the fresh young man—the farther it gets from home the more offensive it becomes.

THE TOY COWBOY.

We have here the toy cowboy, who is a tyrohead ass on his father's side. Some of them are from Harlem and some from Avenue A. They buy horsehair bristles and ride one of those saddles made from a Mexican tannery. From Market street they are shipped for just such cowboys. Their courage comes from Kentucky and bit like a serpent and sting like an adder.</

THREE CENTS

Duluth Clothing House Exclusively Owned and Controlled by Deluth Mon.
ESTABLISHED 1881.

Store Closed Every Evening Except Mondays and Saturdays.

The Suits were not made especially for show—nevertheless our window display is an index to the inside. You'll find duplicates in many cases in hundred lots. There's a peculiar feature about our display. We always attach the price. We do this having no fear of being undersold. We make the market price.

The clothing of 10,000 boys means that we're not only right in kind. We must be right in price. Its astonishing to see the beauty in little boys' suits—$3.00 to $5.00. Bright, nobby, stylish, double breasted Reefer Boys' Suits, braided and corded, as well as the $2.50. We know it to be very low price for a good suit. Not a half dozen or more tables filled—$5, $6.50, $7 and $8.

Beauty does not consist entirely in pretty cloth—oh, no; the fit, the tailor's art and twist is a part of it. It's astonishing the quantity of good cloth ruined because the fit and trimming are not what they should be. The season is just opening and it's the same old story—larger business than a corresponding time last year. The old store grows and grows every year.

Another thing worthy of your notice: Every season shows a higher mark in finer, still finer goods. Our Men's Clothing, as an entire stock, is the finest we've had. Do you know about our Hats, Shoes and Men's Furnishings?

Look the city over—every store. If there are any goods of as good quality you'd rather have than ours, for the price paid, bring back those you have bought from us and have your money refunded. Our clothing bears the closest inspection—the cloth, as well as making and trimming.

You know our rule governing sale of shoes. Wear 'em a month. If they are not good bring 'em back. Fair, isn't it? If we know it there'll be no poor Shoes sold in the old store.

Remember, we make Suits to measure if you desire. We've good stock of goods and selling freely. Popular prices.

STOLE THE BILL

Donnelly's Bill for a Permanent Pine Land Committee of Investigation Was Passed Again Today.

First Bill Was Pocketed by Howard of Hennepin County and Never Reached the House.

Donnelly Publicly Charged Howard in the Senate Today With Making Away With the Bill.

Markham Makes a Statement but Reserves His Testimony Owing to the Indictment Being Found.

ST. PAUL, April 17.—[Special to The Herald].—The resolution put into the senate Saturday by Mr. Tawney, asking the legislature to pay each attorney of the charter commission $10 per day while at work framing the general city charter bill was called up this morning. The resolution was passed. It aggregates $200.

Senator Stevens introduced senate file 574, a bill to authorize cities to sell property used for market purposes. The bill applies to St. Paul and passed under suspension of the rules.

Mr. Grafe introduced a law relating to recording deeds and it was passed under suspension of the rules.

Senator Donnelly's bill to provide for a permanent committee of the senate to investigate pine land frauds passed the senate again today. The former bill had been pocketed by Mr. Howard of Hennepin county, in the house and not presented to the house. Mr. Donnelly publicly charged Mr. Howard on the floor of the senate with making away with the bill.

The bill which allows county commissioners to separate villages from townships, introduced by the senate under suspension of the rules. The state board of health bill introduced by Tawney and vetoed by the governor several days ago, was amended and passed the senate again today.

It was expected that when the house opened its session this morning there would be a lively discussion and a possible reprimand of Representative Bleeker for his refusal to vote on the Dunn minority timber steal report on Saturday night.

Bleeker, however, made an explanation of the matter as soon as the session opened, and it being in the nature of an apology, it was accepted as such, and Saturday night's heated discussion was by vote expunged from the record.

The Duluth elevator bill, in the opinion of its enemies, will never see daylight in the house.

Mr. Dunn got a joint resolution through the house this morning calling upon the governor to begin legal proceedings to recover the money lost to the state by the irregular and improper selling of pine on certain sections in Mille Lacs county belonging to the schools, which were lately considered by the investigating committee.

Mr. Davis' bill which provides for the appointment of five trustees to manage the insane hospitals of the state came up in the house this morning. The bill passed under suspension of the rules.

It is said that Representative Markham has been indicted by the Hennepin grand jury for attempted bribery, but will not be arraigned until the legislature has adjourned, so that there may be no interference from that body. When the subject was mentioned to Mr. Markham he said: "It is a safe bet that no man in the state is safe."

At the meeting of the legislative committee that is investigating this matter, Mr. Markham was put on the stand and he testified at great length. He has been advised not to make statements at this time, regarding the evidence given by certain of the witnesses. What I shall say shall be confined chiefly to Mr. Backus' testimony. First let me say that Mr. Backus' evidence is understood me or makes a misstatement of facts. When I stated that Mr. Brown had given $2000 to the committee, I meant the state central committee and I since have learned that the sum was larger than this.

Mr. Markham then continued: "I met Mr. Backus in the cloak room at the house one day and we were talking about the C. A. Smith resolution, and this led to the log and lumber bill. Mr. Backus said that in view of the fact that the Minneapolis lumbermen had dictated my appointment on the logs and lumber committee, I should favor the Wyman bill. I differed from him and said that I intended to vote as the majority of my constituents dictated. If they wanted the Wyman bill I would support it, but I must hear from them before making any promises. I said the same thing at the meeting of lumbermen in Minneapolis.

"I shall not disguise that I am friendly to H. F. Brown, and am under certain obligations to him. He spent two weeks before election in my district and did what he could to secure my election. He also contributed liberally to the state campaign committee. But that made no difference with me when I came to make up my mind how to vote on the Wyman bill, for in that vote I endeavored to follow out the wishes of my people.

"With regard to Mr. Willard's testimony I desire to say that neither he nor any other person is authorized to speak for me. I never named any members of the logs and lumber committee to him or Mr. Backus as being opposed to the bill. I did say that I thought three of the committee were against the bill, but did not name them. I told Willard that I thought the Minneapolis lumbermen were using us badly. They own thousands of acres of land in my district and cut 90 per cent of their logs there, and in view of these facts I thought they should have helped us pass the railroad taxation bill in the senate. If they had done this it would have made us feel more inclined to reciprocate. It would cost us $1200 or more to get a favorable report from the senate judiciary committee, and even after all this expense, for lawyers, witnesses, etc., it was a question whether the report would be favorable. All these things I told Mr. Willard and I do not take them back at this time.

There are other things I would desire to say, but owing to another investigation in Minneapolis, I have been advised to remain silent. I desire to deny in a general way that I ever received or asked for money in return for my vote or influence for or against any measure pending before the legislature.

This closed Mr. Markham's testimony. He declined to introduce his own witnesses, some half a dozen of whom were present, on account of the grand jury investigation in Minneapolis. It looks now as if Judge Wilson and T. Cole will be in favor of completely exonerating Markham, a position which Messrs. Wacker and Kerner may desire to qualify somewhat. Mr. Underleak's position is not known.

The house on Saturday night discussed the two reports upon the sale of state pine lands in Mille Lacs county to C. A. Smith & Co., of Minneapolis. The minority report was lost on the final vote by 29 to 59, and the majority report advocated by Gorman, which whitewashes Bierman's sale of the land was adopted. The senate and house agreed Saturday night upon the omnibus appropriation bill and passed it after appointing two committees of conference. The appropriation of money for forestry, for the purchase of land from the Northern Pacific road, and section 11, which provides for the appropriation to counties where situated the greater part of what was destroyed by the fire, was also passed.

Brown's bill, compelling railway companies to put up elevators at stations where situated the greater part of what was destroyed annually, failed in the senate. The anti-scalpers' bill passed the senate and was sent to the governor for his signature. Howard's bill creating a bureau of labor, to enforce the labor laws, was also passed.

KILLED BY EARTHQUAKE.

The City of Zante, in the Ionian Islands, Destroyed and Over Twenty Persons Killed.

ATHENS, April 17.—The island of Zante, one of the principal Ionian islands, was visited by a most destructive earthquake this morning, resulting in great loss of life and property. The shock this morning appears to have been most violent in the city of Zante, where the greater part of the houses which were thrown down by the earthquake.

The people are panic stricken and the authorities helpless. The streets are impassable, being filled with masses of stones and debris, and the wreckage of houses which were thrown down by the earthquake.

This far the bodies of twenty persons, killed by the earthquake, have been removed from the debris, and it is feared that many more dead are still in the ruins. The number of persons injured are up in the hundreds.

Everything is in confusion and the work of searching for bodies and for the injured cannot be pursued systematically. The greater portion of the inhabitants have fled to the plains back of the city, where they wander about in a distracted manner, bewailing the loss of their homes and property.

The city presents a scene of desolation, and it is doubtful if it ever recovers from this series of misfortunes. The greater portion of the city has been destroyed within the past three months. There is bound to be an enormous amount of suffering and outside aid will be urgently requested.

The shock occurred at 7:30 in the morning. Most of the buildings that stood erect after the shocks of February and March were either thrown down or shattered, so as to be unsafe for occupancy. The church of St. Dionysius and the government offices were thrown down.

Advices from the interior show that the whole island has been devastated. Many villages have been destroyed, and it is thought that the loss of life has been very great. The full extent of the calamity cannot be estimated at present. Warships will be dispatched from the Piræus with clothing, provisions and medicine for the sufferers.

It is pointed out here that the Zante disaster is confirming the prediction made a few days ago by Prof. Fabb, who predicted the former earthquakes, that disturbances more serious than the recent ones would occur April 16 or 17. His prediction has proven true, for this morning's shock is the worst that has ever visited Zante, which is noted for its earthquakes.

The Greek government has acted promptly in rendering aid to the sufferers by the earthquake on the island of Zante. The two Greek ironclads, Hydra and Spesha, have already started for Zante.

TWO RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

Both On the Ann Arbor Road and Three Men Killed.

FARWELL, Mich., April 17.—A collision occurred on the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan road about four miles north of here, this morning, between a work train and a north-bound passenger train.

Two men were killed and several were badly injured. Another is missing. The injured are being brought here. No names have been ascertained as yet.

Another accident occurred on the Ann Arbor road a mile north of Emery early this morning. The boiler of engine No. 38 exploded, and Fireman T. C. Wilson, of Pontiac, was scalded to death.

Maxwell's Hon Ax.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—The total number of four class postmasters appointed today was 131. Of this number, 79 were to fill vacancies caused by resignations and death.

Fire in a Mine.

HAZLETON, Pa., April 17.—Fire is raging in Crystal Ridge mine, about a mile from here. The fire department of this place has been summoned. Five men are said to be in the mine.

CHOLERA IS NEAR

The Dreaded Disease Has Made Its Appearance at Winnipeg, Also Reported Near Port Arthur.

Was Brought by Immigrants From Southern Russia Who Were Denied Admission to This Country.

Were Allowed to Mingle With Railroad Employees and Other People at the Winnipeg Depot.

All the Passengers of the Three Cars in Which They Travelled Placed in Quarantine.

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 17.—A special from Winnipeg, Man., says that Asiatic cholera has found its way to Winnipeg. Last Thursday many immigrants arrived from Southern Russia. They were destined, it is said, for the United States. They came from cholera infected districts and were not allowed to come into the United States. They were shipped by the Canadian Pacific to Winnipeg, in the expectation of going from that point into North Dakota and elsewhere in the American Northwest.

Cholera broke out among these immigrants on the way to Fort William, a station on the Canadian Pacific on Lake Superior. A man died of the disease on one of the cars. This car was quarantined at Fort William, and the rest of the immigrant train sent on to Winnipeg in different sections. On the way to Winnipeg a child died of the disease on one of the cars and three other passengers fell sick.

On arriving at Winnipeg, this state of affairs becoming known, the authorities became alarmed. They also learned that the passengers on the infected cars had been allowed to mingle with the railroad employees and other citizens of Winnipeg at the depot. All the passengers of the three cars were promptly quarantined.

Later—The Story Denied.
ST. PAUL, April 17.—The Winnipeg correspondent of the Dispatch says there is no foundation for the story sent from St. Paul, N. D., that cholera existed among immigrants recently arrived at Winnipeg from the East.

NO GENERAL STRIKE YET.
The English Dock Laborers Will Decide the Matter Tonight.

LONDON, April 17.—The result of the agitation in favor of a general strike of dock laborers and others employed in the shipping trade in support of the striking dock laborers at Hull, is as yet problematical.

A wide difference of opinion exists among the leaders as to the advisability of such a movement, and unless there is agreement probability that the outcome will be beneficial to the unions, no general strike will be ordered. Delegates will be present from all parts of the United Kingdom.

The dock laborers of London have determined to follow the advice of their leaders, to await the decision of tonight's conference. After arriving at this decision the movement to work with the exception of about 100, who believed they should support the action of Saturday's conference ordering a general strike for today.

The feeling of unionists generally is against a general strike. The stevedores' union has declined to take any part in the movement and will not be represented in the conference tonight.

A MANIFESTO ISSUED.

Servian Liberals Protest Against the Recent Coup d'Etat.

BELGRADE, April 17.—The general acquiescence, if not approval, with which King Alexander's coup d'etat was hailed in Belgrade, has been interrupted. The Liberals have gathered courage since Thursday night and now a paper appears to excite the people against the government.

The Liberals have issued a manifesto in which they describe the new ministry, composed of M. Dokitch and his colleagues, appointed by King Alexander, as a usurpation of royal authority, as usurpers of political power, and having incited the king to the coup d'etat.

The Liberals say that they mean to stand upon the rights of the people, which they claim have been outraged and ignored by the alleged usurpation.

Killed by an Unknown.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 17.—As a result of a row yesterday between a number of drunken men in a house at Duquesne where liquor is sold illegally, John Flaherty was shot by someone unknown and died a short time afterwards. No arrests have yet been made. The coroner will hold an inquest today.

Crushed to Death.

CHICAGO, April 17.—Sergeant Joseph W. Warwick, of Raleigh, N. C., who for three months has been superintending the installation of the government exhibit at the World's fair, was crushed to death this morning under a 14-ton gun which slipped from its fastenings while being placed in position. M. J. Kern, a comrade, was also crushed badly and his recovery is considered doubtful.

Granted a New Trial.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 17.—The supreme court today at Jackson, Miss., granted Henry Foster, who killed Congressman J. B. Morgan, a new trial. Foster was condemned in the lower court to a life term in the penitentiary.

Conferred With Grover.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Secretary Gresham had an extended conference with the president today. Hawaiian affairs and the Chilean refugee questions are understood to have been the topics under consideration.

THE SITUATION IN HAWAII.

The Natives Are Said to Be Strongly Opposed to Annexation.

NEW YORK, April 17.—In a special from Honolulu dated April 8 to the Herald, Charles Nordhoff says: "I saw at San Francisco and on the ship coming here a number of old and new acquaintances—some provisional government men and annexationists—others favorable to the maintenance of the old system. All of both parties frankly acknowledged that the natives, 40,000 in number, and all of proper age, able to read and write and brought up under American missionary training with a view to few expectations, are strongly opposed to annexation.

"I wish to emphasize this fact—confessed by all the annexationists I have seen—that the natives are solidly opposed to annexation. There are against these 40,000 natives, 125,000 Americans, men, women and children, most though by no means all of whom want and cry out for annexation. The leaders of these are heads of the fading provisional government."

Mr. Nordhoff also says the present situation is this: The provisional government continues to exist but is slowly losing adherents. It would go to pieces by a slight push, but it is the policy of the native leaders and their American advisers not to push but to wait.

The provisional government leaders have no hope, except annexation. They know and confess that they cannot maintain an independent existence but would be voted down at once, not merely by natives, but by a considerable number of Americans and other foreign residents. The influence of the queen and all her advisers is exerted so far to keep the people absolutely quiet, waiting for President Cleveland's decision, which they believe will be just and restore the constitutional government.

A PRISONER RAN AMUCK.

Auburn Prison the Scene of a Tragedy Today, One Convict Being Stabbed and Others Wounded.

AUBURN, N. Y., April 17.—John Johnson, who is known as the "Blue Nigger from Clyde," ran amuck in the broom shop of Auburn prison this morning. He was armed with a sharp knife used in cutting broom corn and first attacked Charles Peck, a fellow convict from West Chester county, leaving him dead in his tracks.

He next fatally stabbed another convict and wounded two others. He was then shot by a keeper and rendered powerless. Johnson was first sentenced to Auburn in 1885 for ten years for assault in the first degree. He was released a year ago in January, but was rearrested at the gate after a desperate struggle and was taken back to Clyde for trial on other indictments.

He came back on a sentence of four years and had not given any trouble until this morning. He had also served a term in Sing Sing for receiving stolen property. Charles Peck, his victim, was sentenced from West Chester county in 1889 for burglary in the first degree to thirteen years.

TALKING OF CIVIL WAR.

Irish Unionists and Sympathizers Favor Armed Opposition.

LONDON, April 17.—Col. C. F. Dawney, who was a member of the late parliament from Thirsk and Malton, Yorkshire, but was not a candidate for the present parliament, is taking an entirely new line in his attitude toward the home rule.

The colonel belongs to the noted Anglo-Irish family of Dawney. Col. Dawney is about 46 years of age and was for twelve years in the Goldstream guards. In the late parliament he was for suppressing the National league in Ireland.

He announces the formation of a corps of gentleman volunteers in Yorkshire with the intention of joining the Ulster Unionists in armed opposition to Irish home rule.

Other news of a military character in relation to Irish home rule comes from Scotland. The newspapers of Glasgow report that the Orange lodges in that city are storing rifles and bayonets with the intention, it is presumed, of aiding the Orangemen of Ulster to battle against Irish home rule.

THE SPECTATORS FOUGHT.

A Prize Fight in Missouri Followed by an All Round Battle.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 17.—At the conclusion of the Daily-McManus prize fight down the river yesterday afternoon a general row ensued, and for ten minutes the spectators, principals and seconds had an all round battle.

The followers of McManus charged corruption and bribery. Referee Aloc was seized bodily and threatened with annihilation if he made a decision. He admitted that he had counted McManus out, but refused to give a final decision regarding the stake money and bets until after he reached the boat.

Aloc was so badly frightened that he did not dare to remain on the boat with the crowd, but instead boarded a private tug boat and reached the city in safety. When the boat reached the wharf last night another riot occurred. For half an hour 200 men fought on the levee and were only dispersed after a squad of police had used their clubs liberally.

Gonzales is Improving.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 17.—Ex-President Gonzalez continues to improve in health, and his physicians report that he is on the road to recovery. President Diaz has been almost a daily visitor to the sick room and has given his old comrade every attention.

A $30,000 Blaze.

UNION CITY, Tenn., April 17.—The plant of the Union City Grain company was destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is $30,000; insurance, $17,000.

WARM TIME EXPECTED

Tonight's Session of the West Duluth Council May Be One of Those Which Interest Spectators.

The Committee on Streets Intimates That It Has Learned Something About Street Work.

Partial Promise of a Sensation Has Been Made—Entertainments to Be Given This Week.

The spectators' gallery will no doubt be well filled at the council meeting this evening, as there is likely to be a very interesting session of the village fathers. Street improvements will occupy some attention, and some rare developments are promised. The committee on streets has been investigating some of the work already done, and will probably have some news to give the people which is at present unknown to the general public. The developments are being kept quiet as yet, but the members of this committee intimate that they may expose to the public gaze several very large wood-chucks.

THE WEEK'S ENTERTAINMENTS.

Some of the Social Pleasures Which West Duluthians Will Enjoy This Week.

Society and amusement matters in West Duluth have fallen into a state of innocuous disinterest for some time, past and outside of a few card parties nothing has occurred to break the monotony. There are a number of entertainments on the tapis for the present week, however, which augur an awakening of social amusements and convivial pleasures. Tomorrow evening the Ladies Aid of the Methodist church has prepared a feast of reason in a lecture to be delivered by Dr. Forbes on "A Great Light of the Eighteenth Century."

On Wednesday evening the boys of Company H will provide an enjoyable military ball at Hoyt's hall, and if the preparations are a criterion of what is to follow, everybody that attends may expect a good time. The Italian string band of Duluth will furnish music and supper will be served by Caterer Stewart.

The Ladies' Pedro party, which has been giving afternoon card parties during the winter, will close its series by giving a big party at the city hall on Thursday evening. The card parties are privileged to attend and a choice lunch will be served to the guests. A large number of invitations have been issued and the affair is expected to be one of the pleasantest events of the week.

Received a Call. Rev. C. H. Remington of the church of the Holy Apostles has received a call to be first assistant of St. John's parish at Detroit, Mich. As this is a very wealthy and flourishing church the call is a most flattering acknowledgment of Mr. Remington's ability. His parish here would be loath to dispense with his valuable services however and he will probably be induced to accept the complimentary offer.

West Duluth Briefs. George W. Woodby, the colored orator of Omaha, Neb., will speak in the cause of temperance at Merritt hall in Onondaga this evening and Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. His subjects will be "Right in Darkness," "The Unsettled Problem of our Republic," and "The Negro in Ancient History." Music from West Duluth will be furnished.

The congregational church of this place has been called to a council in May to form a church at Virginia.

Ed. Home has returned from Chicago. R. P. Goggin spent Sunday in the city. W. E. Lawrence has gone to St. Paul. L. A. Fauley of Harris, Minn., spent Sunday here with friends.

P. Daley has accepted a position with the Terminal company.

Charles Hugo has gone to St. Paul, Stillwater and other points on a business trip.

The Marinette works have lately shipped a carload of machinery to Virginia to be used in the mines.

A Junior Endeavor society has been organized at the Congregational church to meet at 4 p. m. each Sunday afternoon. The senior society will give a social and a ball for a dime and a half at the church on Friday evening.

The Ministers' Monday club which meets every third Monday in each month, commenced at the Murray house this morning.

Mitchell & McClure are shipping 200,000 feet of rail to Philadelphia.

The vestrymen of the Episcopal church will hold a business meeting this evening in the office of C. A. Lamb.

Adulterated Wine. Is injurious, but nothing gives strength like a pure old port wine. "Royal Ruby Port," so called for its royal taste and ruby color, is particularly adapted for invalids, convalescents and the aged. Sold only in quart bottles for $1, while cheap wine is sold by the gallon and gives a larger profit to the seller, but less to the user. This wine is absolutely pure and has the age without which no wine is fit to use. Be sure you get Royal Ruby; $1 in quart bottles only. Sold by S. F. Boyce, drugstore.

It is hardly probable that R. C. Mitchell's double column ad. can have escaped the notice of any of the real estate speculators in Duluth, but if it has, it might be money in their pocket to look it up.

If You Want. A cook, if you want a laundress, if you want a coachman, if you want help of any kind, advertise for it in our want columns.

ANOTHER DRAM OF GOLD.

Secretary Carlisle Had a Conference Today With Senator Sherman.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Secretary Carlisle declined this morning to outline his future financial action, preferring to await the arrival of the emergency before indicating what he will do. He had this morning an extended interview with Senator Sherman, who has been secretary of the treasury, and this afternoon he will confer with the president. Both Secretary Carlisle and the president have been inundated all morning with telegrams from New York and other points.

The order for $1,250,000 of gold for export tomorrow reduces the free gold in the treasury to about $500,000.

The Timber Deceptions. WASHINGTON, April 17.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Baldwin expected today to secure from Secretary Smith some additional information about the alleged timber deceptions. Mr. Smith was out of town, however, and nothing can be accomplished by Mr. Baldwin until he returns.

Posed Until July. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 17.—The case against Wm. E. Woodruff, ex-state treasurer, charged with the embezzlement of about $600,000 interest-bearing scrip, was called in the civil court this morning, but on account of the absence of important witnesses the hearing was postponed until July 5.

Poison in Their Food. NEW YORK, April 17.—The Herald's correspondent in Los Angeles telegraphs that twenty persons in the Hotel Bolia there have been poisoned. Two of the victims died. It is supposed that disinfected cocks placed the poison in the food.

A Narrow Escape. "I never had such a terrible day," said a lady who lives in the suburbs. "What was the matter?"

"Our new servant girl. She couldn't find the clothesline. 'Never mind,' I said, 'let it go for today.' 'Indeed I will not,' said she. 'I'll fix it in a jiffy.' With that she got the stepladder, and I left her. In a few minutes I thought I would see how she was getting along, and I arrived on the scene just in time to save her life."

"What was she doing?" "Getting ready to hang the clothes on the trolley wire!"—Washington Star.

"YES!"

Of all fair women, grave or gay, The one I oftentimes bless Is she who never fails to say In tones inquiring, "Yes!"

Naught she so well can teach As how to smile to please, And send his lips and soul from speech As this mild, neutral "Yes!"

Her charming grace I prize and praise, Her worth, her loveliness, And quite approve of all her ways Except this maddening "Yes!"

Life must, I know, perplexing be As battling game of chess, But any I'll brave if she Will only not say "Yes!"

To resolve my woes to tell, My grievances all confess, But—what's the use? I know quite well She'll gently murmur "Yes!"

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
April 17.—Generally fair weather prevails this morning and with the exception of a limited area in the far North-west, the temperature is above freezing everywhere.

Light rains and snows have fallen in scattered places, mostly along the lakes and in the Northwest.

An area of high barometer covers the central valley, with its center over Tennessee. An area of moderately low is over the far North-west. The lowest temperature this morning is 12, at Battleground and Prince Albert, N. W. T.; the highest 24, at Memphis, Tenn. The highest here yesterday was 16, the lowest last night 33. The snowfall yesterday morning amounted to 1.5 inch, when melted.

DULUTH, April 15.—Fair, warmer; winds shifting to east and northeast.

today. The dreaded Asiatic cholera has found its way to that city, carried thither
by immigrants from the cholera infected districts of Southern Russia. There is also a case at Fort William a few miles from Port Arthur, where one of the victims died from the terrible disease.

Steps have been taken to quarantine
all the immigrants and the passengers
in the cars in which they traveled, but it is undeniable that there is grave danger that some people who came in contact with these immigrants may have escaped
the attention of the authorities and have carried away the germs of the disease in their clothing to spread it among other people. There is danger that the disease may break out at Fort William and Port Arthur, and with the opening of navigation Duluth will be exposed to serious risks.

These facts add fresh emphasis to the demand which The Herald has been making for action by the city authorities to put Duluth in a condition to meet any such danger. The finance committee, to which Alderman Hugo's resolutions dealing with this question were referred at the last meeting of the council, should make a favorable report tonight, and the council should waste no time in dilly-dallying over such an important matter, that virtually concerns the health and life of every citizen, but should adopt the report and take the necessary action to improve the sanitary condition of the city.

If Duluth is to be a healthy city, its present dirty state must become a thing of the past. There must be a general cleaning against dirt and filth. The streets, alleys and backyards must be cleaned thoroughly. There must be a municipal system for the collection and disposal of garbage, and steps must be taken to connect all cesspools with the sewers wherever it is possible. These reforms are provided for in Alderman Hugo's resolutions, and The Herald looks to the council to carry them into effect without delay, because delay at this season of the year will be very dangerous.

The people of Duluth are in favor of such action by the council. They are anxious for a departure from the policy of carelessness and indifference which has characterized the authorities in the past with regard to the sanitary condition of the city. The evils of filth and the disadvantages of unsightly environments have long been experienced in this community and the popular demand for a change for the better is strong and general. Both the health and comfort of the citizens are involved, and there should be no hesitancy on the part of the council in adopting measures which will bring about those improvements which are demanded in the interest of health and decency. The appearance of Asiatic cholera so near to Duluth should warn the Duluth aldermen of the danger that exists in delaying measures of this character.

The Financial Situation.

During the latter days of the past week the exports of gold to Europe were quite heavy, much heavier than any person who is unacquainted with the financial situation would believe. It is also unfortunately true that there is a prospect of like large shipments this week. This and other unfavorable influences are having an unsatisfactory effect upon American securities, and are inducing speculative holders to lighten their load. The result is a decline in values.

Breaks of this character are to be expected so long as certain stubborn factors disturbing confidence are continued,
in the opinion of Henry Clews, the well known New York banker, whose weekly financial reviews are usually devoted to these points. Foremost among these factors is the unsettled condition of the silver problem. Until an international agreement settles it, or the Sherman act of 1890 is repealed, this can only be regarded as a menace to our currency system and therefore to a large proportion of our investments, with consequent danger of oscillations of foreign confidence in our securities. This special exposure aggravates the apprehensions connected with exports of gold.

Under existing circumstances, the country needs to keep up its supply of gold
as an offset against the large amounts of silver money we are creating and yet
our silver issues aid in driving out our gold, and in proportion as that process expands, our credit abroad is liable to suffer and our securities there held are subject to being returned. There is here a sort of uncontrollable confusion of cause and effect, which begets indefinite apprehensions and aggravates the consequences arising from all other causes of disturbance.

It has been hoped that the outflow
of gold might be checked through the revival of the exports of produce, but that hope has not yet been in any measure realized. Speculation still holds back the immense value of surplus wheat, corn, cotton and provisions from export; and so far as respects wheat, the April official crop report has encouraged the disposition to hold for higher prices. It now looks as though there might be no way out of this speculative deadlock except through gold being exported instead of products to such an extent as to produce a pressure in the money market that would compel holders of these products to release them for export. There can be no question, Mr.
Clews contends, that this hoarding of some $150,000,000 of products which ought, in the ordinary course of things,
to have been ere this largely distributed among other countries is producing very embarrassing derangements in the course of the foreign exchanges; and the country has rarely been in a condition in which it could so ill-afford to stand exposed to such derangements.

A Big Canal Project.

A company which is said to be backed by men worth millions, has been organized to construct a canal between St.
Paul and Duluth. This is a big undertaking, and there has been some question raised in the past as to its feasibility, but it is probable those who have formed the company have fully satisfied themselves on this point, as it is announced that they intend to begin work this summer. The Herald does not believe, however, that there is more than the making of a survey for the best route
will be done this year.

This is an important enterprise, which cannot but result beneficially to Duluth.
This is shown by the great advantages which Buffalo has derived from its position at the head of the canal system in New York state. It has been the custom of some Duluth papers in the past to oppose the construction of a canal from Duluth
to the Twin Cities, through a mistaken fear that it would injure Duluth. The Herald does not entertain any such fear,
and it would be glad to see such a canal constructed.

It would appear, however, that some legislative authority would be required,
before this enterprise can be undertaken,
and The Herald is not aware that any law has been passed on the subject.

Surprised the Frenchmen.

The lake marine is well represented at the naval rendezvous at Hampton roads. The whaleback J. L. Colby glided into the roads yesterday among the great men-of-war, representing all the principal nations of the world, and created a regular sensation, owing to its peculiar shape and strong resemblance to a torpedo boat.

The officers of the French man-of-war Dart looked upon the new arrival with curious gaze, it being decidedly unique in the Frenchmen's eyes, and they doubtless imagined that it was some American invention of a naval craft that would deal destruction to opposing navies.

The whaleback has a somewhat warlike appearance, but the only warfare in which it is engaged is the bloodless conflict for marine business, although there is no doubt that Capt. McDougall could quickly convert one of his unique craft
into a formidable war vessel.

The Herald's circulation is constantly increasing. Its growth is healthy and spontaneous. People buy it for its worth as a newspaper. It is not forced upon them to deceive advertisers. It is not necessary to offer cheap story papers as an attraction to swell the list of subscribers, because the people want the latest news and they all look to The Herald to provide it.

J. Newton Nind who for many years past has been editor of the Mississippi Valley Lumberman, of Minneapolis, has left the service of that paper to become associate editor of the Northwestern Lumberman, published at Chicago. Mr. Nind will be a strong addition to the working force of the Chicago paper and his connection will give it a still greater standing in the Northwest.

As a contribution to the question, "Is Marriage a Failure?" Hon. Carroll D.
Wright's "Report on Marriage and Divorce" is interesting. It shows that the number of divorces in the United States during twenty years was approximately 328,716. They increased with great uniformity from 1877 in 1867 to 25,535 in 1886 or 157 per cent against an increase in population of about 60 per cent.

Miss Means, a member of a South Carolina Presbyterian church, has been expelled because she worked in a telephone exchange on Sunday. The girl was probably dependent upon this situation for her support. Instead of expelling her from the church, would it not have been a more Christian act to have found her other employment?

A bill abolishing the death penalty has passed the New York assembly, but a similar resolution was defeated in the senate. There is no good argument that can be produced in favor of abolishing
the death penalty. Its necessity has been demonstrated and cheap sentimentalism
should not cause its abolition.

The Chicago Journal thinks that the walking delegate is about as useful a member of society as the anarchist and should be treated as such. Both are alike in one respect—they have a natural aversion for working.

Wednesday should be a day of general thanksgiving in Minnesota. The legislature will adjourn since die on Tuesday night, and surely that will be sufficient cause for rejoicing.

SERVIA'S BOY KING.

The Young Man Who Has Made a Successful
Coup d'Etat.

Although Alexander, the boy king of Servia, has declared that he has attained
his majority, he is, in fact, not yet 17,
and according to the Servian law he does not become of age until he is 18.

The true significance of his coup d'etat, when hearsted his regents and ministers, and declared his intention to rule, is not yet known. It is not likely,
however, that the young king has acted upon his own volition. The political affairs of Servia have long been in a most unsettled condition, and it was rumored last year that there had been a plot to depose Alexander and to restore the Karaogewitch dynasty.

The two regents, M. Ristich and General Belimarkovitch, have been deposed,
and M. Dokitch is the Prime Minister.
The Skupstina has also been dissolved,
and new elections in the various constituencies will be held. The army and the populace are with the king.

In the king's proclamation, Alexander declares that the constitution has lately been in sore jeopardy, that the rights of citizens have been imperiled, and the constitutional position of parliament so abused that the king must end the unhappy condition of affairs. He therefore declares that he has assumed kindly powers.

Henceforth, the proclamation adds, the Servian constitution acquires its full significance.

Hood's Cures

Saved From the Grave

Scrofula in Face and Neck—Blind at Times

Hood's Sarsaparilla Restored Health
—Gained 35 Pounds in Weight.

"I have been a very great sufferer from a serious case of scrofula. First, a large bump came in my neck growing as big as a good sized apple.
It was as hard as bone, and after drawing it to head the doctor lanced it, and for two years
it was a running sore.

Then we succeeded in healing it up, but the disease began to appear in my face, which would
swell up and affect my eyes so that every morning they were so inflamed and swollen that I was blind. The swelling would subside in the middle of the afternoon so that I could see a little. Well, I was in this condition for about a year. I went to every physician in my town, all of whom failed to help me and said nothing could be done to cure me. But I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had used a bottle and a half, the swelling in my face had entirely gone down. I kept on taking the medicine, and gained 35 pounds in weight.

I have been perfectly cured
now I am in good health, and confidently say
Hood's Sarsaparilla saved me from the grave.
Today I am looking as stout and hearty as ever.

It was a Running Sore.

Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had used a
bottle and a half, the swelling in my face had
entirely gone down. I kept on taking the medicine, and gained 35 pounds in weight.

I have been perfectly cured
now I am in good health, and confidently say
Hood's Sarsaparilla saved me from the grave.
Today I am looking as stout and hearty as ever.

It was a Running Sore.

Then we succeeded in healing it up, but the disease began to appear in my face, which would
swell up and affect my eyes so that every morning they were so inflamed and swollen that I
was blind. The swelling would subside in the middle of the afternoon so that I could see a little. Well, I was in this condition for about a year. I went to every physician in my town, all
of whom failed to help me and said nothing
could be done to cure me. But I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, and when I had used a
bottle and a half, the swelling in my face had
entirely gone down. I kept on taking the medicine, and gained 35 pounds in weight.

THE COUNCIL MEETING.

Both E. R. Jefferson and A. C. Barlow May Be "Turned Down."

Just as sure as the sun rises, do the Monday evenings roll around for the regular weekly meetings of the city fathers. Tonight will be no exception. The prospects at noon were for rather a quiet session, unless things break loose over the matter of the mayor's appointments. It is pretty well understood that neither E. R. Jefferson nor A. C. Barlow will be confirmed. The first has been nominated by Mayor d'Autremont to succeed Alex McGregor on the board of fire commissioners, while the last is intended as a successor to Nils Viljo.

This afternoon has been considered the time at which the underlings in the office of the board of health would be selected. It is certain that John Rosser will be retained for clerk, and Inspector Burbank will also be continued, but beyond that it is likely that some changes will be made, although nothing definite is known or has been decided upon.

Bids for city bonds in the sum of $100,000 will be opened. Five bids had been filed with the city clerk up to 11 o'clock this morning. The representatives of several financial firms will probably appear in person at tonight's session.

The city engineers has no communications in sight aside from some sewer estimates. The tunnel report is not ready and the board of public works will not have anything important in the way of communications. The city attorney is in the same boat.

The city clerk says that there is the usual batch of petitions and communications from the vox populi of the city, but if there is anything startling in the pile he failed to mention it.

Something of a Joke.
Stephen Merchant is an agent for Portland cement and William Craig is superintendent of the Duluth Gas and Water company. Stephen Merchant is also an avowed and severe critic of the manner in which Mr. Craig's company serves up Lake Superior water to Duluth imbibers of that liquid. The company now contemplates raising its reservoir. In the hotel yesterday, Mr. Craig and Mr. Merchant were seen smiling amicably at one another, whereupon J. Adam Bede facetiously informed the social throng that Mr. Craig had given Mr. Merchant the contract for supplying the cement for the reservoir, with the understanding that he should cease his eternal warfare upon Mr. Craig's administration.

Mrs. Frankie A. Breeze Declares a Signature Purporting to Be Hers to Be a Forgery.

Neal, Morse & Co. Claimed That She Guaranteed Payment of a Large Claim Against Frank I. Breeze.

She Says Mr. Breeze Was Here Two Weeks Ago and That She Knew Where He Is.

The case of Neal Morse & Co. vs. Frankie A. Breeze et al. was on trial before Judge Lewis this morning and is still at bat. The suit is to fix upon Mrs. Frankie A. Breeze a debt of $2500 which it is claimed she became responsible for on behalf of her husband, Frank I. Breeze, who skipped the city some time ago. The defense claims that her signature is a forgery and it is on this claim that the liability for the debt hinges. J. B. Laddy testified to the indebtedness and the prosecution rested. Mrs. Breeze was put on the stand for the defense and kept there until noon. She denied the signature and told her husband admitted he had forged her name to several other documents and how, on one solitary occasion, Fimple, a brother-in-law of Mr. Breeze, told her that if she did not go down to Walter Ayer's office and square a certain signature that Mr. Breeze would be put in jail for forgery. She related how Mr. Breeze came back to the city a couple of weeks ago and came in the back door of the house and then added with a smile "but he didn't stay long." She admitted that she knew his present whereabouts and that the court adjourned for dinner.

On Sunday morning the jury in the Peter Carlo case came into court and reported a disagreement the panel standing eleven for acquittal and one for conviction. They were discharged.

Before Judge Ensign the case of J. R. Douglass vs. the North Star Construction company is still on trial.

COURT PAPERS FILED.

List of Legal Documents Left With the Clerk of Court Today.

In Clerk Sinclair's office Monday's filings were not many in number, but the principal ones were:
Summons and complaint in E. B. Northwood vs. Peter Jordan et al. The complaint demands judgment for $400 alleged to have been paid on a defective deed in realty.
Complaint in Roniemi vs. C. vs. John Jacobson. The plaintiffs allege a debt of $373.35 for goods, etc., furnished to the defendant at Biwabik.

Complaint in Colvin & Robb vs. A. P. Dodge & Co. et al. Complaint alleges a debt of $978.13 and asks a determination as to the validity of their claim.

Judgment docketed in Chas. Holloquist vs. Andrew Jackson and Simon Clark. The defendants defaulted and the judgment against them is for $304.83. This was a suit on a note of Jackson's endorsed by Clark.

An order by Judge Baxter for judgment with costs for the plaintiff in J. L. Washburn vs. Geo. J. McManus et al.

A release by Robert Brox of their claims against A. Mark, an insolvent debtor.

Notice of appeal to the supreme court of Henry Nelson vs. Village of West Duluth. The defendant is the appellant.

First papers were issued to Delphis Menard, of Canada, and Annie Larsen, of Norway.

Marriage license was issued to Emil Engle and Jorda Larson.

An order by Judge Baxter for a stay of the order by the plaintiff in National Bank of Commerce vs. H. E. Long et al. is entitled to recover on a certain promissory note.

Filed Articles Today.
Articles of incorporation of the Minnesota Canal company were filed with the register this morning. It commences business April 20, 1893, and continues 50 years. The capital stock is $2,000,000 and the indebtedness limit is fixed at $700,000. The incorporators are Flavin J. Barber, Milton Weston, A. C. Martin, Percival Steele and S. M. Meek of Chicago, Ill., Frank F. Davis of Minneapolis, Minn., and Henry Curtis Spaulding of Duluth. There are 40,000 shares of stock of the nominal value of $50 each. The corporation is for the purpose of constructing and maintaining canals and waterways in this state and Duluth is the principal place of business.

Fire at Armour's.
Fire was discovered in the Armour Packing company's building on Fifth avenue west early yesterday morning. The fire department responded and the blaze was quenched with the use of the chemical engine. It is believed to have been of incendiary origin and the detectives are after the suspect. It was discovered by one of the employees who sleeps in the building. The damage was slight and was covered by insurance.

Visiting the Cincinnati.
A party of Duluth citizens, among them Grant Wyatt, E. G. Swanson, C. S. Sargent, Nels Hall, T. S. Wood and others, went up to the Cincinnati mine today at the invitation of the Standard Ore company. Those in the party are nearly all Cincinnati stockholders, and the company will show them over the ground and explain what is being done and the condition of the property.

Over Two Hundred Feet.
A great many people have inquired how high the large smoke stack on the new Hartman General Electric company will be. It will rise to a height of 235 feet and is nine feet in diameter. It will be a very costly affair and in that respect will be in keeping with the whole plant. The material used is boiler steel and the stack will be lined with fire brick the entire height. These stacks are in use in the East but are uncommon in the West.

WHEAT ACTIVE BUT LOWER.

Prices Declined Here Owing to a Slump at Chicago.

The wheat market was active and lower this morning. May and cash opened 1/2c lower while July was 1/4c lower. There was good trading all morning but prices declined in sympathy with the slump at Chicago. The close there was selling July freely and this broke the market. All the lower futures were liquidated. The visible report showed a decrease in wheat and a decrease of 22,000 bu. The total clearances at the four ports equalled 594,140 bu. of wheat. The wheat on passage increased 112,600 bu. and corn increased 120,000 bu. Indian wheat increased 2,500,000 in acreage, but 1,750 bushels was said to be disappointing. The afternoon session was quiet and prices ruled a shade above the lower prices of the morning. The close was dull and 1/2c lower all round than Saturday.

Following were the closing prices:
No. 1 hard, cash, 65 1/2c; April, 65 1/2c; May, 65 1/2c; July, 65 1/2c. No. 1 northern, cash, 63c; April, 63c; May, 63c; July, 63c. ITS DEATH BED

The Legislature is Fast Hastening to Its Windup and the Senate Has Already Adjourned.

Three Reports Presented on Markham, the Majority Exonerating Him of the Charges of Boondoggling.

The Majority Report was Adopted and the Others Were Stricken from the House Records.

Wacke Roasted as a Spy for Lumbermen and Removed from the Committee of Investigation.

St. Paul, April 18.—(Special to The Herald.)—Senator J. B. Sanborn was elected president pro tem over McHale in the senate today. Mr. Sanborn thought this senate was of the purest motives and least political rancor and partisanship of any senate which has sat in this capitol. Mr. Crandall introduced a resolution asking the governor to investigate the matter of a board for each state institution and suggesting that these boards be united in one.

The senate made pay of the charter commission attorneys $2750, at the rate of $10 a day. Senator Donnelly made some touching remarks at the close of the senate session in presenting a picture of a group of the senate to President Clough. Mr. Donnelly commended the firmness and utter impartiality of the presiding officer. Mr. Donnelly took occasion to state that the senate was the most laborious and hardworking body ever assembled in the state.

The senate passed a resolution this morning, instructing the sergeant-at-arms to turn over the letter impression book of John J. Rhodes to the attorney general. O. B. Turrell, of Redwood, was elected temporary speaker. Three reports on Representative Markham were read this morning, one signed by Wilson, Cole and Underleak, which totally exonerated him. Koerner sent a report stating that Mr. Markham might have been indiscreet in his language but had done nothing reprehensible. Wacke presented another report scoring Markham.

Mr. Boggs supported the majority report and stated that the member, Wacke, who presented a report, had acted as a spy to secure information for lumbermen against Markham, and he made a strong speech, clearly showing that his testimony clearly indicated that Markham had neither asked nor intimated that he wanted money. On motion of Mr. Fuller, who requested that the name of Wacke be stricken from the legislative journal as a member of the committee of investigation.

The speaker appointed Cotton, Staples, Jacobson and McGrath as a permanent committee to investigate the pine land frauds. The majority report was adopted and both the minority reports on Markham were ordered stricken from the journal.

In the senate, Eaton, Donnelly and Leavitt were put upon the pine land committee. The reporters in the senate presented Lieutenant-Governor Clough with a large bouquet for safe as a token of appreciation.

In the house yesterday, Mr. O'Neill moved to take up the Duluth elevator bill. S. F. 220. Mr. Turrell opposed it because it proposed that the state of Minnesota go into the elevator business. Mr. Young defended it, saying that it was to be built by the state, and that the farmers who pay this fund want a state elevator they ought to have. Even if it required an independent appropriation he would favor it.

Mr. Maguire said this legislature would atone for many mistakes if it passed this bill. Mr. Johnson made a stirring speech in favor of the bill. Mr. Barrett said it was the most vital legislation that had been proposed for the benefit of the farmers. The rules were suspended by a majority vote of 64 to 21. The bill, then passed, 68 to 20.

Senator Daugherty got the bill allowing counties to bond in favor of railroad companies—designed to help the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railroad company. He called up the bill at the solicitation of Senator Daugherty, who spoke in favor of it. The bill was lost by a vote of 23 to 27. An effort is being made to secure a reconsideration.

A bill passed the senate for legalizing franchises for the erection of telephone poles. Sanborn's bill passed accepting the grant of land from the United States for the Itasca park. The bill to facilitate traffic in commodities by protecting the interests of consignees was passed.

Both the house and the senate held all night sessions. The bill to appropriate $15,000 to select swamp lands was passed. Cotton called up the bill relating to admission to the bar and it was passed. It provided for a larger admission fee. Gunn's bill to amend the Schaeffer law and decrease the fine for conviction and the bill to amend the law of 1878, relating to compensation of members and officers of the legislature were also passed.

An Editor Found Dead.

CLEVELAND, O., April 18.—Charles B. Williams, managing editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, was found dead in a closet of the Plain Dealer building early this morning. It is supposed that his death was due to an internal rupture.

A DUCHESS SENT TO PRISON.

She Has Been Committed for Contempt of Court.

LONDON, April 18.—The dowager duchess of Sutherland was committed to Holloway prison under a sentence of imprisonment for six weeks imposed by Sir Francis Jeune, president of the court of probate, for contempt of court. Notwithstanding that the imprisonment of a British duchess in a common jail is probably unprecedented in England, the affair did not excite any great surprise among the public and it had been anticipated that the court would take severe action in view of the contempt with which the duchess was charged.

The name of the dowager duchess is Mary Caroline and was a widow at the time of her marriage to the late duke of Sutherland, her previous husband having been Arthur K. Blair. She was a young girl when she married the late duke, who was then a student at Hertford college, Oxford. The late duke himself was a widower at the time of the marriage and had children and grand children, the eldest surviving child being the present duke of Sutherland.

The first wife of the late duke of Sutherland died Nov. 25, 1883. The late duke was at the time acquainted with Mrs. Blair, the present dowager duchess, and this acquaintance rapidly ripened when the late duke became a widower. The late duke and Mrs. Blair were married in Florida during a visit to America on the 4th of March, 1889.

The news of the marriage was received with anger and disappointment by the present duke and the other surviving children of the late duke, for one of whom, named Alexandra, the princess of Wales, had been sponsor. Alexandra has since died. It was evident that the dowager duchess was not to be viewed with disfavor in royal quarters, as when the late duke made a speech on the occasion of an enthusiastic reception accorded to him and the duchess near Dunrobin shortly after their marriage, and he said that "he valued such friendship more than all the smiles of royal favor."

The late duke and his son, the marquis of Stafford, who is the present duke, at once got into controversy over the marriage and particularly the cutting down of trees in Trentham park. Trentham hall was shut up most of the time, the late duke and duchess spending most of their time abroad or at Dunrobin castle. The late duke died Sept. 22 last, aged 63 years, leaving a will which was contested by the present duke and proceedings have been carried on with much bitterness.

Saturday last, the court of probate before Sir Francis Jeune, the counsel for the present duke asked that a writ of attachment should be issued against the dowager duchess, who had been having obtained an order to inspect certain papers she had deliberately placed in the fire a document which, under the order, she was permitted to inspect. Justice Jeune said that the charge was a serious one, and at once stopped the order of inspection and directed that the dowager duchess must answer to the charge today. When the charge came up today, an affidavit was presented on behalf of the duchess setting forth that the document which she had burned was a private letter, written to her by her late husband before the marriage, and that she did not think it any harm to destroy a document of that character and she closed by offering an apology to the court.

Sir Francis Jeune commented in the severest manner on the action of which the duchess had been guilty. He said that it was evident that the destruction of the document had been deliberately planned and that it was effected by violence and deceit. An apology was proper for such an act, but the accused could do nothing to apologize. However, since the injury done was now irreparable, an apology could only be regarded as a somewhat easy method of atoning for the crime. He said that when she destroyed the letter she said it was a letter from her to the late duke, now she said the reverse.

TOMORROW THE GREAT DAY.

Office Seekers Will Then Learn Their Probable Fate.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—No indication of the effect of the adjournment of the senate will have on the unprovided office seekers could be had at the White House yesterday, for the reason that Mondays are reserved by the president for uninterrupted office work.

As today is cabinet day, only one hour, will be given to seeing visitors who, by the rules, are restricted to senators and representatives. Wednesday, however, they will be free to come—senators and representatives—from 10 to 12 o'clock with the privilege of bringing as many constituents as they please with them—all others on business from 12 to 1 o'clock and the general public at the last named hour.

No unusual exodus is noticeable at the railway stations, but this fact hardly forms a criterion on which to base an estimate of those who have given up the ghost. Tomorrow will be the great day at the White House for the determination of the question whether despair or hope is in the ascendency.

THE SANTA FE STRIKE.

Joint Meeting of the Men to Discuss the Situation.

TOPEKA, Kas., April 18.—A joint meeting was held here last night by the Santa Fe engineers, conductors, firemen, brakemen and switchmen to discuss the strike situation. The executive committee of the striking organizations appeared before the meeting and explained their grievances.

The strikers say Superintendent of Machinery Player has said that all agreements are now considered off by the road. This was the real cause of the joint meeting. Committees were appointed to wait upon the management and see if agreements can be reached. If such is the case, the men do not hesitate to say that more of them will go out.

BELGIAN RIOTS

The Protest of the Industrial Classes Against the Chamber of Deputies Continues to Grow.

Meetings Held at Which Men Swear They Will Shed Their Blood to Secure Success.

The Laboring People Want Manhood Suffrage and are Making a Great Struggle to Get It.

Several Disorderly Demonstrations Made by the Turbulent Element and Police Have Dispersed the Rioters.

BRUSSELS, April 18.—The night has passed far more quietly than the authorities expected, but nevertheless the outlook is still threatening. Dispatches from all parts of the kingdom inhabited by the working people bring disquieting news. Disturbances occurred in several places during the night, but there was no concerted attempt to rebel against the king.

The movement is directed entirely against the chamber of deputies and the ministers who oppose the workmen's demands for the right to vote when they reach legal age without any property qualification whatsoever. The king, it is known, is in favor of a wide extension of the suffrage, and the crowds of excited workmen who are now demanding what they believe to be their right have nothing against him personally.

Impartial observers of the situation readily find sympathy with the strikers. Belgium is, with the exception of Russia, perhaps the only country where there is absolutely no law protecting the workingman from the rapacity and greed of his employer. The Belgian workmen have seen today the past few years, their brethren in other countries placed under the protection of special laws enacted for their benefit, and have seen employers held to a strict liability when these laws were violated.

The Belgians have had nothing, and the bourgeoisie class which rules the country, evidently intend that they shall have nothing if they can prevent it. Hence, in their desire to assert their manhood and secure rights, they have taken the step of a general strike to obtain the right to elect representatives among the law-makers.

Were the strikers armed and disciplined, there is no question that the industrial revolution now shaking the country would quickly become a bloody contest. As it is, the strikers have in many instances routed the armed police and have not hesitated to attack the soldiers. The peace effective of Belgium officers held to a strict liability when these laws were violated.

In Antwerp today the outlook is more threatening than it was yesterday, and this despite the fact that extraordinary military precautions have been taken to preserve the peace. Among the more prominent agitators have been a number of anarchists. Of these two, Fabry and Welters, have made themselves particularly obnoxious to the police, and today they were placed under arrest.

The striking dock laborers began their disorderly demonstrations again this morning. The took possession of the docks and marched along the water front attacking the men who were at work, compelling many of them to quit. The police in force were finally ordered to disperse the rioters. A short conflict ensued, during which the police used their swords and revolvers and finally the mob scattered.

In Brussels the ferment continues with no signs of abatement. The streets are filled with crowds of excited workmen and a general feeling of uncertainty prevails. It was the intention of the strikers to hold a grand demonstration in the park at St. Giles, two miles south of Brussels, but the instruction issued last night by the governor of the province have put a check upon the proposed meeting. A strong force of troops is in possession of the park, and the demonstration will not be allowed.

Burgomaster Koekelberg, of St. Gilles, refused to prohibit the meeting in the park there today and as a result the governor of Brabant took the affair into his own hands. He ordered troops to be sent to St. Gilles to prevent any demonstration the strikers might attempt to make.

Many of the strikers in this city are determined to hold meetings despite the orders of the governor of the province to the contrary. They do not, however, intend to hold their demonstrations within the city limits. They select little suburban villages where they trust they will not be interfered with by the authorities.

One such meeting was held this morning at Molenbeek, a short distance from Brussels. Fifteen thousand workmen assembled at this place and many incendiary speeches were made. The speakers pointed out the wrongs under which the laborers, miners, mechanics, factory hands and mill operatives labored and called upon them to assert their right.

The meeting was most enthusiastic and great significance attaches to it. The immense crowd of workmen all swore that they would sacrifice life, if it were needed, to obtain the right of manhood suffrage. The meeting broke up without interference from the authorities and most of the crowd returned to the city. The newspapers supporting the government attempt to treat the movement with contempt. Today the strikers are tempted to compel them to stop publication, but in this city were unsuccessful.

HAS BROKEN THE RECORD.

Grover Made More Appointments Than Any of His Predecessors.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—A comparison of the work and duration of the extra session which has just closed, with corresponding extra sessions called at the beginning of the late administration and the commencement of Mr. Cleveland's presidential term, is interesting.

Contrary to the generally prevailing opinion, it is found that Mr. Cleveland in the session which has just closed has broken the record and made more appointments to office than any of his predecessors, exceeding the appointments of Mr. Harrison during the same time by more than twenty-five.

The extra sessions of 1885 and 1889 adjourned on the 2nd day of April, while the recent session continued until the 15th of April. In the matter of the appointment of United States ministers to foreign powers, Mr. Harrison took the lead, appointing twenty-two out of the total of thirty-five, while Mr. Cleveland nominated at his first term seventeen and withdrew one, and at his last term sixteen. It is noticeable that two of the important places—Russia and Italy—have not been filled, nor did Mr. Cleveland fill the former during his first term until after the recess had begun.

During his first term Mr. Cleveland sent to the extraordinary session of the senate the names of ten of his nominees for consuls and consuls-general; Mr. Harrison four, and at the last session Mr. Cleveland got rid of twenty-three such appointments. Although Mr. Cleveland leaped way ahead of his previous record in the appointment of postmasters, he did not come up with the record made by his predecessor and that, too, notwithstanding there have been a large number of offices recently raised to the dignity of presidential offices.

In 1885 Mr. Cleveland named 65 such postmasters and this year 113; Mr. Harrison found time to install 156 Republicans before the senate got away. In the other departments of the government the nominations acted upon by the senate in extra sessions of ten of his nominees: Treasury, Mr. Cleveland, first term, 15; second term, 48; Mr. Harrison, 19. Heads of departments and assistant secretaries, Mr. Cleveland, first term, 15; second term, 19; Mr. Harrison, 18. Military and war, Mr. Cleveland, first term, 22; second term, 15; Mr. Harrison, 14. Navy and navy department, Mr. Cleveland, first term, 18; second term, 14; Mr. Harrison, 4. Judicial, Mr. Cleveland, first term, 6; second term, 34; Mr. Harrison, 28.

Mr. Harrison appointed eighteen men to office in the interior department, including the governors and secretaries of the territories, some of which became states during his administration; and from the state department sent in the names of thirteen officials, the majority being delegates to the American republic's congress.

From the interior department Mr. Cleveland this time sent in the names of thirteen officials, and from the state department but three. In Mr. Cleveland's first term he had nine nominations unacted upon, withdrew one and had two rejected. This time he withdrew one and had seven left over without action by the senate. Mr. Harrison withdrew the shot of his nominees, had two rejected, and the senate adjourned without acting on nine others.

"COOKOO" COLLINS DYING.

The Wounded Sprinter Has Little Chance of Recovery.

NEW YORK, April 18.—"Cookoo" Collins, the sprinter, who was shot by his backer at Kearney, N. J., Sunday afternoon, was still alive at a late hour last night but the doctors at St. Michael's hospital in Newark had little hope of his recovery.

Patrick J. Dolan, who fired the shot, was confronted with Collins at the hospital yesterday. Collins was asked: "Who shot you?" Collins looked around and seeing Dolan, said: "There is the man, who shot me, Pat Dolan. He shot me." Dolan was then committed to jail. He had nothing to say about the shooting. The shot was fired at such close range that four inches of Collins' shirt was burned by the powder. The ball is said to be lodged in the spine.

GUTTED BY BURGLARS.

They Entered a Jewelry Store and Stole Valuable Goods.

MANSFIELD, O., April 18.—Last night burglars entered the store of George M. Wilkinson, the leading jeweler of this city, and completely gutted it. They cracked the safe and secured its contents. It contained over 250 gold watches, a large quantity of diamonds and other valuable jewelry, together with a considerable amount of money. It was the largest and most complete job in the history of this county. The total loss is estimated at over $5000. There is no clue.

A Bad Fire.

PLYMOUTH, Mich., April 18.—Fire started about midnight last night in Geo. Vandecar's barber shop, and before it was gotten under control at 3 o'clock this morning, the leading business block of the town was in ruins. It looked at one time as if the entire town would be wiped out and help was asked for from Detroit. The engines from Detroit, however, did not reach here in time to be of service. The loss is estimated at from $50,000 to $60,000.

Sensation in Berlin.

BERLIN, April 18.—A decided sensation has been caused here by the flight to America of Deputy Captain Baron Oppen. His creditors have seized his houses and goods. Fraulein Lehman, who lives in Potsdam, claims the property as her own. Oppen's wife has entered the Westphalia institute as a Sister of Mercy. Baroness Witte, her mother-in-law, will adopt the five children of the couple.

Longstreet Sold.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The Press says: Richard Croker has purchased the great race horse Longstreet from Michael F. Dwyer. The price is said to have been $25,000.

SESSION OF BUSINESS.

West Duluth Village Fathers Transacted a Large Amount of Business at Last Evening's Meeting.

The Village Engineer Notifies the Council of a Mistake—A Motion to Suspend Him Lost.

Payment Stopped on All Outstanding Orders Issued to Contractors—Accounts to be Checked Up.

When President Martin rapped the council to order last evening all members were found to be present. The spectators' seats were all full and many remained standing in anticipation of an interesting session.

A communication was received from the board of health suggesting that the village be divided into scavenger districts according to population and that cleaning of same be let by contract. This matter brought on considerable discussion as to the methods of keeping the village clean this summer, but the recommendation of the board of health was finally adopted and the recorder was instructed to advertise for bids for the work.

F. C. Johnson asked damages in the sum of $100 for injury to his house by the overflow of water from partially graded streets. The claim was referred to the street committee.

A communication was received from Contractor Norton asking the village to audit his accounts and settle its obligations to him in order that outstanding orders might be paid and his bondsmen relieved from responsibility in the matter. This was referred to the village attorney.

A communication from property owners on First avenue east in regard to extension of said street was referred to the street committee. A petition from residents in Dodge's addition asking for a temporary sidewalk was referred to the same committee.

A notice was received from Village Engineer Krey that there had been a mistake in the contract work for the improvement of First street, Onota, by which an excess of $3,200.50 had been paid. Trustee Dent then made a motion that Engineer Krey be suspended from his duties until the matter could be properly investigated. The motion precipitated a lively discussion and was finally lost by the following vote: Yeas—Dent, Olafson, Kauppi and Olson; nays—Hall, French, Matthews, Peterson, President Martin. A motion was then made and carried that a committee be appointed to investigate the matter. The president named as the committee Councilmen Matthews, Peterson and Olson.

Trustee Olafson made a motion that the payment of all outstanding orders issued to contractors be suspended until further notice. He desired to have the accounts with the contractors looked up and checked before more money was paid out of the village treasury. Trustee Dent supported the motion, saying that one mistake had been found and the committee was on the trail of another one and there was no telling how many more would be unearthed. The motion was carried.

Recorder Bengtson, who had been instructed to ascertain if payment had ever been made by the village for the span across the St. Paul & Duluth tracks at Stephen street, reported that no record could be found of such payment. The claim was referred to the village attorney for further investigation. The report of the village treasurer, showing assessment rolls for Third street, Onota, was accepted and placed on file. A petition from the chief of police asking for necessary supplies was referred to the committee on supplies. The recorder was instructed to draw an order on the treasury for $125.75 in favor of the Grassy Point Land company, in accordance with the judgment rendered against the village. The claim of H. P. Smith for retaining walls was rejected. Plans and specifications for certain sewers were presented by the engineer and referred to the committee on sewers.

The engineer was instructed to report on the cost of an underground crossing of the St. Paul & Duluth tracks on Second street south. The bids for the furnishing of a patrol wagon were referred back to the committee on supplies with power to act. The question of the improvement of Grand avenue through Hunter & Markell's Grassy Point addition was referred back to the street committee to ascertain if the property had been legally condemned. The claim of J. McCormick for a retaining wall was referred to the village attorney for settlement. An ordinance granting privileges and right of way to the Missabe & Northern, across certain streets and alleys was passed. An ordinance giving authority to the Missabe & Northern to lay pipes for the purpose of furnishing hydraulic power to factories on the bay front was referred to the committee on ordinances.

A resolution was passed instructing the treasurer to refuse the payment of an order for $200 issued to Mr. Hellerstedt for personal injuries until he had settled with Mr. Jensen for his attorney's fees. The bond of Murphy & Knight for village printing was accepted. Also the bond of Julius Peterson as scavenger. Liquor licenses were granted to F. D. Lemieux, Thomas Doyle and the firm of Kraehenbuerg & Hall.

The question of officers' salaries was taken up again and settled. But few changes were made from those of the past year and the list remains about the same. The members who made the last meeting so interesting by agitating a reduction of salaries, secured in the interim to have changed their views, and there was almost entire unanimity on the subject.

ACCIDENTS ON THE MESABA.

Two Men Badly Crushed by a Fall of Frozen Dirt.

MOUNTAIN ROCK, Minn., April 18.—[Special to The Herald.]—On Saturday evening while preparing to put in another blast at Iron Junction a piece of frozen dirt weighing about three tons fell down and pinned W. D. Sweetman of West Superior and Charles Carlson to a flat car, breaking Sweetman's left arm and his right collar bone and bruising his abdomen and legs. The extent of Carlson's injuries is a broken breast bone and a bruised back. The injured men were working for the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road, getting out gravel for the company. Sweetman was night watchman and had just gone to work.

As soon as the accident happened H. W. Cushman, who has charge of the work, got out an engine and brought the men here on a special train. Dr. A. C. Lewis set the bones and the men are resting comfortably now but will be taken to the hospital at Duluth as soon as possible. Considering the nature of the accident it is very fortunate that it was not more serious. It took eight men half an hour to relieve them. The engineer had just received the signal to go ahead when he happened to look back and saw what had happened, otherwise they would have been ground to pieces. Street committees are both doing well and will be out shortly.

Thomas Murphy, while chopping ties about three miles south of here, met with a painful accident. His ax slipped and struck one of his feet, nearly cutting that member in two. He will also be taken to Duluth.

William Scanden, better known here and at Duluth as "Paddy the Pig," will call on Sheriff Sharvy shortly to make a short visit and get the whisky out of him in the meantime. Paddy will be accompanied on his trip by Marshal Al Freck.

Rear-Admiral A. E. K. Benham.

Rear-Admiral A. E. K. Benham, one of the three commanding officers in the Columbian navy review, is the fourth ranking officer of the U. S. navy, and was appointed to the service in 1847, from the state of New York.

His earliest services were in the East Indies and in the home squadron. He returned to the navy academy for final examination, and was graduated and promoted to passed midshipman in 1853. From that date until the beginning of the civil war, Benham served in the Pacific, on the coast survey, and in the memorable Farragut expedition. During the war he was again promoted, and from that time on, until he reached his present rank of rear-admiral, when he was ordered to the command of the South American station.

Circumstances have prevented his reaching the limits of his station, as he was ordered to Europe in connection with the Spanish Columbian celebration, upon the completion of which he was engaged in the Mediterranean. His last duty was to tow the caravels from Spain to Havana, which has been successfully performed.

Out of his forty-six years' service, he has been twenty-two years at sea, eighteen years on shore duty, and five and a half years on leave or unemployed. Benham is very popular, and there is no duty wherein he would be asked to leave where volunteers would not throng. Every man that has ever served with him is anxious to enter his service again.

"What is it, my darling?" he said, reaching into the next room for a chair and drawing her gently to him.

"Alas William, dear," she sobbed, "although our love runs for a year yet, I fear we shall have to leave on the flat."

"But why?" he enquired.

"The landlord has not been saying anything to my little peach blossom, has he?"

"Oh, no," she murmured, tapping the ceiling impatiently with her tiny slippered toe, "that William, dear, where am I going to put my new crinoline?"—Clock Review.

Jumping a Burle.

It is probable that no other important ceremony has been performed in so great a variety of ways as the marriage service. Every country and every sect has its own particular form, not to mention the widely differing formulas employed by civilians authorized to marry couples.

A well known justice of the peace in a western state when embarrassed is apt to stammer badly. He therefore patiently carries a copy of the marriage service, so that he may always have it on hand in case of emergency.

On one occasion, however, he was unexpectedly called upon while spending the day in a town some distance from his home. Adjusting his spectacles, he felt first in one pocket and then in another for his invaluable little book.

His search was in vain, and at last, with beads of perspiration standing out on his forehead, he exclaimed:

"No m-matter. I hereby do-de-declare you m-mau and w-wive accor-ding to the m-memorandum left in m-my o-o-t-r-s-trousers p-pocket!"

It is doubtful whether the bride and groom considered this a mark of ceremony, but they made the best of it.—Youth's Companion.

Enough of It.

A few years ago was first introduced into the house of an old man in a small Lancashire village. For several days all went right, and the old man was delighted with the change.

His joy, however, was destined to be short, for one evening the gas refused to burn in its usual steady manner. In vain he tried various remedies suggested by his neighbors, and at last, angry and tired with his unsuccessful efforts, he went to the gas office and stated his grievance to the attendant.

"Well," said the manager, "I will send a man up who will soon put it right for you."

"You can do as you like," replied the old man, "but after your box (the meter) is empty 'twill be no more."—London Dispatch.

The miner, the freshly arrived immigrant, the tiller of the virgin soil newly robbed of its forests by the ax of the pioneer, find in the superb and fertile specific a preserver against the poisonous miasma which in vast districts rich in natural resources, is yet fertile in disease. It annihilates disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, fortifies those who use it against rheumatic ailments, bred and fostered by outdoor exposure; infuses general warmth into a frame chilled by a rigorous temperature, and robs of their power to harm morning and evening mists and vapors laden with harmfulness; strengthens the weak and conquers incipient kidney trouble.

World's Fair Visitors.

An intending visitor to the coming World's fair at Chicago need have no fear as to the possibility of securing satisfactory accommodations, at reasonable rates, at either the many hotels or residences listed in a neat pamphlet entitled, "Homes for Visitors at the World's Fair," compiled at great expense and published by a trustworthy Chicago firm. This book contains a list of about 6000 private families who will accommodate visitors in Chicago during the time of the fair, viz: May 1st to October 30th; gives their names and addresses, and number of rooms each will have to spare.

The book also gives a list of the hotels and their locations; has twelve full-page, large-scale maps, each representing a section of the city, so that with this information before him the intending visitor himself can, at leisure, select the quarter of the city in which he would prefer to stop, corresponding in advance with one or more families in that locality with regard to rates and the accommodations desired.

The Wisconsin Central lines will in due time publish low excursion rates to Chicago and return for this occasion, while its double daily passenger train service, including through sleeping and dining cars to Chicago, will as usual be at the head of the list in every particular.

INDIAN BATHS.

The Red Men's Knowledge of the Laws of Health.

"Turkish" and "Russian" Bath of Civilization Known to the Indians—How They Do It.—A Lesson From Nature which the Wise will Heed—Kickapoo Indian Sagwa a Grand Remedy.

INDIANS TAKE VAPOR BATHS.

In this way an Indian takes a "Turkish" or a "Russian" bath. They dig a hole in the earth, and they lay over it a skin of a bear or a buffalo, and they heat the stones to a red heat; they then throw the stones into the hole, and they sit over them, and they breathe the vapor of the stones. They are then raised thoroughly by steam. They are then raised thoroughly by steam. They are then raised thoroughly by steam.

Who can teach the Indians anything about health? His own physique answers for his superior knowledge.

His preparations of roots, herbs and oils, now given to the world for the first time in the Kickapoo Indian Remedies are unequalled by any discoveries of the medical world of the whites.

When you feel twinges of pain in your joints, look out, a slight cold might develop on Rheumatic Fever. If you have pains in your back or sides your liver is congested or your kidneys are not performing their work and poison is gathering in your body.

Exposure to cold or contagious diseases would be fatal to you.

Pimples, blotches, and other humors indicate that the poison is working in your blood. You feel languid, heavy dull, you awake in the morning unrefreshed. Beware! Drive these symptoms away at once!

Take Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. It will cleanse your system, heal your diseased organs, purify and enrich the blood, and drive every taint of poison from your body. Then you will feel strong, bright, alert and active as the Indian does.

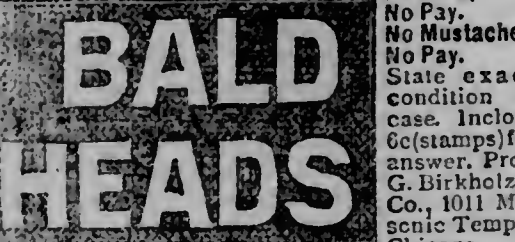

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is composed of nature's remedies, gathered and prepared by nature's discoverers, and upon their knowledge for their cures, but upon the leaves of the flowers, and upon the herbs that are placed in the earth by an all-wise Providence for the benefit of every living creature.

Why look at the animal? If your horse lacks his accustomed vigor you are taught to turn him out to pasture. You do so. The horse gets well.

Why? Because there grows in every field the tender leaves of some medicinal plant which by itself builds the animal to eat and does for the poor old horse precisely what some other, or perhaps the same plant will do for a human being. Restores the wasted energies! Renewes the lost strength! Restores the drooping spirits!

FOUR WERE REJECTED

E. R. Jefferson, A. C. Barlow, B. C. Rude and Carl Neumann Turned Down by the Council.

Alderman Myers Made a Speech Saying that the Council Does Not Want All Democrats.

Thirteen Bids Received for the Purchase of the City Bonds—Meter Inspection Ordinance Introduced.

With fiendish gleed last evening, the city fathers chewed up most of Mayor d'Autremont's appointments and spat them out on the floor. The cruel test was also thrust into several of the appointments made by Alderman Smith. Today Nils Nilsson and Alex. McGregor are yet their own successors, while the assessor's office is worrying along with half a crew.

Early in the evening a sort of holy calm, as it were, settled down on the scene when Alderman Cox, as chairman, presented the report of the committee on public officers and officers, recommending that the appointments of E. R. Jefferson, A. C. Barlow, B. C. Rude and Carl Neumann be rejected. The committee also recommended that the assessor's office be reorganized.

First came Alderman Cox's resolution that the appointment of A. M. Cox and Morris Thomas to succeed themselves on the board of health be confirmed. All voted aye but Alderman Thomas who uttered a gruff "no." Cox winked at Thomas and informed the council that he wanted to change his vote. Alderman Hugo changed his, as also did several others. That caused the ballot to stand to 7. Another call was ordered and Alderman Cox getting scared over the seriousness of the movement he had started, voted aye and himself and Thomas were saved by a vote of 5 to 6.

The wheels made a few more turns and the assistant deputy assessors, one in each ward, were confirmed. Then it commenced to snow and even hail a little. Alderman Thomas moved that the resolution that B. S. Rude be not confirmed as assessor's clerk be amended so as to read in the affirmative. Alderman Wilson volunteered a second. Then Alderman Thomas proceeded to argue his amendment, vigorously applying large sections of his remarks to Alderman Cox and winding up by challenging that gentleman to give some reason why he thus trumped upon the mayor's appointments.

Alderman Cox said that there were men in Duluth capable of holding that position and that he for one did not favor going to Florida for a boy who was posted on methods of assessment only so far as they applied to orange groves. In this land which raises wild crabs and mortgages, the assessor's office in the Fifth ward said he favored a full grown man who was posted on the peculiarities of the locality and who was not appointed to pay some political debt. The amendment was lost, being supported only by Alderman Thomas and Wilson. The appointment of Carl A. Neuman for deputy assessor went through a similar process and was vigorously rejected by the vote of 12 to 2.

E. R. Jefferson next met his third political Bull. Run within the last three months. Alderman Thomas argued for his confirmation. He stated that he was a republican and an old soldier; he possessed of plenty of leisure and enough of this world's goods to attend to the duties of the office; was a gentleman of experience and ability and in winding up Mr. Thomas said that he considered it the best possible appointment that could have been made and as such should be confirmed. The regular amendment was made by Alderman Thomas and Wilson and President Spencer raised a slight flutter by voting with them, as he did on the rest of the appointments, making the vote stand 11 to 3. To cut a long and somewhat uninteresting story short, Jefferson was turned down.

The case of Albert C. Barlow went through the same rigmarole as those that went before. Ald. Thomas made another speech stating that Mr. Barlow was highly competent, being a civil engineer and man of experience, just what the board needed. He again challenged Alderman Cox to give some reason for his refusal to confirm. This brought Alderman Myers to his feet and he exclaimed with much fire and earnestness: "I can answer the gentleman if I may be permitted. As a new member of this council, I came in with an idea of a business administration. We appointed, after a struggle, Mr. Greene as city attorney—a rabid Democrat. Then we named Mr. Crasswell as assistant attorney. He is also a rabid Democrat. Next Dr. Coffe was reappointed health officer. He is a pronounced Democrat. Now comes the mayor and flouts a red flag in our faces. Twelve of us are Republicans and he wants nothing but Democrats appointed and confirmed by us. We don't propose to do it."

As Mr. Myers sat down loud applause was given him by the crowd that packed the space outside the railing, despite President Spencer's loud rappings for order. Barlow was thrown overboard to the tune of 11 to 3.

The bids for the $200,000 funding, 4 1/2 per cent, thirty year demands, were opened and found to be as follows: W. J. Hayes & Sons, Cleveland, $200,000; N. W. Harris & Co., Chicago, $200,705; E. H. Hollins & Sons, Boston, $209,020; Lamprecht Bros. & Co., Cleveland, $211,300; Spence, Trask & Co., Boston, $202,083.52; Blair & Co., New York, $206,560; American Loan and Trust company, Duluth, $204,585.55; Farson, Leach & Co., Chicago and New York, $202,075.00; Third National Bank of Boston, $204,555.55; Blake Bros. & Co., $208,620; R. A resolution was passed allowing the city clerk to employ an assistant at a salary not to exceed $75 per month. The resolution by Alderman Cox requesting the mayor to certify to the names and position of each member of the police force was passed after much objection from Alderman Thomas. Alderman Wilson voting with the majority.

An ordinance creating the office of meter inspector was introduced. It provides that such an officer shall be appointed by the council as soon as possible and that he shall hold his place until March 1, 1895; that twice a year a test shall be made of all meters and that all water, gas or electrical meters sealed shall subject the owner to a fee of 50 cents. The ordinance also provides for a meter recorder.

Alderman Hugo presented an ordinance requiring all owners of dogs to keep them muzzled when running loose, between June 15 and Sept. 15. The resolution authorizing remodeling of the city hall, the drawing of the plans by Trapiague & Fitzpatrick and the advertising for bids at an early date as possible, was upon motion of Alderman Hugo, referred to the finance committee to see if the city is in a position to stand the expense.

The Herald and News Tribune presented bids for the city printing for the coming year, each offering to do the work at legal rates, also a bid from the Commonwealth. The bids were referred to the auditing and finance committee.

NO ACTION TAKEN.

Meeting of the Superior Board of Trade Regarding Inspection.

The Superior board of trade held a meeting yesterday to consider the question of discharging the Minnesota inspectors but no action was taken. A petition was received from a number of Superior people asking the board to request the Governor of Minnesota to withdraw the inspectors and weighers.

The committee to whom the petition was referred consisted of E. E. Barlow, H. E. Ticknor and C. J. McCollum. Messrs. Barton and McCollum reported in favor of not making any change at present, while Mr. Ticknor made a minority report to the effect that some action ought to be taken if it was ever expected to make a success of the board.

G. C. Larman was present and when called upon said: "I think it would be best to leave this matter of inspection to those interested and who have their money invested. I think we are able to manage our own business the best. I do not want to have the state called in to take care of my business for I can take care of it myself. As for that petition, if that was sent to Governor Peck all I would have to do would be to write him the facts in the case and I do not think he would pay any attention to it."

A. A. Freeman said that the scales at his mill were not balanced until the weighing was completed. He said that the Minnesota people and that the inspector of the Superior board of trade was not a good one. It was decided after a heated discussion to postpone action until their next meeting, two weeks from yesterday.

The Stockholders Agree.
The stockholders of the Hartman General Electric company met yesterday and decided the arrangement made for the consolidation with the West Duluth electric lighting plant. The officers were authorized to carry out the agreement. The consolidation will probably go into effect May 1.

No Ferry Charge at Chicago.
In some manner the erroneous impression has been circulated that passengers to the World's fair on the Ossifrage will be compelled to pay for ferryage for being carried to the Lake pier. On the contrary, it costs the Transit company to cents a person to land there, and no charge is made by them for such service. Reservations are coming in rapidly and there is every prospect that more applications will be filed than can be accommodated. Mr. Engle distinguished himself by saying that there shall be no crowding, extra cots or additional beds permitted.

AMUSEMENTS.

Jane Coombs in "Black House."
To one who has read Charles Dickens' famous work "Black House," the dramatization given at the Temple last evening by Jane Coombs and her company was very disappointing. The great story is but imperfectly brought out and its true character and intention cannot be seen. It is questionable whether this or any other of Dickens' works could be dramatized so as to bring out their particular beauty and purpose. Certainly the version of "Black House" rapidly by Miss Coombs is not much to say. She is an actress of simply ordinary ability. Her voice is not pleasing and she has a fashion of dropping it at the end of sentences which is not consistent with good reading. In the character of Hortense she was better than the Lady Dedlock but failed at times to adhere to the French diction in which she was supposed to speak. The company is poor. Henry Mitchell as Tullington and Charles Krone as Krook were best but were not equal to what the characters they assumed demanded. The others of the company were poor.

Clarence Eddy's Recital.
Tonight Clarence Eddy, the great Chicago organist, will be heard at the First M. E. church, and the magnificent new organ will thrill under the hand of a master.

Evening Journal says of him: "Guilman's 'Scherzo Symphonique' fairly sparked and danced under Mr. Eddy's fingers, which made light of its terrible difficulty as if it were nothing. His style of playing is certainly unique, with him the organ is not the noisy and monotonous instrument which many organs make it, marred by the rattling of the pedals, nor is it the vehicle of somniferous music, but a more or less study. When Mr. Eddy plays, the pipes of the great instrument seem to breathe forth beauty and one's ears are regaled with the works of the masters who have made it their special study. His feet slip over the pedals with the same noiseless rapidity as his fingers do over the keys; only music is heard."

Mr. Eddy will be assisted by George E. Knowles, basson; Miss Louisa Brown, soprano; and Miss Lucy Cullyford, alto.

"Galatea" at the Temple.
Next Friday the Boston Ideal Comic Opera company will sing "Galatea" at the Temple. Of Miss Inez McCusker, the prima donna, the Bradford, Penn., Era says:

"The Boston Ideal Comic Opera company appeared at the Wagner Opera house last evening in 'Galatea' a musical and humorous production that pleased the audience immensely. It is the story of Pygmalion and Galatea set to music and culminated in a grand comedy. Miss Inez McCusker assumed the title role and looked, acted and sang the part in a charming manner. There is a magnetism about this lady's presence that always captures the good will of her audience and retains it."

He Wants a Commission.
A Stillwater dispatch says: Ex-Postmaster John McCarthy has been made the defendant in a suit brought against him by Timothy G. Vaughn, of Duluth, who demands $2400 as commission on the sale of 100 acres of land. Papers were filed in the district court yesterday and the case will probably be tried at the spring term of court, beginning on the second Tuesday in May.

Engel-Larson Marriage.
Last evening the marriage of Miss Jane Larson and Emil Engel was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Larson, 1322 East Fourth street, Rev. H. L. McMurray, officiating. Misses Lucy Peterson and Rose Reinart were bridesmaids and Messrs. George N. Poirier and Charles F. Speed were groomsmen. The bridal couple left for a southern trip and after a month will be at home at Fifth street and Tenth avenue east.

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell, by their feelings, when to expect an attack. If Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, they can ward off the disease. Such persons should always keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy in their homes, ready for immediate use when needed. Two or three doses of it at the right time will save them much suffering. For sale by druggists.

NOTICE.

Of Application for an Order Confirming Assessment for Grading and Otherwise Improving Eighth Avenue East.

Office of the Board of Public Works, 1 City of Duluth, Minn., April 14th, 1893. Notice is hereby given that the board of public works of the city of Duluth, St. Louis county, state of Minnesota, has completed its assessment roll amounting to the sum of thirty-three thousand nine-hundred and eleven ($33,911) cents upon the real estate to be by grading and otherwise improving Eighth avenue east, in said city from Superior street to the Boulevard, in proportion to the benefits, for the purpose of raising money to be used in defraying the expense thereof; and that the board of public works of said city of Duluth will, on the 20th day of April, A. D. 1893, at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, receive applications to the district court in and for St. Louis county, Minnesota, at a special term of said court, to be held at the court house in said city of Duluth, at said time, for an order of said court confirming said assessment roll, at which time and place parties interested in said assessment may appear and make objections to the same; all objections should be made in writing.

Said assessment affects all pieces or parcels of land situated in said city and mentioned or referred to in the following descriptions, viz: Lots 10 to 22 inclusive in block 11; the west half of block 12; all of block 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 110, 111, 112, 113, 114, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 120, 121, 122, 123, 124, 125, 126, 127, 128, 129, 130, 131, 132, 133, 134, 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 140, 141, 142, 143, 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, 156, 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, 164, 165, 166, 167, 168, 169, 170, 171, 172, 173, 174, 175, 176, 177, 178, 179, 180, 181, 182, 183, 184, 185, 186, 187, 188, 189, 190, 191, 192, 193, 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, 199, 200, 201, 202, 203, 204, 205, 206, 207, 208, 209, 210, 211, 212, 213, 214, 215, 216, 217, 218, 219, 220, 221, 222, 223, 224, 225, 226, 227, 228, 229, 230, 231, 232, 233, 234, 235, 236, 237, 238, 239, 240, 241, 242, 243, 244, 245, 246, 247, 248, 249, 250, 251, 252, 253, 254, 255, 256, 257, 258, 259, 260, 261, 262, 263, 264, 265, 266, 267, 268, 269, 270, 271, 272, 273, 274, 275, 276, 277, 278, 279, 280, 281, 282, 283, 284, 285, 286, 287, 288, 289, 290, 291, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 297, 298, 299, 300, 301, 302, 303, 304, 305, 306, 307, 308, 309, 310, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 316, 317, 318, 319, 320, 321, 322, 323, 324, 325, 326, 327, 328, 329, 330, 331, 332, 333, 334, 335, 336, 337, 338, 339, 340, 341, 342, 343, 344, 345, 346, 347, 348, 349, 350, 351, 352, 353, 354, 355, 356, 357, 358, 359, 360, 361, 362, 363, 364, 365, 366, 367, 368, 369, 370, 371, 372, 373, 374, 375, 376, 377, 378, 379, 380, 381, 382, 383, 384, 385, 386, 387, 388, 389, 390, 391, 392, 393, 394, 395, 396, 397, 398, 399, 400, 401, 402, 403, 404, 405, 406, 407, 408, 409, 410, 411, 412, 413, 414, 415, 416, 417, 418, 419, 420, 421, 422, 423, 424, 425, 426, 427, 428, 429, 430, 431, 432, 433, 434, 435, 436, 437, 438, 439, 440, 441, 442, 443, 444, 445, 446, 447, 448, 449, 450, 451, 452, 453, 454, 455, 456, 457, 458, 459, 460, 461, 462, 463, 464, 465, 466, 467, 468, 469, 470, 471, 472, 473, 474, 475, 476, 477, 478, 479, 480, 481, 482, 483, 484, 485, 486, 487, 488, 489, 490, 491, 492, 493, 494, 495, 496, 497, 498, 499, 500, 501, 502, 503, 504, 505, 506, 507, 508, 509, 5

A CANAL FOR DULUTH.

A Great Scheme that Looks Feasible to Provide Water-Power Manufactories in Duluth.

Will Also Result in Hastening the Settlement of the Interior Part of St. Louis County.

Canal Will Run from the St. Louis River Near Cloquet to Top of Eighteenth Avenue West.

"Who is Henry Curtiss Spaulding?" This was a popular query yesterday, and for the most part it remained unanswered, because few people in Duluth appeared to have ever heard of the president of the newly organized Minnesota Canal company, which proposes to furnish a direct and deep waterway from Duluth to Minneapolis and St. Paul. Reporters sought in vain for Mr. Spaulding yesterday morning, and it was late in the afternoon when he was finally run to earth by the persistent news seekers. Then they found a new obstacle in their way. Mr. Spaulding was reticent about his plans, not caring to go into details at the present time. But he was willing to give a general idea of the great scheme that he proposes to carry out with the assistance, he says, of ample capital.

Mr. Spaulding is an elderly man of fine appearance, with gray hair and a beard that is a strong rival to Col. Gridley's hirsute appendage in its volume and breeziness. For fifty years past, he has been in the engineering business, mostly in New York state and New England, and he has devoted much time and study to the question of waterways. Canals are his hobby, and when he talks of constructing canals to make a deep waterway from Duluth to St. Paul he means what he says.

years past and have not taken our present action without being sure of our ground. We have no need of additional legislation, as there are existing laws under which we can work. I have had a survey party out for the past four weeks in this vicinity, and we are ready to begin operations at an early date. It is our intention to complete fifty miles of waterway this year.

Mr. Spaulding is not disposed to give at present the exact route of the canal, but it was learned that it will extend from a point on the St. Louis river, near Cloquet, in a northeasterly direction to Duluth, terminating at the top of the hill near Eighteenth avenue west, and that its minimum depth will be twenty feet. The St. Louis river is to be improved above Cloquet and made navigable to a point where the distance from that river to the Mississippi is about one and a half miles. It is the intention to cut a canal three miles and then improve the Mississippi, so that a clear waterway to St. Paul can be obtained. Mr. Spaulding has a scheme for greatly increasing the water power now utilized at Minneapolis and for increasing the stage of water between that city and St. Paul, so that the river will be made navigable without blasting or dredging. But that is a matter in the future. The Duluth end will be the first scene of operations.

There is one important feature of the scheme which those Duluth people who oppose the idea of a canal to the Twin Cities, for fear it would benefit them at the expense of Duluth, must not overlook. The canal will not be connected directly with Lake Superior. It will terminate on the top of the hill back of Duluth and hence all the cargoes on the canal boats would have to be transferred here to the lake vessels and vice versa, similar to the transfer now made at Buffalo.

The company has another project on foot which is associated with its main purpose, and that is to furnish water power for manufacturing purposes at various points along its route. It will seek to furnish this power to Duluth, and the following ordinance authorizing the company to lay pipes, etc., for that purpose was presented to the common council last evening.

Section 1. There is hereby granted to the Minnesota Canal company, its successors and assigns, permission and authority to lay pipes for the purpose of conducting water in any of the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys and public grounds of said city within a district therein described as follows, viz: All that part of said city lying west of Third avenue east, except laying and enclosing its mains on the surface of any portion of any avenue wherein the steepness of the declivity shall be such as to be impracticable for ordinary traffic.

Said company shall at all times protect, defend and save harmless the city of Duluth from any and all damages, from any and all actions at law by persons or property being injured by the improper or negligent manner of using said streets for the conveyance of said water.

Section 4. In computing the time herein within which it is provided any act shall be done by said canal company in pursuance of the provisions of this ordinance, there shall not be included any portion thereof during which said canal company may be lawfully enjoined or restrained in order of any court, prevented from prosecuting its work.

Section 5. Within fifteen days after the publication of this ordinance, said Minnesota Canal company shall file in the office of the clerk of the city of Duluth its written acceptance of the provisions of this ordinance, if said company desires to avail itself of the benefits thereof; and unless such acceptance is filed the provisions herein shall not be binding upon said city of Duluth, and the rights herein granted shall be deemed to be forfeited.

This is a large scheme but it appears feasible. Mr. Spaulding calculates that from the top of the hill at Eighteenth avenue west to the bay front he will secure a fall of 503 feet and this will give 300,000 horse power, sufficient to supply all the power required by the present mills, elevators and factories and for those that may be erected for many years to come.

Arrested for Murder. DUNQUE, Ia., April 18.—L. W. Healy and Hugh Robbard were brought in from Greeley, Ia., this morning, and are believed to be the murderers of Officers Fritz and Talcott, who were shot by tramps last Friday morning. When questioned, the prisoners made contradictory statements of their whereabouts at the time the shooting took place. The authorities are confident they have the right parties.

Is a Desperado. NEW YORK, April 18.—The Press special from Rutland, Vt., says: Frank C. Almy, the murderer of Christie Watson, has confessed to his lawyer that he is Geo. H. Abbott, the desperado.

VAN HEEST AND SMITH.

They Were the Winners of the Fights at Coney Island.

CONEY ISLAND, N. Y., April 18.—A large and enthusiastic crowd of people visited Coney Island last night to see the two fights scheduled to take place before the Coney Island Athletic club.

The first event of the evening was a bout of ten rounds between Johnny Van Heest, of Chicago, and Denny Russell, of Bridgeport, Conn., for a purse of $1000. Van Heest won in the third round, Russell being clearly outclassed.

The card of the evening was the fight for the welter-weight championship of the world and a purse of $5000. The contestants of this fight were Billy Smith, of Boston, and Tom Williams, of Australia. It lasted less than two rounds, the men fighting like two wild beasts and slugging away with right and left without any regard to science. Williams was finally knocked out by a right-hander on the jaw in 2 mins. 55 secs.

A CHOLERA EPIDEMIC. New York Physicians Consider That is not Probable.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The World thus summarizes a four-column article on the subject of the likelihood of a cholera epidemic this summer:

The World has gathered opinions of the leading physicians of New York and the health officials on the probabilities of a cholera epidemic this summer. On the whole a careful review of what these medical experts say leads to the conclusion that a cholera epidemic is not probable.

There is an almost unanimous belief that we will have some cases of cholera during the summer. The doctors, however, point out very clearly in the interviews which follow the reasons why these sporadic cases are not likely to become epidemic.

Carter is Now Mayor. CHICAGO, April 18.—Mayor Carter H. Harrison was inaugurated last night for the fifth time in the council chamber.

The following are the names of Mayor Harrison's cabinet, as given to the council: Oscar D. Wetzel, comptroller; Hiram Jones, commissioner of public works; Adolph Kraus, corporation counsel; Dr. A. R. Reynolds, commissioner of health; Robert E. Burke, city seal; Frank N. Badger, Jr., city collector; William C. Asy, city prosecutor; Henry F. Donovan, gas inspector; Dennis J. Sweeney, fire marshal.

The Raging Red. MOOREHEAD, Minn., April 18.—The Red river has risen to twenty-six feet eight inches and is still rising. The water is now six feet from the Northern Pacific bridge. Lower portions of the town are flooded and the prairie east and south is entirely covered and Buffalo river is overflowing.

Paper Mills Burned. SPRINGFIELD, O., April 18.—The Enon paper mills at Enon station, Ohio, eight miles west of Springfield, were burned to the ground last night. The mills are owned by the Columbian Paper Mill company of New York. A conservative estimate of the loss places it at $100,000; insurance small.

Ducky Diamond Tar Soap The Soap for Cuts, Wounds and Bruises

Why? Why is Strictly Pure White Lead the best paint? Because it will last all other paints, give a handsomer finish, better protection to the wood, and the first cost will be less.

If Barytes and other adulterants of white lead are "just as good" as Strictly Pure White Lead, why are all the adulterated white leads always branded Pure, or

"Strictly Pure White Lead?"

This Barytes is a heavy white powder (ground stone), having the appearance of white lead, worthless as a paint, costing only about a cent a pound, and is only used to cheapen the mixture. What shoddy is to cloth, Barytes is to paint. Be careful to use only old and standard brands of white lead.

"Southern" "Red Seal" "Collier" "Shipman" are strictly pure. "Old Dutch" process brands, established by a lifetime of use. For colors use National Lead Co.'s Pure White Lead Tinting Colors with Strictly Pure White Lead.

THE ISLAND SHAKEN.

Incessant Earthquake Shocks in Zante and the People Were Afraid of Being Swallowed Up.

Ground Swung Back and Forth Like a Pendulum and People Thrown to the Earth.

There are Now Only Two Hundred Houses Remaining that are Fit to Live In.

ATHENS, April 18.—Incessant earthquake shocks were felt at Zante through last night. The island shook continuously and the panic-stricken people were in dread of the ground opening and swallowing them. The condition of the sick and aged is pitiable. The heavy shock yesterday morning that caused such devastation in the island lasted for twenty-five seconds.

The motion of the earth was from the east to the west and the ground swung back and forth like a slow moving pendulum. Many people who were on the streets were thrown violently to the ground. It is estimated that there are only 200 houses remaining that are fit to live in; many of the structures standing are in momentary danger of falling down. They will have to be pulled down.

M. Dragoumis, minister of foreign affairs, has arrived at Zante and is doing everything in his power to alleviate the distress. So many calamities falling in such rapid succession have caused the people to become discouraged, and many of them already threaten to leave the island and seek homes elsewhere. A steamer that was going from Zante to Patras at the time of the shock, reports that the sea was greatly agitated. The water appeared to be boiling, then it suddenly receded and as suddenly sought its usual level. Those on the steamer thought that she was about to be swallowed up, but she came through without damage.

AMERICAN RAILWAY UNION.
A New Federation of Railway Employees Has Been Formed.

CHICAGO, April 18.—The American Railway union is now a full-fledged institution. The officers of the new federation were elected yesterday. They are: President, Eugene W. Debs; vice president, George W. Howard; secretary, S. Kellier; board of directors, E. W. Debs, George W. Howard, L. W. Rogers, W. S. Messinger, S. Kellier, Henry Walton, W. H. Sebring, J. A. Clark, F. W. Atchison.

The organizers, who have been in session since last Tuesday, adjourned last night. They will meet in Chicago May 23 to complete the constitution and by-laws of the order. After that they will meet in this city June 20 and will hold a mass meeting in Central Music hall. The nine directors will then enter the field as organizers. Their headquarters will be located in Chicago. The organizers left for their homes last night.

IT WAS BADLY DAMAGED.
The Hohenzollern Palace on Fire and Great Loss Caused.

BERLIN, April 18.—A fire started last night in the eastern wing of the Hohenzollern palace at Sigmaringen and did an immense amount of damage before the flames were extinguished. The palace stands on a rock rising abruptly from the Danube, and it was extremely difficult to get sufficient water to the high altitude of the palace. The fire burned throughout the night and that part of the structure which the fire-tomb was completely gutted. The palace contained a great number of priceless works of art and many of these were destroyed.

Wiped Out by Fire.
CASSVILLE, Mo., April 18.—Fire discovered here at 1 o'clock this morning burned every business house in the town, two banks and two local newspapers. Loss $200,000; total insurance not over $300,000. There is great suffering among the citizens. Cassville is the county seat of Barry county. The origin of the fire is unknown.

A Hotel Burned.
CLARE, Mich., April 18.—The Exchange, the oldest hotel in the city, was destroyed by fire last night at 9 o'clock. So quickly did the flames shoot through the building that it was with difficulty the sleeping inmates were rescued. Orva Alger and William Lonsdale were seriously burned about the head, face and body. Loss $5,000.

A Strike Ended.
HAMBURG, April 18.—The striking firemen and coal trimmers in this city decided at a meeting last night to end the strike and return to work. The vote on the question stood 173 in favor of returning to 159 against.

Hanged Himself.
ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 18.—Charles W. Heitzberg, manager of the St. Louis Dressed Beef and Provision company, committed suicide this morning by hanging himself in the slaughter house at the company's place of business. The cause of the act was despondency.

"Hal—Hal—Harvest!"
A great man once said in speaking of a remarkably fertile spot, "If you tickle it with a hoe, it laughs with a harvest." This saying is indeed true of North Galveston, for the fruit growing lands of this region yield in response to cultivation which is more than a hundredfold the arduous toil of farmers in northern climes. Immense crops of pears, plums, figs, strawberries, etc., etc., are raised. These "tripples of merriment" on the part of the rich soil are perennial crops—were never known to fail.

The fortunate fruit growers laugh, too, at their good fortunes; manufacturers who are profiting by the splendid resources and shipping facilities, investors who see their dollars multiply and investors who have found health in this mild and equable climate join in the merry making; and it is with a laughing, happy, prosperous community, if you are interested in North Galveston.

CHARGED WITH ARSON.

Tom McDonald Arrested for Firing the Armour Warehouse.

Tom McDonald was arrested this morning on a charge of arson. He is alleged to have set fire to the Armour packing company's warehouse, which was damaged by fire on Sunday morning. He is charged with setting fire to it at 4 o'clock in the morning, and the complaint is made by Ed F. Richards.

McDonald was arraigned in the municipal court this afternoon, and his examination was set for Thursday afternoon.

W. T. ROHRBACH RESIGNS.
He Will be Purser on the Jay Gould This Summer.

W. T. Rohrbach, senior deputy clerk of the district court, has resigned and Frank R. Miller has been temporarily appointed to fill the vacancy for the balance of the present term. Mr. Rohrbach leaves his present position on account of his wife's health, which is much affected at present, and needs a more southern climate to perfectly restore her. The good-natured chief deputy has been appointed purser on the steamer Jay Gould of the Lake Michigan and Lake Superior Transportation company and leaves tonight for Chicago where he will at once enter upon his new duties. He has a multitude of friends in Duluth who are very sorry to see him leave the city he has been so long identified with. He was practicing up on all of his nautical songs this morning and when last heard from was humming somewhat out of tune: "When the strong winds do blow, I generally go below, etc."

AN APRIL FOOL JOKE.
How the Composer Rossini Was Taken by a Sweet Note.

A very good April fool story has been told to the expense of the eminent composer, Rossini, when he was resident at Milan and already famous. On the morning of a certain 1st of April he received the following pleasing note: "A lady who has come from Rome to Milan especially to make the acquaintance of the maestro whose melodies envelope the globe and carry his fame into all parts of it will await you this evening at La Scala, in box No. 9 of the first tier, to tell you viva vops what she dare not intrust to paper." Now, this great man was really inordinately concerned where the fair sex were concerned. Therefore he was simply tickled to death with this effusion—noticing the delicate handwriting, the subtle perfume and the imposing crest, all betokening some dame of high degree. "One more conquest," he softly murmured.

While indulging in tender reveries, the tenor, David, noted for his "caustic humor as well as his fine voice, dropped in upon him. In the course of conversation he remarked: "Have you heard the news? The wife of the ambassador of France has arrived in town."

"Is she pretty?" inquired Rossini languidly.

"Adorable, and she happens to be wild about your music. Her first thought was to secure a box for tonight."

The maestro woke up. "For tonight?" he asked eagerly.

"Yes," replied David. "I was at the theater when the servant came. He engaged a box in the first tier."

"Do you know the number of the box?"

"No, I think."

Rossini nearly swooned with joy after David's departure. When evening arrived, he made the most elaborate toilet, soaked himself with perfumes and had his hair curled till he was well nigh irresistible, and then sallied forth on easy terms, and on reaching La Scala he soon gained an entrance into box No. 9, but found it empty.

"Ah, a trifle early," he said to himself. "Sweet people never arrive on time." He lingered anxiously through the first and second acts, and the conclusion of the third found him fretting and fuming like a caged animal. The door was slightly opened at this juncture and a note thrown in by an attendant.

It read as follows:

My Dear Maestro: The ambassador of France has charged the undersigned with her excuse. It is impossible for her to come to the opera tonight for three reasons. First, she has not left home; secondly, she will probably never come to Milan, because, thirdly, and lastly, she doesn't exist. (French ambassador has been a widower for three years.)

Accept, incomparable maestro, the assurance of the profound esteem of the undersigned. Always your devoted admirer.

"Fool that I am!" growled poor Rossini. A little later he encountered David in the wings, evidently in contortions of mirth.

"Well," remarked his malicious friend, "found you the trick well played?"

The composer of "Il Barbiere" never forgot the 1st of April after that—Ex change.

No Use In Delay.
Judge William Lindsay, the new senator from Kentucky, is a man full of resources. On one occasion he had a bad case and was roundly abusing the opposite party to the suit. Finally he said something specially offensive, when the party approached him, and whispering in his ear said: "I will give you just five minutes to retract that remark. If you don't do it, I will kill you." The last words were hissed in his ear. "Well," said Judge Lindsay, smiling, "what do I want to wait five minutes for? I will take it back right now."—New York World.

BIG DROP IN COFFEE.

A Fall of Over Two Hundred Points in Three Days Resulting in a Heavy Failure.

Prices Made a Further Drop on Account of the Failure and Its Extent Not Known.

The Wheat Markets Were Quiet and Lower Today, the Cliche Selling Freely at Chicago.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The announcement of the failure of Thomas M. Barr & Co., of 107 Front street, coffee brokers, was made on the coffee exchange shortly after noon today. With the announcement prices went off considerably and it is not known how far the failure may reach. Barr & Co. acted as brokers for George Kattenbach, the big European plunger, whose "corner" in coffee collapsed a few days ago.

The liabilities are as yet unknown. The coffee trade generally is suffering from the big drop of over 200 points, which has taken place within the last three days. The firm carries contracts to the extent of 80,000 bags on the New York coffee exchange. It also carries cotton contracts on the cotton exchange.

The liabilities are very large, but the amount cannot be learned until after the close of the exchange.

The house was considered very strong. The business of the firm was established by Thomas T. Barr, father of the head of the present firm many years ago, but he retired about three or four years ago to accept the presidency of the National City bank of Brooklyn, which he still holds. He is not a special partner in the firm. Thomas M. Barr says the cause of his failure is that his call for money from European customers was not responded to.

WHEAT WAS LOWER TODAY.
Business Was Quiet, With Fairly Active Trading in July.

Wheat opened here this morning 1/2c down from last night's closing prices for both cash and futures, and ruled slowly but very firm and steady, with fair sales of wheat to arrive and slow business in round lots for May delivery, and better and more active transactions in July.

The clearances at the four Atlantic ports equalled 322,000 bu. of wheat. Prime reported that in Southwestern Kansas the wheat is thin and spotted and growing very slowly, and the yield will be one-half that of last year. Late sown wheat is better. The weather in Missouri is dry and cold and farmers are planting a great deal of wheat. The financial condition in New York was considered serious and the market was quiet but firm and the close was at practically the opening prices.

The following were the closing prices: No. 1 hard, cash, 65 1/2c; No. 2 hard, cash, 65 1/4c; No. 1 northern, cash, 65 1/2c; No. 2 northern, cash, 65 1/4c; No. 1 soft, cash, 65 1/2c; No. 2 soft, cash, 65 1/4c; THE DISTRICT COURT

The Jury in the Case of Neal, Morse & Co.
vs. Frankie A. Breeze Found for the Defendant.

The Damage Suit of David Ogilvie vs. Otto Erickson is on Trial Before Judge Lewis.

Erickson is Charged With Not Telling the Grand Jury the Whole Truth—Other Court Business.

In the district court before Judge Lewis
yesterday afternoon the jury in the case of Neal, Morse & Co. vs. Frankie A.
Breeze et al. retired with the officer and were out just four minutes when they returned with a verdict for the defendant.
A stay of sixty days was granted. In the case of William Poirier vs. Chas. A.
Beattie this morning a continuance was granted by stipulation after the jury had been drawn and two witnesses testified for the plaintiff.

The case of David A. Ogilvie vs. Otto Erickson is now on trial. This is a suit in which the plaintiff claims damages amounting to $7500. The complaint charges that Otto Erickson, in testifying before the grand jury last year only told a portion of the transaction between himself and the plaintiff, and that by this concealing of facts the grand jury were led to believe that a crime had been committed. The future dismissal of the indictment by the county attorney was shown as the plaintiff's testimony showed how his extensive loan and real estate business was seriously damaged
by the said indictment, and the publish-ings of the proceedings in the daily papers of Duluth, St. Paul, Minneapolis and elsewhere. The case is still on trial.

Before Judge Ensign in room 1 of the district court the case of the St. Paul & Duluth Railway company vs. J. G. and
A. L. Howard is on trial. Yesterday the jury in the case of J. B. Douglas vs. the North Star Construction company found a verdict of $500 for the plaintiff. The jury in the case of C. d'Autremont vs. O.
L. Young returned a verdict of $797.73
on motion of the defendant. The case of Marion Bros. vs. John Owens et al. was stricken from the calendar on the ground of no appearance. The case of O. C.
Traphagen et al. vs. John G. Howard was dismissed on motion of the plaintiff.
The case of Grant Wyatt vs. D. K. Pearson was continued by consent.

THE MUNICIPAL COURT.

Several Drunks Fined While Others Deny Their Guilt—Sunday Dealers Fined.

In police court this morning Walter Leonard was assessed $10 and costs for drunkenness. Amiel Anders was charged with the same offense but pleaded not guilty, whereupon his trial was set for the afternoon session. William McGinty, a local descendant of the famous Dan McGinty was fined $10 and costs for imbibing too much fermented pumpkin juice.

John Johnson denied that he had been drunk, having taken only two glasses of beer all day yesterday. He is the fellow who plowed his face through the street
mud yesterday when he and a companion were tipped over in their carriage as the result of fast driving on Superior street. Johnson expressed the opinion that it was unfair to haul him up and compel him to put up bail when he had taken only two glasses of frothy beer.
His trial was set for the afternoon session. James Kelly's trial on the charge of vagrancy was set for the same time.

Simon Cohen and H. Jorufsky each paid a fine of $3, and cost for selling Bob Denison a pair of socks on the Sabbath day. Cohen asked if the law by which he was fined, was state or municipal and then asked "why don't they keep the saloons closed Sunday day also?" Complaint had been made against a clerk in another store, but he skipped to West Superior and avoided
an appearance before the magistrate.
Yesterday afternoon, Albert Kettleson and Thomas Roach were committed to the county jail five days each on the charge of vagrancy. Burns and Ernest Kehlb, charged with assaulting one named Knickerbocker with a broomstick, appeared and paid costs, after which, at the request of the complainant and the motion of the city attorney the case was dropped.

Clerk of Court Filings.

In Clerk Sinclair's office the following
matters of legal interest were filed lately: Summons and complaint in H. O. Jackson vs. Theophilus Naufrs. Complaint alleges an unpaid promissory note of $150
and suits to recover.

Qualification of Joseph Griffith as street commissioner for the village of Mountain Iron.

Satisfaction of execution against Joseph G. Heim for $23.25 by the sheriff of Chisago county.

A notice of motion to amend the complaint by the defendant in H. W. Wheeler vs. Chas. B. Atwater.

Colin Campbell, of Canada, was granted
first citizenship papers, also John A.
Ledingham, of England.

Michael Sweeney, of Ireland, was granted full citizenship papers.

Marriage licenses have been issued to Emil Engle and Jarda Larson, John R.
Gillis and Jane McDougall.

Competitive Examination of West Point Aspirants in Progress Today.

The competitive examination for admission to West Point is in progress today at the Central high school. The following contestants are taking the examination in arithmetic, grammar,
geography and United States history:
Arthur Knauff, Eugene Holston, Frank
Magnius, William Smith, Scott Cash,
Percy L. Cole, Harry Carroll and George
Norris. All of those named are residents of Duluth, the other quarters of this congressional district not being represented. The judges will decide upon the one whom they will recommend before leaving the building after the examination this evening.

VISITED THE MINE.

Cincinnati Stockholders Seem to Think More of the Mine Than Ever.

The party of Cincinnati stockholders who visited the mine yesterday returned in the evening. An unfortunate accident occurred at the mine. Mr. S. Stokely fell from a plank in one of the shafts and struck on a pile of ore about ten feet below. He was badly hurt and was unconscious for half an hour. It is not believed that his injuries will be serious but he was too badly bruised to be moved and was left at the mine.

The visit did not have the effect of lessening the value of the mine in the eyes of the stockholders who were rather seeming to have been convinced that the Cincinnati property is a good one. One of the stockholders said today that in his opinion no idea of the cost of mining ore there had as yet been obtained. He claimed that so far as he could see the only ore removed so far had been in development work, opening up shafts and running out galleries and that the company is just about ready to begin actual mining.

AN ATTRACTIVE BOOK.

Northern Pacific Issues a Pamphlet, "Six Thousand Miles Through Wonderland."

The Northern Pacific railroad's passenger department has just issued an attractive publication, bearing the captivating title of "Six Thousand Miles Through Wonderland." Typographi-cally it is the acme of all the numerous publications of the road, while artistically it is a perfect gem. From a literary point the book is a success and the off-told story of the Custer fight in the valley of the Little Big Horn is dressed in a vivid word painting, together with some deductions by the author, Olin D.
Wheeler, which make the recital both new and interesting. There is not a time card in the book, and the pictures are both novel and attractive. Page 9 is given up to a fine bird's-eye view of Duluth and Superior and the accompanying descriptive matter pays
a glowing tribute to the present state and future possibilities of the Zenith City. Page 29 contains two fine panel pictures of McDougall's wharves backed with a corner medallion of one of the old type of lake steamers. There is a grand picture of Mount Tacoma, of which the book remarks:

"Touched by a light that bath no name,
A glory never sung,
Along an ark and mountains fall
The God's great pictures hang."

Only five copies of the book have as yet been received in Duluth, but it is presumed that a supply will be forthcoming
before long.

WILL SOON CLOSE DOWN.

The Incline Will Take a Vacation to Allow
New Machinery to be Put In.

The agreement with the E. P. Allis company made by the Duluth street railway calls for the closing of the Seventh avenue incline road on Friday, April 21, at which time the work of placing the new machinery is to be commenced. It is estimated it will take thirty days to make the alterations and improvements.
As it will take a number of days to transport the heavy machinery to the power house on the hill top it is quite probable that the Pavilion may be opened for another concert on Sunday next. It may be decided this week to plank one of the incline tracks over, so that dwellers on the hill may have an easy walk up to the city, as the matter was discussed yesterday. But this is not at all certain.

HE IS PLEASED.

Mayor d'Autremont is Satisfied With the Bids
For City Bonds.

The representative of Lamprich Bros., of Cleveland, O., the firm that made the bid of $211,300 for the city bonds last evening, is busy today settling up with the finance committee. Mayor d'Autremont was extremely well pleased this morning over the figure at which the bonds were taken. He considered it an unusually good one, and stated that nothing is such a good indication of the financial condition and standing of a city as the figure at which its securities sell in the open market. Money is tight, too, just now, he said, being fully a cent higher than a short time ago, being affected by the heavy and continuous exportation of gold to foreign countries.

New Equipment Here.

A part of the Northern Pacific's new short line equipment has been received.
The coaches will be put into service tomorrow and are very fine specimens of rolling stock. The outside is painted the standard color and the interiors are finished in natural woods and ruby plush.
There are lavatories and toilet rooms,
all of which are nicely finished. Conductor Whittle will take the first newly equipped train out in the morning.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

A Government Inspector Will Soon Be Here to Arrange for Channel Lighting.

The chamber of commerce directors met this morning. A communication from Maj. Baldwin was read saying that the chief of the lighthouse board had assured him that every effort would be made to get the channel lighted in a few days. Maj. Baldwin said that he had notified the lighthouse inspector of this district by telegram to proceed to Duluth as early as possible.

As it was not possible to be stated that Maj. Sears this morning received a letter from Maj. Adams, lighthouse engineer of this district, saying that he and inspector Reed had expected to be in Duluth on Saturday to arrange for the channel lighting but had concluded not to come until the ice is out and asking the request is a puzzle.

A communication from the committee of the Duluth Stock exchange to secure new quarters was received asking if an arrangement could not be made under which the stock exchange could use the chamber room for its sessions. The matter was discussed but the directors thought that the used the exchange would make of the room would be almost exclusive and declined to make any proposition.

A subscription of $150 to the profile map fund was made. In addition to this the chamber has expended considerable effort in gathering data and furnishing maps and in giving the time of Secretary Thompson to it for several weeks.

The News Tribune made a proposition to the chamber to take a certain number of its annual recently published but as the chamber's funds for advertising purposes are limited and as considerable is needed for World's fair matter, the offer was declined.

To Gain Government Consent.

Several members of the city council called on Maj. Sears yesterday to inquire as to the steps necessary to be taken to gain the consent of the government to the tunneling of the ship canal.
He advised them to write to the war department and send with the communication copies of the plans. The whole will be submitted to Maj. Sears and by him forwarded with his recommendation.

Employing Barbers Meet.

The employing barbers of Duluth held a meeting last evening at the "White Front" shop, in the Beckman block.
There was no business transacted beyond a friendly talk as to the scale of wages, the general learning being toward a $16 rate with a commission of one-half of all the journeymen make over $32. The journeymen barbers will meet tonight to discuss the proposed salary change and a rather lively time is expected.

Will Leave Early.

The Northern Steamship company's steamers will commence their season's trips April 25, at which time the Northern Queen will leave for Buffalo for this port. On the same date another vessel, probably the Northern Light, will leave Cleveland for Duluth. The fleet will endeavor to make a season's record of twenty round trips between Buffalo and Duluth.

Duluth Clothing House Exclusively Owned and Controlled by Duluth Men.

ESTABLISHED 1881.

Store Closed Every Evening Except Mondays and Saturdays.

The Suits were not made especially for show—nevertheless our window display is an index to the inside. You'll find duplicates in many cases in hundred lots. There's a peculiar feature about our display. We always attach the price. We do this having no fear of being undersold. We make the market price.

The clothing of 10,000 boys means that we're not only right in kind. We must be right in price. Its astonishing to see the beauty in little boys' suits—$3.00 to $5.00. Bright, nobby, stylish, double breasted—refer Boys' Suits, braided and corded, as low as $3.50. We have it to be very low price for a good suit. Look at a half dozen or more tables filled—$5, $6.50, $7 and $8.

Beauty does not consist entirely in a pretty dress—oh, no; the fit, the tailor's art and twist is a part of it. It's astonishing the quantity of good cloth ruined because the fit and trimming are not what they should be. The season is just opening and it's the same old story—larger business than a corresponding time last year. The old store grows and grows every year.

Another thing worthy of your notice: Every season shows a higher mark in finer, still finer goods. Our Men's Clothing, as an entire stock, is the finest we've had. Do you know about our Hats, Shoes and Men's Furnishings?

Look the city over—every store. If there are any goods of as good quality you'd rather have than ours, for the price paid, bring back those you have bought from us and have your money refunded. Our clothing bears the closest inspection—the cloth, as well as making and trimming.

You know our rule governing sale of shoes. Wear 'em a month. If they are not good bring 'em back. Fair, isn't it? If we know it there'll be no poor shoes sold in the old store.

Remember, we make Suits to measure if you desire. We've good stock of goods and selling freely. Popular prices.

MAY BE RUINED

A Lansing, Mich., Millionaire Who Did Not Owe a Dollar Yesterday Likely to go Broke.

He Has Sacrificed His Personal Means in an Effort to Hold up Two Big Firms.

O. M. Barnes Pledged His Fortune to Save the Credit and Business Honor of His Son.

Iron Works and a Lumber Company Failed, One Bank Closed its Doors and Another Shaky.

LANSING, Mich., April 19.—A millionaire who yesterday did not owe a dollar in the world is today likely to go broke. This is the paradox in financing which Lansing presents this morning.

The representatives of the commercial agencies, lawyers and others, who have swarmed into the city in consequence of the embarrassment of the Lansing Iron and Engine works and the Lansing Lumber company, describe the situation as one of the most remarkable which has ever come under their observation.

Since Jan. 10, O. M. Barnes has been sacrificing his personal means in an effort to hold up the two big firms which financial disaster has at last overtaken. Up to yesterday he had paid from his private means obligations incurred by the two corporations aggregating nearly $125,000, and yesterday he pledged the balance of his private fortune for the payment of further liabilities exceeding over $700,000, taking in return the mortgage covering all the property of the two firms. Mr. Barnes took the action he did to save the credit and the business honor of his son, O. F. Barnes, president of both the iron works and the lumber company.

Lansing banking and business circles have never been so rudely shaken in the town's history. Yesterday morning the two firms' largest holders being the Central Michigan Savings bank, $200,000, and the Ingham County Savings bank, $81,500. The closing of the Central Michigan Savings bank yesterday afternoon was caused by the lack of confidence resulting when it became known that the institution was weighed down with $200,000 of the insolvent companies' obligations.

Bank directors and leading business men were holding secret conferences in various portions of the town last night, the directorate of the Ingham County Savings bank continuing its session until midnight. There were 100 people outside the Ingham County bank when it opened this morning. Commercial depositors were promptly paid, but the legal three months notice was required on savings deposits.

President Humphrey announced confidently that the bank would be able to meet all obligations, but the crowd was uneasy and anxious. About 10 o'clock Bank Commissioner Sherwood made a speech to the crowd in front of the Ingham County bank and quite a number retired reassured, but there was no perceptible decrease in the withdrawal of deposits. Every effort is being made to restore confidence, but there is a panicky feeling throughout the city. Everyone attributes the trouble to the poor business methods of O. F. Barnes.

Young Barnes is also president of the Lansing Wheel works. The reason for the run on the Ingham County bank was explained by Bank Commissioner Sherwood in his speech to the assembled depositors this morning. Last Saturday night the vice president of the bank, Dr. J. S. Moffett, withdrew all his money from the bank and took it over to the City National bank. This fact was soon noised about and it was thought that the official had lost confidence in the bank something must be wrong.

Mr. Sherwood denounced Dr. Moffett for what he called cowardice and assured the depositors that the bank was sound and that not a dollar would be lost. Later in the day Dr. Moffett resigned the vice presidency of the bank.

O. F. Barnes is blamed for bringing financial ruin upon his father. Twelve years ago the young man acquired an old iron working plant here and organized the Lansing Iron and Engine works, making himself the president of the corporation. The concern manufactured engines of large size, boilers, municipal waterworks plants, etc.

The business required ability of the most superior order for its successful management in which young Mr. Barnes was deficient. Instead of confining himself to this one branch he proceeded to spread out until his operations attained an almost Napoleonic scale.

Six years ago he organized the Lansing Lumber company. The firm besides dealing largely in lumber at wholesale and retail runs a large and costly wood-working plant in this city. Then he put in a stock of mill supplies in connection with the business of the iron works and also engaged in the manufacture of pumps and windmills. Both these departments have passed to others under a reorganization.

LUMBER COMPANY'S FAILURE.

It Caused a Run on a Bank and its Suspension.

LANSING, Mich., April 19.—The Lansing Iron and Engine works yesterday afternoon executed to Orlando M. Barnes mortgages upon all their property, both real and personal, to secure their paper, of which he is a large indorser. All the assets of the two concerns, aggregating $1,800,000, are placed in his hands. It is said the liabilities will not exceed more than half that sum.

At 3 o'clock State Banking Commissioner Sherwood took charge of the Central Michigan Savings bank of this city. There had been a quiet run on the bank all day, owing to the uneasy feeling occasioned by the embarrassment of the Lansing Lumber company and the Lansing Iron and Engine works. A statement of the bank's condition has not yet been made public.

On account of a run on it this morning, the Ingham County Savings bank, of this city, has closed its doors for ninety days to savings depositors under a provision of its charter and the state law entitling it to that time.

ON A PLEASANT JAUNT.

Senators Will Visit California at the Nation's Expense.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—Senator Ransom, chairman of the committee on commerce, has designated Senators Ransom, Vest, White of Louisiana, Culom and Washburn as the sub-committee to go to California to make the proposed investigation looking to a settlement of the deep water harbor question, which has been a vexed problem in the senate for several years.

It has been decided that the start shall be made from New York, May 5. The committee expects to be gone about five weeks. Senator Culom will join the party at Chicago. For years there has been a demand for a deep water harbor on the southern coast of California, but there has been a very aggravating contest between San Pedro and Santa Monica.

Under the resolution, the committee is authorized to visit such other works on the Pacific coast existing or proposed, which the interests of commerce shall demand. The most important of these, next to the one already mentioned, is perhaps the proposed canal from Lake Washington to Puget sound, which will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000,000.

The appropriation set aside for this committee is only $700,000 and if the money holds out it is likely that this proposed work will be investigated before the committee returns from the coast.

THE WORKINGMEN WIN.

Universal Suffrage Granted in Belgium and Peace Restored.

BRUSSELS, April 19.—Yesterday's vote in the chamber of deputies, reversing the former action of that body and granting universal suffrage practically as demanded by the workingmen, has completely allayed the agitation among the industrial population. The strikers here, at Antwerp and other places, generally, are at this morning and no further trouble is apprehended.

Later yesterday afternoon the chamber of representatives reassembled and by a vote of 120 to 100, adopted universal suffrage, with a provision for plural voting by the classes owning property, according to the amount and situation of the property.

Cheers within the chamber were followed by prodigious acclamation from the enormous crowd outside. The greatest enthusiasm was displayed everywhere and the people joined in a jubilee in honor of the great triumph.

AN IMPORTANT RULING.

The Kansas Attorney General Rules on an Insurance Question.

TOPEKA, Kas., April 19.—A ruling was made today by the attorney general which is of great importance to foreign insurance companies. It is to the effect that the superintendent of insurance has the power to compel them to submit to the jurisdiction of the court of this state in litigating their losses, and may revoke and annul their authority to do business in this state for removing or attempting to remove actions commenced against them in the state courts to the federal courts, when such attempted removal is intended to delay the trial of the case.

Billiardist (Rudolph) Dead.

NEW YORK, April 19.—News reached this city yesterday from Paris of the death of A. P. Rudolph, the French billiardist, who died in Paris on April 4. Rudolph's real name was Peyraud and he was about 58 years of age. He had been all along the greatest going exhibition as a fancy player. He was once champion of America, having won the diamond cue from John Deery, the champion.

Voted by the Governor.

MILWAUKEE, April 19.—Governor La Follette sent to the state senate an official communication vetoing the bill allowing the Wisconsin Water company the right to lay pipes across the Industrial park in Waukesha. The veto was unanimously sustained by the senate. This is a substantial victory for the village of Waukesha. The matter is now entirely in the hands of the supreme court.

They All Escaped.

SHANON, Pa., April 19.—Water from the old Fiddler Green workings broke into the Luke Fiddler colliery at 8 o'clock this morning. A number of men escaped after thrilling experiences. Superintendent Williams announces that it has been ascertained that all the men escaped from the inundated slope. The damage to the mine is not serious.

Minister Risley Ill.

NEW YORK, April 19.—John E. Risley, recent appointed minister to Denmark, has been ill at his apartments in this city for the past two weeks. The grip, combined with overwork in settling up his business affairs before leaving to take charge of his foreign mission, caused his prostration.

Mosher Arrested Again.

OMAHA, Neb., April 19.—C. W. Mosher, the wrecker of the Capitol National bank of Lincoln, is under arrest again at Omaha upon the second indictment.

Lynching in Arkansas.

CONWAY, Ark., April 19.—Flannagan Thornton, slayer of Charles Pate, constable of Howard township, Conway county, was lynched this morning at Morrilton, Ark.

Four Men Drowned.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 19.—The sloop Elida, silk laden, foundered off Cape Flattery Monday night in a heavy gale. It is reported that four lives were lost.

HIT BY CYCLONE

One of the Worst Cyclones That Ever Visited Kansas Struck Osage City Yesterday Afternoon.

Within a Short Time Forty Buildings Had Been Wrecked and Several Lives Were Lost.

There Were Also About Twenty Persons Seriously Injured, Many of Whom Will Probably Die.

A Terrific Hail Storm Occurred at Osawatomie, Kas., and Many Houses Were Damaged.

OSAGE CITY, April 19.—About 4:30 yesterday afternoon one of the worst cyclones which ever visited Kansas struck this city, and in a short time forty buildings had been wrecked and several lives lost. About twenty persons were seriously injured, many of whom will probably die.

The part of the city which was devastated lies on the south side of the tracks on the Santa Fe, and comprises both business and residence buildings. The names of the victims as far known are:

Dead: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Waggoner, colored. Injured: Joseph Bacon, colored, ribs broken; two children of Eli Connor, heads and arms injured; C. Williams, back hurt; J. H. Hickard, hip hurt; Mrs. Hickard, arm broken; Miss Hickard, head hurt; Mrs. Minnie Mahey, arm broken; Mrs. A. Gardner, badly bruised; child of Nels Nelson, seriously hurt; child of N. R. Larson, badly scalded; Evan Morgan, Nels Nelson, Emilie Georgia, Mrs. Simon, hurt in head; child of John Swanson, scalp cut and generally bruised.

Fully 100 houses, barns and stores in the suburbs were completely demolished. Telegraph and telephone lines are all down, and the streets are lined with debris. The loss is estimated at $50,000.

Osawatomie, Kas., was also in the path of the cyclone, a terrific hail storm occurring at 6 p. m. Houses were flooded from the torrents of rain, windows broken and several barns and small buildings blown down.

FLOOD AT RED LAKE FALLS.

The Ice Went Out Clear Water River, Destroying a Bridge.

RED LAKE FALLS, Minn., April 19.—The ice went out of Clear Water river yesterday taking out the Great Northern railway bridge. The ice is jammed at the junction of the Red Lake and Clear Water rivers, and the river is overflowing.

Houses near the river are vacated. One thousand cords of wood are floating down the river. Two dams are in danger. The ice in Red Lake river is solid. If this goes out soon, all dams and all bridges will be in danger. Telegraph wires on the Great Northern are down. The ice is piled fifteen feet high.

A WHOLE FAMILY CREMATED.

A Man, His Wife and Two Children Burned to Death.

CAMBRIDGE, Minn., April 19.—The house of Dan Erickson, of Bradford, was burned yesterday with the household effects and the man, his wife and two children were cremated alive. Two of his neighbors had spent part of the day with Erickson and the three drank liberally of liquor. It is supposed that while attempting to light his pipe in a drunken condition he dropped some fire and was unable to quench the flames. The remainder of the family were sleeping up stairs.

IRON MOUNTAIN WRECK.

A Conductor, Two Trainmen and Three Passengers Injured.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 19.—Passenger train No. 65, southbound on the Iron Mountain road, which left here at 8:30 last night, was wrecked near Victoria, thirty-nine miles south of here.

Conductor Gates, two trainmen and three passengers were badly injured. No names of the injured passengers have been learned. The train consisted of three coaches, two sleepers, baggage and express car and was entirely derailed. Relief trains were sent from De Soto and this city and the passengers were transferred and sent forward this morning.

A Bismarck Dead.

BERLIN, April 19.—Count Bismarck-Schierstein, head of the noble family to which Prince Bismarck belongs, died yesterday. The deceased was born in 1800 and was a cousin of Prince Bismarck. He began his career in the Prussian diplomatic service, but after his marriage he entered the service of the duke of Nassau.

Fatal Mine Explosion.

LEADVILLE, Colo., April 19.—An explosion occurred in the Rusch-Ivanhoe mine yesterday morning in which four men were killed and four injured. The identified dead are George Young, Collins E. Rolly and E. P. McGovern.

Dry Goods Failure.

RICHMOND, Ind., April 19.—William E. Billinger, dry goods merchant, went to the wall yesterday. His liabilities in Chicago, Cincinnati and New York are about $15,000 and in Richmond banks $20,000. His father was on his bank paper and he gave mortgages to secure it. The stock will be sold for the benefit of the creditors. He claims $35,000 assets.

MAY NOT BECOME LAW.

Some Prospect of the Anti-Scalper Bill Failing After All.

ST. PAUL, April 19.—There appears to be some doubt about the governor of the state approving the anti-scalper bill. Since passing the senate it has been hanging up in the office of the attorney general, who has examined it as to constitutional objections. Monday Mr. Howard, of Hennepin, appeared before the attorney general and argued against the bill. Since then no action has been taken. The bill may be defeated by the governor refusing to sign it.

A CAPITALIST MISSING.

CHICAGO, April 19.—Lyman L. Lamb, a wealthy capitalist of Akron, O., who has been in the city about month, has been missing since Monday under very peculiar circumstances.

On the morning of that day he gave into the hands of Jacob Newman, a lawyer in the Chamber of Commerce building with whom he was negotiating a heavy real estate deal, a satchel containing $28,000 to care for him, while he stepped across the street into a restaurant for something to eat.

Mr. Lamb has not been seen since and the money still remains in the possession of Mr. Newman. Detectives have been detailed to work on the case.

Killed by a Live Wire.

DENVER, Col., April 19.—L. D. Reithman, an old and wealthy real estate dealer of this city, was killed this morning at Fifteenth and Lawrence streets by an electric shock on the roof of a building where he had gone to shovel off snow. The accident was caused by his coming in contact with an electric light wire.

Death at Seattle.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 19.—Bailey Gatzert, one of the best known and wealthiest men in the Northwest and ex-mayor of Seattle, died this morning, aged 64 years.

Mrs. C. R. Kimball Departed the City Yesterday Leaving Some Unpaid Debts.

The woman known as the wife of Charles R. Kimball, the ticket broker, left Duluth yesterday and her alleged destination was West Superior, but it is said her real stopping place is Chicago. The circumstances attending her going away bear the stamp of a well prepared plan to elude the payment of a number of bills owing to different trades people about the city and elsewhere. Early yesterday morning the major portion of the best household goods were taken down to the Omaha freight yards and loaded into 2740 and were billed to W. M. Brayton at Chicago.

The first intimation the public had of the intended departure was yesterday morning when Col. Tom Whittaker was out for his stroll which he always takes before breakfast. In passing by 30 Fourth avenue west, just a little while after daylight, he saw the furniture vans at the door of Mrs. Kimball's residence and upon inquiry of one of the drivers, found the goods were going out of the city. Col. Whittaker's quick eye discerned among the furniture some things which had once been the property of himself and wife, for he went home and told Mrs. Whittaker, who immediately got up, dressed and went to the Kimball residence where Mr. Kimball told her that his larger hall had gone to West Superior and wouldn't be back until 4 o'clock. It appears that the Kimballs owe Mrs. Whittaker a balance of $35,000 on a set of furniture and it was this that Mrs. W. was after.

A hurried inquiry developed the fact that Mrs. Kimball had left behind her a number of unpaid bills, a number of them for jewelry, dry goods and furniture. Among the jewelers known to be losers are Andrew Jackson, J. H. Isham, Holt Brothers, and it is believed that two other houses have small accounts. Holt Brothers at Holt Brothers is $140. The dry goods houses are sufferers to a greater or less degree both Silberstein & Bondy and I. Freimuth admitting the existence of their claims against the absent lady. Bloedel & Eberling, the furniture men on Lake avenue north and other dealers in furniture are "in" for quite an amount. Schunemann & Evans of St. Paul are also creditors.

There are several ugly rumors about some mortgages being in existence on the property shipped, but at present this is neither verified nor believed. It is hoped the whole affair will be straightened out in some creditable manner, but at present it is said the heaviest assets in the late residence of Mrs. Kimball are a parrot, a hired girl and a few articles of kitchen furniture.

THE COLUMBIAN OPENING.

M. S. Burrows & Co. Making Great Preparations for Tomorrow.

Tomorrow M. S. Burrows & Co. hold their great Columbian opening of spring and summer styles. Today all is bustle, hurry and preparation at the Great Eastern. Innumerable flags are displayed from the gas jets and various other portions of the interior. Facing the door as one enters, suspended high above the clothing tables, is an oil painting of Columbus, of heroic size and after the Lotta portrait, the same as is followed on the Columbian half dollars. The window-dressers are busily engaged in placing the decorations in the magnificent show windows, and tonight the floral decorations of which there has been secured a profusion, will be received and put in place.

One feature of the opening will be the exhibition of a diminutive Shetland pony, with cart and harness. This outfit, pony and all, will be given away in the children's department by a guessing contest as to the correct weight of the beast. The day will fittingly close with the grand ball at the Pavilion, tendered the employees of the Great Eastern and their friends by the members of the firm.

ASKING FOR A BRIBE

This is the Offense for Which Representative Markham Has Been Indicted in Hennepin County.

Two Separate Counts, Akeley and Glass Being Named as Having Been Approached by Markham.

Mr. Markham Was Not Worried and Said That He Courted a Full Legal Investigation.

ST. PAUL, April 19.—Representative Markham, of Aitkin, was arraigned in the Hennepin district court yesterday afternoon on the grand jury's indictment. There are two counts in the indictment, both charging him with asking for a bribe for his vote for the Wyman log scaling bill. He is charged with asking H. C. Akeley for $200 on January 28, and with asking L. E. Glass for the same amount on the same day. He was given until a week from today to plead, and his bail was fixed at $300 in each case. His attorney is F. A. Merrill, of Aitkin. There was considerable stir in the court when Mr. Markham and a number of his friends appeared. The legislator had agreed to be on hand sufficiently early in the afternoon to avoid arrest. Pending the securing of bondsmen Mr. Markham was placed in the custody of the sheriff, but soon secured bondsmen and was released. His bondsmen are Thomas R. Foley and Fred W. Bowman, of Minneapolis. The trial will be set early in May. Mr. Markham was not worried over the affair, and said he courted a legal investigation.

Disinfection of Coffee.
WASHINGTON, April 19.—A protest has been entered at the treasury department by agents of the consignees against the decision of Surgeon Gen. Wyman to have coffee shipped from Genoa to the United States disinfected by smoking it with sulphur. The coffee in question consists of 1000 bags and came originally from Aden, Africa. It is alleged that cholera is expected to have existed in Aden. On the other hand, it is asserted that coffee smoked in the fumes of sulphur is unsalable and unfit for use.

An A. P. Victory.
PEORIA, Ill., April 19.—The city election yesterday resulted in the success of the entire Republican ticket by majorities ranging from 200 to 3000, the latter figure being the majority for Philo B. Miles for mayor. The election was a rest of the political strength of the A. P. A., which organization supported the Republican candidate.

Duluth & Winnipeg Branch.
LA PRAIRIE, April 19.—The Duluth & Winnipeg railroad yesterday morning started out its chief engineer and a large corps of assistants for the purpose of surveying a line of railroad from La Prairie to the Buckeye mine, in the west end of the Mesaba range, and from this mine to the Duluth mine. The distance to the Buckeye mine is four miles, and the distance between the two mines is fifteen miles.

New Steamship Line.
NEW YORK, April 19.—A new steamship line, under the direction of the North German Lloyd company, has been started and the first steamer of the service will arrive here in a few days. The project has in view the more perfect handling of emigrants and freight, and no cabin passengers will be carried. Two steamers will be operated at first and they will ply only between here and Bremen.

Chilean Cabinet Resigned.
NEW YORK, April 19.—The Herald's cable from Valparaiso says: President Montt has formally accepted the resignation of the members of his cabinet. Senator Errazuriz has accepted the task of forming a new ministry and hopes to complete his work by tomorrow.

A Millionaire's Death.
NEW YORK, April 19.—John Laffert, of Flatbush, L. I., millionaire and member of banking and trust institutions, died suddenly while out driving last night of heart disease, aged 67.

A REVOLUTIONARY ROMANCE.

An Assassin Disguised as a Beggar is Foiled.

PANAMA, Colombia, April 19.—Gen. Varca, a notorious Peruvian, has been here for the last two weeks. It is believed his mission was to assassinate ex-President Pirola, of Peru, who is staying in Panama directing a movement from here to cause a revolution in Peru and restore him to the presidency. Gen. Varca, disguised as a beggar, visited Pirola and told him his mission was to assist him in returning him to his own country. Pirola told him he knew his mission was to assassinate him, but he did not fear him. He dared Varca and the men who had sent him on his mission to do the worst.

Varca wept at this charge and declared that Pirola wronged him. The latter, however, said that he knew him well and that he was a hypocrite. He also knew that this was not his first mission of this nature. Two others of equally notorious character were also here from Peru on the same mission.

Varca was closely watched day and night by detectives while here. Realizing that his mission would be a failure, he yesterday embarked on a vessel bound for Peru. Pirola is closely watched by detectives.

THE STRIKE ON THE SANTA FE.

A Kansas Sheriff Denied the Company's Request for Protection.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 19.—Supt. Roberbach, of the Santa Fe, visited Sheriff Pattison, of Wyandotte county, Kan., yesterday, and made a formal demand for a force of deputies to protect the company's property at Argentine.

The sheriff flatly refused to comply with the request, saying that the deputies would not be forthcoming until he thought protection necessary. The strikers believe that Mr. Roberbach has a force of non-union men ready to ship in as soon as protection is secured and are much incensed.

The company's yards are guarded, but last evening a crowd of strikers gained entrance and made things very warm for the non-union workmen quartered in sleeping cars in the yards. At one time yesterday, switchmen, firemen and engineers decided not to go out except as a last resort.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LEADER.

He is a Bigamist. Eight Women Claiming Him as Husband.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 19.—Letters received here from John Hoskin, a Methodist minister at Christ Church, New Zealand, state that the world-renowned apostle of Christian Science faith, A. Bently Worthington, is located in New Zealand and has drawn together hundreds of believers in the faith.

They have converted all their funds into a general treasury and are building educational and religious institutions to the value of over $200,000. The letter also states that Worthington is living with Mrs. Plunkett, who was formerly editor of the International Magazine of Christian Science in New York. It will be remembered that the couple mysteriously disappeared nearly four years ago, since which time nothing has been heard of them. Worthington has a record as a bigamist, no less than eight different women claiming him as a husband.

DENIED SATOLLI'S AUTHORITY.

The Case of Father Tracy Is on Trial in New Jersey.

TRENTON, N. J., April 19.—The case of Rev. Father Leahy against Father Tracy for possession of the Catholic church at Swedesboro, N. J., was before Vice-Chancellor Bird yesterday, when the defendant's answer was presented. A general denial was made to all the charges and those involving the right of Mgr. Satolli to act as the representative of the pope in this country. On the application of Counselor Backer, who represents Father Leahy and Bishop O'Farrell, the case was postponed for two weeks to give him time to present evidence of Satolli's right to act.

Married to an Earl.

NEW YORK, April 19.—William George Robert, earl of Craven, and Miss Corriella Martin, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Martin, of New York, were married at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Bishop Potter and Rev. Dr. William R. Huntington, at Grace church, in the presence of over 200 of the elite of New York and English society, with all the pomp suggested by the nobility of the bridegroom, and with all the magnificence allowed by the millions of the bride.

Curtis' Chief Accuser.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 19.—The police commissioners have dismissed the charge of unofficer-like conduct against Ernest F. Bode, the policeman who was accused of robbing William Miller in a dice game. Bode is the policeman who swore that he saw M. B. Curtis, the actor, run up a street on the night that Officer Grant was killed and was the strongest witness against Curtis during his trial for murder.

Two Men Killed.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 19.—Benjamin Moon's wine mill, sixteen miles out of Providence, was demolished by a boiler explosion at 6:40 o'clock yesterday morning. Emory Clark and Samuel Perry were killed outright. Both leave widows. Amos Farrington was fatally injured and Lombard Fowler was badly, but not fatally, scalded.

Three Lumber Camps Fired.

ASHLAND, Wis., April 19.—Three lumber camps belonging to the Penokee Lumbering company, of Marquette, were burned by an incendiary Monday night. Two discharged employees committed the deed, and were captured by the special police and put on their trial. They gave the names of Vaughn and Morgan.

Murder in Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 19.—During an altercation Monday night over a woman, John Young was struck with some blunt instrument by Charles Seibert and fell unconscious to the ground. He never regained consciousness and died yesterday morning. Seibert escaped.

THREE WERE KILLED

The Accident at the Minnesota Iron Company's Mine was as Serious as First Reported.

Three Men Almost Instantly Killed and Many Injured, Some Fatally, by Explosion of Dynamite.

The Terrible Affair Occurred in the Blacksmith Shop Where Iron Pipe Was Being Broken.

An "extra" published by The Herald yesterday announced a terrible accident at the Minnesota iron mines at Soudan, wherein three men were instantly killed and several badly wounded, some fatally. A later dispatch says that the list of killed and wounded is as follows: J. B. Nettle, jugular vein severed; leaves wife and four children. Charles Nelson, gas pipe driven through chest, leaves wife and five children. Jacob Koshaver, limbs blown off, unmarried. The injured are: Philip Marshback, John Rosenstein, James Mahoney, G. S. Warne, Frank Cundy, W. J. Nettle, William Martin, Joe Zollar.

The accident occurred at the mine blacksmith shops, where about twenty men are employed, nearly everyone of whom sustained at least slight injuries. Nettle, Zollar and Nelson were engaged in breaking up a lot of worthless gas pipe before throwing it in the scrap pile. The pipe would be put under a 1200 pound steam hammer and broken into such lengths as would permit its easy handling.

The men had been engaged in this work for nearly an hour, when suddenly a terrific report sounded, and when the smoke cleared away a terrible sight presented itself to the gaze of those who had heard the report from the adjoining machine shop and ran to the scene of the explosion. Senseless forms, mangled bodies and men staggering from the building weak from loss of blood, met their gaze.

Nettle Nelson and Koshaver died almost instantly, none of them living over twenty minutes. For over four hours Doctors Harwood and Richardson were busy dressing the wounds of the surviving injured. It is extremely improbable that Marshback and Mahoney will recover, both having suffered greatly from the loss of blood.

The explosion was no doubt due to the presence of a quantity of dynamite in the pipes, which had at some time been used as a "gun" in opening "raises" that had become clogged. The second explosion struck the men who were working on the dynamite, and the blacksmith shops badly demolished.

THEY WILL NOT ATTEND.

Supreme Court Judges Decline Invitations to Two Public Events.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The supreme court of the United States will not attend the memorial service at Hampton Roads. This decision of the court will be a surprise to many, who expected to see the judges among the official spectators on the government ships.

It may be more of a surprise that the court declined to attend the naval review at New York and to the opening of the World's fair in Chicago as well. This decision has been arrived at by the judges by a unanimous deliberation which marks their reactions.

The condition of the business of the supreme court and the intruders upon its work which these excursions would make moved the court to its determination to stay at home. The day set for adjournment is next Tuesday, and if the justices of the court traveled down there, it would be a large section would be taken from the little time left for this term.

Although the supreme court justices traveled out to Chicago on the former excursion, they did so after considerable hesitation and with doubt as to the wisdom of the precedent. This was in the nature of an international affair, in the eyes of the court, and it was thought best to go.

The supreme justices think, however, that the tribunal which they constitute is not such a body that its presence is necessary or to be expected on these festive occasions, when the executive and legislative representatives of the government can do the honors.

CUMULATIVE SENTENCES.

Important Measure Passed by the Ohio Legislature.

NEW YORK, April 19.—A special to the Times from Cleveland says: The Hildebrand cumulative sentence bill, which passed the Ohio general assembly last week, is the most important workhouse legislation enacted in the United States this winter.

It marks a distinct innovation in the management of public workhouses, and is of wide interest in its bearing upon the progress of prison reform. The Hildebrand law proposes to apply the habitual criminal principle. The second sentence of any culprit will be twice that of the first, and the third twice as long as the second.

After the third conviction the misdemeanor can be sentenced from one to three years at the discretion of the court. The purpose is to give the prisoner time to reform and learn a useful trade, while saving the public the large expense of his frequent arrests and reconvictions.

It is said to be the first measure of the kind ever enacted in this country and it is endorsed by President Brinkerhoff, of the National Prison Reform association, and many other eminent penologists.

MAYOR HARRISON'S FIRST ACT.

He Secured Dockage Concessions From the Henry Syndicate.

CHICAGO, April 19.—One of the first acts of the new mayor, Carter Harrison, was to secure some dockage concessions on the lake front from the Henry syndicate, which under the previous administration had secured a practical monopoly of the lake traffic between the city and the World's fair grounds.

A representative of the syndicate called on the mayor yesterday and asked him for another concession in the shape of a permit to lay a track on piles along the lake front for a distance of four or five blocks.

The mayor said he would issue the permit, only on condition that the syndicate would allow other boats than its own to land and take passengers from its docks in the city, and thus place everything on a fair basis. This was reluctantly agreed to and the permit drawn up.

NITRO-GLYCERINE EXPLODED.

One Man's Head Blown Off and Another Blown Forty Feet and Killed.

COLUMBUS, O., April 19.—A special from Lima, O., says: A terrific explosion of nitro-glycerine occurred yesterday at the High Explosive company's magazine, two miles from this city. Clark Robinson's head was torn off and Benjamin Dove, who was standing a huge gas blow in his side at a previous explosion three months ago, was blown forty feet and so badly injured that he died before he was taken to the ambulance.

The force of the explosion shook houses and broke windows two miles from the scene. The cause of the explosion was a run of glycerine caught fire from the friction, and before the men could run went off.

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC.

A Story That a Receiver May Be Asked for Soon.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 19.—The Chronicle prints a sensational story to the effect that the Missouri Pacific railway is approaching a receivership or complete reorganization, involving a scaling down of the interest debt, and that the company has over $7,000,000 of floating debt which is not shown in the company's report and statement.

The reports are credited to one of the best known men of this city, who has asserted that plans of reorganization were in progress, and that it would not be surprising if a receiver would be asked for soon.

AN INVALID WIFE.

Causes an Iowa Politician to Embezzle $1000 and Fly.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 19.—A Christy, a prominent politician of Correctionville, Iowa, and considered a well-to-do business man, has disappeared and an investigation shows that he embezzled about $1000 paid to him by people for whom he acted as agent in paying taxes.

About 100 persons are losers. Other firms for whom he acted as an agent are also losers. The Avery Planter company loses about $500. Christy left a letter saying that the cause of his shortage was that the expense of his wife, for his invalid wife exceeded his income.

May go to the Naval Ball.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The president has not decided whether or not he will attend the naval ball at New York April 27, but it is probable that he will do so. He has placed all arrangements for the visit in the hands of Secretary Herbert, and as Mr. Herbert has the interests of the naval ball at heart it is likely that he will arrange for Mr. Cleveland to go there.

A Pardon Refused.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The president has denied a pardon in the case of Samuel F. Kennedy, sentenced May 13, 1892, to five years imprisonment at Sioux Falls, Ia., for violating the United States banking laws in making a false entry on the ledger book of the Omaha National bank.

Heavy Fire in Sweden.

STOCKHOLM, April 19.—The immense Swedish Vasa sailing works at Soderhamn in the Gulf of Bothnia have been destroyed by fire. The flames spread with great rapidity, communicating with the wharves and a number of lighters were also destroyed. The loss amounts to about $600,000.

A Horrible Death.

KALASKA, Mich., April 19.—John M. Clark, half owner of the Freeman Manufacturing company's woodenware plant here, met a horrible death last night. While standing near a gang of small saws he fell forward upon them, and two parallel gashes three inches deep were cut from his breast to his abdomen.

THE MUNICIPAL COURT.

The Usual Number of Drunks on Hand This Morning.

In the municipal court this morning there was just an ordinary collection of members of the sinful set. Frank Le Barge made his third appearance for drunkenness. He is a husky river man and upon promising to make this his farewell appearance, the judge suspended sentence. August Nesul and Leander Sulmala, two Finlanders accused of drunkenness, felt that they were unable to converse in English, hence their cases were postponed until after noon. James O'Neill got drunk last night and this morning his head was so large that he was compelled to use a shochorn to get on his last summer's hat. Ten days were given him in the county jail in which to reduce his cranium.

Lawrence Gallagher and Geo. Smith, two moneyless men, tried to sleep in a box car last night, but their plans were vetoed by a policeman. Five days each in the county jail was their reward.

Frank Galinski was up on the charge of assault in the third degree. The trial was set for tomorrow morning. The defendant avers that while manufacturing a chicken coop, some boys threw stones at him. Becoming angered, he threw his hatchet and slightly wounded Ole Nickerson on the arm.

CASE OF INHUMANITY

Jacob L. Pember Removes the Doors and Windows from a House Occupied by Edward Thorpe.

He Did it to Drive Out His Tenant Whom He Claims Was in Arrears for Rent.

Thorpe Has Retained Attorneys and Will Sue Pember for Five Thousand Dollars.

Another story of "man's inhumanity to man which," by the way, "makes countless millions mourn" has come to light in the alleged Christian city of Duluth. Those stories are liable to crop out into public notice at any time but the distinguishing features in this case are particularly noticeable because of their novel and unusual character.

Edward Thorpe is a painter who has a humble little home at 616 1/2 West Third street in unpretentious quarters which he rents from Jacob L. Pember, who is something of a landlord to the extent of several little houses. Thorpe has breathed the air of heaven for about a quarter of a century, while the wife of his bosom is just old enough to vote did woman do that respectable act in the North Star state. The twain are possessed of three little "olive branches," one about three years of age, another of eighteen months, while the last and least has encountered the wars of this mundane sphere only three weeks.

Now it so happens that Thorpe is a little "short" financially and when his rent became due a few days ago, he could not meet it. His landlord served notice to vacate the premises but that was not done, as the possessor could not secure another house until the 20th of this month. That did not meet the wishes of Pember. Last Saturday, four days after the notice had been served, without any further proceedings, no sanction of the law, the law to take such steps or anything else, the importunate landlord repaired to his tenement house, removed the windows, took off a couple of doors and cut a hole in the building besides.

Mrs. Thorpe has hardly yet recovered from her late confinement, and as for the little child, the raw vernal breezes that whirled and test constitutions in Duluth found in it a shining mark. Today it lies in its humble cradle dangerously ill, with many chances that it will soon dwell in a land of eternal comfort, where grasping landlords don't tear out windows and unhinge doors.

Pember's action came to the notice of the authorities who notified Humane Officer Henry Haskins. He at once repaired to the place and found things in the condition stated. Old carpets and papers and rags were nailed up to the openings, but they had been insufficient to stop the suffering and sickness. Mr. Haskins at once ordered Pember to restore the doors and windows to their places and brought him to his senses by firmly expressing an opinion that he had put his foot in it.

Pember claims that his tenant owes two months' rent, but Thorpe says that it is for one month, as he painted and papered the house upon the order of the owner and charged it up to balance one month's rent. Inspector Burbank, at the office of the board of health says that he knows Pember well and that he has always considered him a worthy man, wholly incapable of conceiving such a fiendish and unlawful proceeding.

Thorpe has retained Tear, Davies & Bureau and the papers are already drawn up in an action to recover $128. Of this $50 is asked for actual damage to household goods, $78 for the plaintiff's loss of time and expense occasioned and $5000 for damages.

No Decision Reached.

The competitive examination held at the Central High school yesterday for securing a recommendation to an appointment to West Point ended with the result that the board of examiners will make no recommendation but will order another examination. Unsatisfactory standard of results in yesterday's work is the cause.

AN AWFUL GALE

One of the Worst Storms Ever Seen on the Great Lakes Damaged Vessels at Detroit.

Crib at the End of Milwaukee's Intake Tunnel Swept Away and Eleven Men Drowned.

Some Doubtless Washed Off by Huge Billows and Others Perished in the Air Shaft.

Milwaukee Was the Vortex of the Storm
Which Seems to be Increasing in Severity.

DETROIT, Mich., April 20.—One of the heaviest gales ever known on the lakes occurred last night, the wind attaining a velocity of over 70 miles an hour. The damage done along the river front here is quite severe. In the neighborhood of Belle Isle bridge steam and sailing yachts and catboats anchored close to docks were smashed against each other, roofs of boat houses were lifted off and floating docks lifted up on the land.

The boat house and contents of the Detroit Boat company and Herman Schmidt were badly wrecked and a number of small yachts belonging to the same firms which were drawn high upon land suffered severe damage. The steamer Kirby and numerous other large vessels were badly pounded against the docks.

The steam yacht "J. S.", owned by John Shaffer, was sunk and will be a total loss. The schooner yacht Ivy and the sloop yacht Koring Gimbet had their upper works blown off and both vessels were swamped. Schweiher's dock and boat house together with a large stock of row boats were badly damaged. Altogether the damage will reach into the thousands of dollars.

The steamer Simon L. Angell is aground on the American side of Fighting island and tugs have gone to her assistance. It is reported that a barge is ashore at Gibraltar point, but her name could not be ascertained.

Twenty Men Lost.
The Crib of the Waterworks Tunnel at Milwaukee Washed Away.

MILWAUKEE, April 20.—The crib of the intake tunnel of the waterworks 500 feet out in the lake has been washed away in a raging storm and about twenty men are lost. The government pier is partially washed away and a schooner is ashore on the beach.

Five or six men can be seen clinging to the machinery and timbers of the waterworks crib, but the others may be dead in the chamber below from lack of air. The life saving crew has been unable to render assistance as yet.

Last night's storm was not confined to Milwaukee or the lake shore, reports from all points in the state indicate that the gale was widespread and the velocity of the wind almost unprecedented. The wind blew 48 miles an hour here last night.

Three hundred feet of the government breakwater is washed away. The schooner Loraine, of Racine, bound for Racine, went ashore off the city early this morning and is pounding badly. Three men comprising the crew were taken off at 3 o'clock by the life saving crew.

Later—in a gale which for years has not been equalled on the great lakes, the crib at the end of the intake tunnel, situated some 300 feet out in the lake, was washed away and of seventeen men who were employed there but six are known to be alive. The balance at this hour—115 p. m.—are believed to have been drowned. Some were doubtless washed off by the huge billows which have been tumbling on the shore, and others doubtless perished in the air shaft where they sought shelter and which is now filled with water. The following are known to be on the crib:

Michael Dwyer, engineer; Jack McBaine, engineer; George Gregg, lockman; Joe Mueller, miner; William Priestly, miner; Joseph McCarthy, miner; Eben Allan, cook; George Wholly, miner, and Fred Spanner, miner.

At daylight this morning no vestige either of the crib or the house that surrounded it could be seen and but faint traces here and there of the government breakwater. The entire prospect, as far as the eye could reach, was one awful spectacle of seething, boiling, roaring billows that seemed to unite with the clouds in the sky.

On the beach were two lumber laden craft that had vainly sought shelter behind the breakwater, while the shore was strewn with the wreckage. About 200 feet of the breakwater, which was thought to be staunch enough to withstand the severest storm, had been washed away and the massive timbers and planks were tumbled in disordered heaps upon the shore.

The perspective was one of destruction and instantly the mind reverted to the dreadful situation of the men who were every morning such familiar figures on the works. The people acquainted with this state of affairs on the shore concluded that the men had, as soon as there was danger, made for the shaft and secured themselves, but the trouble was that the opening to the shaft could not be secured from the inside and again it was likely that when the crib was torn from its fastenings it would tear away the connecting pipes and let the water into the shaft.

Another fear was that the leak in the bottom of the shaft would soon fill and drown the men. It was an awful sight at 8 o'clock to see the huge waves washing over the bottom of the crib which, being anchored by stone work to the bottom of the lake, still remained. Foreman Barbour said that he knew there were at least seventeen men in the crib.

At 9:30 o'clock a great shout arose from the watchers on the beach. "There they are! There they are!" cried a little man, dancing up and down excitedly. "See, they are out on top. See them! See them!" Sure enough, on the top of the little pier could be discerned the dim form moving about. Cries of "Thank God," went up from the women.

Telescopes were procured, but owing to the flying surf it was with difficulty that the men could be distinguished. But there they were, six of them, the remainder presumably in the lock. A little flag sent up on the pumping station as a signal, the answer with the waving of hats and one man swung his coat. At 12 o'clock an effort was made to reach the wreck of the crib on a tug but it was unsuccessful.

A life boat has just returned from the crib and reports that all the men who were at work there have been drowned excepting one. The number is placed at from fifteen to twenty-two.

INCREASING IN SEVERITY.
The Storm General Throughout the West and Getting Worse.

CHICAGO, April 20.—High winds approaching cyclones in severity, and accompanied by rain, snow and hail, have again played havoc with telegraph wires throughout the West. Neither telegraph company has a wire further west than Des Moines and it is difficult to do business with that point.

Throughout Iowa, Wisconsin, Western Illinois, Nebraska and Missouri the wires are practically useless and communication is cut off from Mississippi and Louisiana. Milwaukee seems to have been in the vortex of last night's storm, which continues to rage with unabated severity, and telegraphic communication is maintained with that city only at frequent intervals.

East of Chicago also, the wires are either down or largely useless, and heavy wind storms are reported from Ohio and Western Pennsylvania. The reports which have been received indicate that the storm is rather increasing than abating in severity.

The wind in this city last night attained a velocity of 72 miles an hour, breaking all previous records. The Auditorium tower, in which the signal service observatory is located, was swayed so violently that clocks in it were stopped.

TWO SCHOONERS WRECKED.
Vessels With Wheat and Corn Wrecked at Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 20.—The three-master schooner L. P. Danforth was driven ashore at the foot of Michigan street in this city by the storm this morning. Tugs and life saving boats have been sent to the assistance of the crew.

The schooner City of Cheboygan, with a cargo of 10,000 bushels of wheat, lying in a slip of the Chicago river, was run into and sunk early this morning by another schooner that had broken from its moorings during the storm and become unmanageable.

The Danforth left this port last night with a cargo of corn. The crew of ten men was taken off in safety. The boat was in the center and is fast going to pieces.

Heavy Snow Storm.
ST. PAUL, April 20.—Reports from the interior of the state and from the Dakotas are to the effect that heavy snow storms are sweeping over the far west, and are greatly retarded. At Park Rapids, Minn., twenty inches have fallen, eight inches at Little Falls and a foot at Alexandria. The snow service at Fargo Falls says the storm is the heaviest in years.

This morning from eight to ten inches of snow covered the ground and it still falls fast accompanied by a heavy wind. The street car system is completely blocked, as the snow is damp and packs.

THE RECIPROCITY TREATIES.
Statistics Showing Their Workings as to Brazil and Cuba.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A study of the statistics contained in the second annual report of the bureau of American republics shows the following results in regard to the workings of the reciprocity treaties with Brazil and Cuba.

The United States exported to Brazil in the years 1890, 1891 and 1892, respectively merchandise to the value of $1,072,214, $1,410,245 and $1,421,873. In the same years the imports of merchandise into the United States from Brazil were $50,318,755, $83,230,595 and $118,633,604 respectively, an increase within two years of over 100 per cent.

The exports to Cuba increased in round numbers from $13,000,000 in 1890 to $18,000,000 in 1892, and those to Porto Rico from $2,300,000 to $2,850,000. Cuba's exports to the United States in the three years in round numbers $54,000,000, $62,000,000 and $78,000,000 respectively, while those of Porto Rico to the United States decreased from $4,000,000 in 1890 to $3,250,000 in 1892.

Mrs. Staples Dead.
STILLWATER, Minn., April 20.—Mrs. Isaac Staples, wife of the millionaire banker and lumberman, died yesterday of paralysis, aged 72 years. The deceased came here in 1871 from Old Town, Maine. She has been confined to her bed since December last. The funeral will occur Friday afternoon.

The Monon Receivership.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 20.—Judge Bartholomew yesterday granted the petition of Bruce and Thomas in the Monon receivership case and transferred the case as a whole to the federal court. He expressed doubt as to the jurisdiction of the federal court, but considered the removal law mandatory on the state court.

Gen. Becker's Views.
WASHINGTON, April 20.—At the afternoon session of the state railway commission who are in session here, the question of rates was discussed and Gen. Becker, of Minnesota, made a speech stating that money invested in roads was no more sacred than in other lines of business. He did not think the people should be taxed to pay for extravagant salaries and watered stock.

Numerous Presidential Postmasters Were Named Today in Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa and Arizona.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—Representatives Baldwin and Hall are discovering new evidence daily, without doubt, that National Committeeman Doran is to have nearly everything his own way during the next few years, so far as the handling of Democratic patronage in Minnesota is concerned.

While neither of these gentlemen care to talk about the matter other Minnesota Democrats in Washington are saying many warm things about the old man. They emphatically declare that his rule has, up to the present time, prevented the Democrats in the North Star state from scoring any notable victories.

They further assert that if he dictates the patronage during this administration he will not only ruin party chances for the next few years, but will also sink himself into political obscurity. One thing that will aid in doing this is the anti-Catholic sentiment existing in the North Star state. This sentiment is not only strong, but it is backed up by church votes, clergymen who claim to be posted, to prevent Democratic success, while well-known Catholics, like Mike Doran and Pat Kelly, are ruling the party with a rod of iron.

Predictions are freely made that the rule of these men will be overthrown within the next few years. Perchance these men are mistaken. It has been claimed for many years past that such would be the case, but Doran, at any rate, is still in the saddle, and today, six like centaurs. The "old man" seems to be a hard man to down. It seems, however, that with all the power he has he might concede an occasional office of importance to men like Baldwin and Hall, who have won seats in districts heretofore strongly Republican. This, at any rate, is true with reference to Maj. Baldwin.

BATCH OF APPOINTMENTS.
Presidential Postmasters in Arizona, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana and Iowa.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Presidential postmasters were today appointed as follows: Thomas J. Ross, at Flagstaff, Ariz., vice George H. Cook, removed.

Jonathan R. Conroy, at Leion, Ia., vice J. L. Harvey, resigned.

PROVED ITS DEATH BLOW.
The Engineers' Brotherhood to Give Way to a New Organization.

NEW YORK, April 20.—A special to the Press from Toledo, O., says: It is probable that the Ann Arbor strike, aided by Judge Rick's decision, has proved a death blow to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

A new association is now being formed in this city. The new organization will include, aside from engineers and firemen, such superintendents of motive power as are desirous of joining, and may also be open to all employees from the highest officials down to the trackmen.

SUFFERING FROM PARALYSIS.
Edwin Booth Had Another Stroke But No Serious Results Feared.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Edwin Booth, the tragedian, is lying at the Players' club, suffering from paralysis. The first attack which Mr. Booth had of the kind was on April 3, 1889. He was then playing Othello with Lawrence Barrett in Rochester. He appeared weak as the performance went on, and finally another actor had to be put on in his place to finish an act of the play.

Since Mr. Booth gave his last performance at the Academy of Music in Brooklyn on April 3, 1891, his health has been generally poor. He has spent the most of his time at the Players' club.

At 11 o'clock this morning Edwin Booth was sleeping easy. His physicians are not alarmed. They say the attack was only of a temporary nature and he is expected to be up in a day or two.

The announcement this morning that the veteran actor, Edwin Booth had been stricken by paralysis and was dying aroused the greatest interest all over the city. The Players' club in Gramercy park, where Mr. Booth makes his home, was early besieged by telephone and callers, and everyone was assured that Mr. Booth's condition was not as serious as reported.

Dr. St. Clair Smith, Booth's own physician, who was called in last night, said positively this morning that Booth had not had a stroke of paralysis. The physician said that Mr. Booth's illness was merely a return of the old trouble which he first experienced while playing "Othello" with Lawrence Barrett April 3, 1889.

That was the time Barrett made his famous address to the audience saying Booth would probably never act again. Booth, however, recovered in a few days, although his general health has been very poor for the last two years.

A FIGHT WITH CONVICTS.
Conflict Between the Convicts and the Free Laborers at the Coal Mines in Tennessee.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 20.—Report reached here this morning at 3:40 o'clock to the effect that a conflict between the convicts and the free laborers at Tracy City has occurred and resulted in the death of several and the injury of four or five.

The state militia were resting on their arms at the capitol and have been ordered to the scene of trouble. Further details unobtainable. Troops will leave on special trains immediately.

Later—a special train that left the Union depot in this place at 5 o'clock this morning carried a little over 100 of the Tennessee National guards and two pieces of artillery. Gen. Fite and aides accompanied the soldiers.

From reports that have been received this morning, it is believed that the magnitude of the trouble at Tracy City has been greatly exaggerated. Warden Burton telegraphs that only two of the guards were hurt in the scrimmage. As he has thirty guards and a full supply of ammunition, there is no reason to doubt that he could repel any attack that the miners are likely to make. The governor, however, preferred to be on the safe side and ordered the militia to go to the scene of the trouble.

THE WORLD'S FAIR FUNDS.
Attorney General Olney Decides Several Questions for Secretary Carlisle.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Attorney General Olney, to several questions propounded him by Secretary Carlisle as to appropriations available for the World's fair commissions, summarizes his opinion as follows:

"I regard the act of March 3, 1893, as an appropriation of a specific amount of money, devoted to certain purposes and to be expended by the bureau of awards are to be paid out of this appropriation, and not out of the $2,500,000 provided by the act of August 5, 1892, of which last named sum an amount equal to this appropriation is, in my opinion, in the default of security by the World's Columbian exposition, to be retained in the treasury and by subsequent legislation or proper proceedings to be covered back into the treasury for the benefit of the government, and to recompense the government to the extent of the actual expenses on account of the bureau of awards. It is held simply as a reserve fund for that purpose and any unexpended balance in the present state of legislation would doubtless apply to the World's Columbian exposition."

THE MISSOURI PACIFIC.
No Truth in the Story About a Receiver Being Appointed.

NEW YORK, April 20.—When shown the statement of John Blessing, of Gaylor, Blessing & Co., brokers of St. Louis, that the Missouri Pacific was to be put in the hands of a receiver, George J. Gould declared that there was no truth in the statement. "There is to be no receiver," he said, "and the company's floating debt is only $1,000,000, all of which is carried by Russell Sage and myself."

Russell Sage said of Mr. Blessing's statement: "There is absolutely no foundation for the statement about the Missouri Pacific. There is no occasion for a receiver for the company and there will be none. The company's report tells the truth about the floating debt. The stock is attacked by the bears, who are short of it and want to cover."

The Duke de Veragua.
WASHINGTON, April 20.—The duke of Veragua and suite will arrive in Washington Saturday next. The program for their entertainment has not yet been announced, but will include a reception by the president and Mrs. Cleveland at the White House.

Oranges in All Stages.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—A shipment of orange trees in bearing, left Pasadena today for the World's fair. The trees were eight feet high and were loaded with oranges in all stages of maturity.

EXPLOSION IN A BANK

Escaping Gas Caused a Terrible Explosion in the Dime Savings Bank at Detroit Today.

One Man Seriously Injured, Several Others Badly Scorched and Burned, and the Offices Wrecked.

The Front Doors Lifted From Their Hinges and Blown Like Feathers Into the Street.

DETROIT, Mich., April 20.—An explosion occurred at the Dime Savings bank, located at the corners of Griswold street and Lafayette and Michigan avenues, shortly before 9 o'clock this morning. One man was seriously injured, several others badly scorched and burned, and the offices of the institution wrecked.

Only a few of the employees were in the rooms when the explosion occurred. One of them entered the vault and lighted the gas and the explosion followed. John Stein, collection clerk, was thrown with great force against the cage of his office. He was frightfully disoriented about the head, face and hands, the flesh on his face being literally cooked.

William Harrup, individual bookkeeper, was the most seriously injured next to Stein. Several other employees were also badly scorched and burned. All the windows on the north side of the building were blown out, and the big front doors were lifted from their hinges and blown like feathers into the street.

PECULIAR PRISON LIFE.

Easy Times for the Convicts at Anamosa Prison.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 20.—Quite a large sized scandal has been stirred up in this state over the questionable ways which have been followed in the management of the state penitentiary at Anamosa.

It is claimed that the convicts are given many privileges which are inconsistent with prison discipline; that they are insolent and disrespectful and "back" at the guards when ordered to do anything against their will; that some of the worst convicts are holding down easy jobs, and that a store has been established in the prison, operated by the son of the warden and the son of the head clerk, at which all kinds of delicacies and cigars are sold to the criminals, who are allowed pocket money for that purpose. In connection with the store, it is charged, is operated a prize lottery.

A noted prostitute who was sent up from Des Moines for running a house in which members of the legislature were charged with carousing is reported by a local paper as wearing "diamonds" and being the "observed of all observers" at a recent "prison reception." The warden and other officials, it is charged, have received presents from the convicts.

Shot His Mother-in-Law.

MONONGAHELA CITY, Pa., April 20.—About 11:30 o'clock last night James Burnett shot his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lettie Troy. Thinking burglars had entered the house, he procured his shotgun, fired both barrels, taking a light and going in the direction in which he had shot, he discovered that he had blown the head off of Mrs. Troy.

To Reduce Taxation.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 20.—The Dominion government, since its election at the election throughout the country over excessive taxation, has appointed a sub-committee to study the question of tariff reform. A tariff bill will be submitted to parliament next session. There is every likelihood that specific duties will be abolished and ad valorem duties substituted therefor.

Has a Woman a Vote?

STOCK FALLS, April 20.—A. Christopherson, who was defeated for the school board, announces that he will contest the election on the ground that the law does not give to women the right to vote. Lawyers here disagree as to the meaning of the new law.

HEART DISEASE 30 YEARS.

GRAND ISLAND, NEB., April 20, 1892.

Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

GENTLEMEN: I had been troubled with HEART DISEASE for the last 30 years, and although I was treated by able physicians and tried many remedies, I grew weaker and weaker, and was completely prostrated and confined to my bed without any hope of recovery. I found that my pulse was irregular, and I was unable to sleep, and I was in great distress. I was told that I had heart disease, and I was told that I had heart disease, and I was told that I had heart disease.

I was told that I had heart disease, and I was told that I had heart disease, and I was told that I had heart disease.

I was told that I had heart disease, and I was told that I had heart disease, and I was told that I had heart disease.

I was told that I had heart disease, and I was told that I had heart disease, and I was told that I had heart disease.

I was told that I had heart disease, and I was told that I had heart disease, and I was told that I had heart disease.

GOLD WILL BE PAID OUT.

Statement by the Treasury to Relieve Anxiety of Shippers.

NEW YORK, April 20.—It is stated at the sub-treasury that gold will be paid out in the same manner as usual and upon the presentation of treasury notes as heretofore. This was given out to relieve anxiety in intending shippers who professed to feel some apprehension as to their ability to secure gold for export.

Estimates of probable exports later in the week range from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. Owing to continued scarcity of bills, one of the leading bankers advanced the posted rates of sterling exchange to $1.88 and $1.90.

In reply to a suggestion made by an eminent financier that the banks could take all the $100,000,000 reserve gold the government has got by acting in unison and presenting that amount of greenbacks for redemption, Mr. Tappan said: "I do not believe all the banks in the country could do that. Only 25 percent of the clearing house balances were paid last week in greenbacks. They were paid mostly in treasury notes. Last week the associated banks of this city only held $10,000,000 in legal tender notes and I'll guarantee not more than 10 percent of these were greenbacks. The rest were treasury notes."

SENTENCED FOR FRAUDS.

Directors of a French Institution Which Failed Are Sentenced.

PARIS, April 20.—M. Donon, of the Zoicete de Pots, was yesterday sentenced to imprisonment for four years, M. Ganthier to two years, and M. Poisson for eight months for fraudulent acts in connection with the failure of that institution which, according to the report of the government accountant was used by Charles De Lesseps and other Panama directors to aid them in obtaining enormous profits from operations on the Panama canal.

The Zoicete de Pots subsequently collapsed and criminal prosecutions were begun against Poisson and others connected with it.

THE HOURS OF LABOR.

English Miners Protest Against a Compulsory Eight Hours Law.

LONDON, April 20.—A deputation of coal miners from Durham visited Prime Minister Gladstone yesterday to express opposition to the enactment of a compulsory eight hours law.

Mr. Gladstone replied to the deputation that parliament never could be a competent judge of the question. His own prepossessions on the subject had been derived from an enlightened statesman, who feared the effect of legislative interference with adult labor.

He regarded the making of terms between employers and employed as the normal method of adjusting the hours of labor.

WILL GO TO NEW YORK.

Mrs. Cleveland Will Attend the Naval Ball Next Week.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The president expects to be absent from Washington about a week in attendance upon the naval review and the opening of the World's fair. He will go to New York next week and remain until the official ceremonies connected with the review are over.

He will then return to Washington and start for Chicago, to be absent three or four days. The details of the program have not been arranged. Mrs. Cleveland will not accompany her husband to Chicago, though she will go with him to New York.

AN EIGHT YEARS' SENTENCE.

Conviction of an Indiana Man on a Charge of Arson.

PETERSBURG, Ind., April 20.—Aaron Burr Hawes was convicted here yesterday of arson and sentenced to serve eight years in the penitentiary. Five months ago the court house at Washington, Davies county, was burned, and it was charged that Auditor Lavelle had fired the building to destroy records which would have shown him to be a defaulter had they come to light.

Lavelle was tried and sentenced to eight years imprisonment, and for complicity in the same crime Hawes was convicted yesterday.

THE HOME RULE BILL.

A Liberal Member Who Has Turned Against the Measure.

LONDON, April 20.—The chief subject of interest in the house of commons yesterday was the avowed defection from the Liberal party, so far as Irish home rule is concerned of William Saunders, M. P. for Newington Walworth. Mr. Saunders announced that his opposition to the home rule bill was based on the requirement of a property qualification for the second chamber of the Irish parliament. The debate will close Friday.

A Brewery Burned.

DETROIT, Mich., April 20.—Fire yesterday afternoon destroyed the boiler house and brew house, a brick building three stories high, of the Peninsula brewery, generally known as Kling's brewery, located on Jefferson avenue. The loss will reach $50,000; partly covered by insurance. An employee named Wedmar was badly burned about the face, but it is not thought that he is fatally injured.

Scalded to Death.

DETROIT, Mich., April 20.—The cylinder head of the straightback steamer Choctaw blew out yesterday while the vessel was on Lake St. Clair, killing two and probably fatally injuring one of the crew. Nelson Chambers, cook, and C. Jones, fireman, were scalded to death, F. B. Thompson is badly scalded and will die.

Senator Pasco Re-Elected.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 20.—Samuel Pasco was yesterday elected United States senator to succeed himself, receiving 95 out of the 100 votes in joint session.

Parties who have not already secured a World's fair souvenir half dollar pocket piece, will find a few of the original 1892 issue at Day's jewelry store.

OUTLAWS IN MEXICO

A Large Number of Them Started Out on the Warpath and Captured a Mining Town.

Three Men Wounded and the Town Sacked and Gaining Strength They Took Another Town.

Federal Troops Attacked the Rebels But They Were Defeated With Many Killed and Wounded.

EL PASO, Tex., April 20.—News received by the Times from Chihuahua, Mex., says: A fugitive from justice in New Mexico recently returned to his native mountains and stirred up a large force of ignorant malcontents, outlaws and religious fanatics, and arming them captured the town of Temazacac near Guerrero, an important mining town near the summit of the Sierra Madre.

Little resistance was offered, but three men were wounded and the town sacked. Amalia then went southward toward Tomachica and had a skirmish with Santa Anna and 300 men, who surrendered and afterward joined him. The combined forces under the leadership of Amalia then marched on the town of Santa Tomas and captured it without resistance.

The rebels then took the town of Guerrero which was garrisoned by volunteer troops, who surrendered without fighting. At this point the federal troops came up and the rebels fled to Santa Tomas pursued by the troops. The federal troops were surprised at the latter place and in the battle that ensued 100 of them were killed and wounded. The rebels suffered very little.

The troops were completely routed. General officers were among the number killed. Reinforcement of the government troops arrived after the battle and will attempt to defend Guerrero. Great excitement prevails as fighting is soon expected. Business is at a standstill.

WILL BE DISMISSED.

All Appraisers on Red Lake Reservation to be Removed.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—It is settled that all the appraisers now at work on the Red Lake reservation, with the exception of Otto Staples, of Stillwater, are to be dismissed within a few days. The fact that Staples is a disbursing officer will delay his removal for a short time, but not more than a few weeks.

It leaks out that the president is behind the activity in the interior department, tending toward the exposure of pine land plundering. Mr. Cleveland is well informed about the entire matter, not only superficially but in detail, as to how jobs are put up; where pine is that is being gobbled; where frauds exist, and what he can do to stop it.

In the president's work room is a big pile of mips on cardboard showing sections in which various abuses are said to exist. He indicates to Secretary Smith that he wanted this matter thoroughly investigated.

Anti-Scalper Bill Signed.

ST. PAUL, April 20.—Governor Nelson has signed the anti-scalper bill. The act, which is intended to force out of business all dealers in cut rate tickets, is to go into effect on July 18. The scalpers have already mapped out a plan of action. No attention will be paid to the law. When an arrest is made, they will fight the law in the district court the ground of unconstitutionality. If beaten there, the cut rate dealers will carry the matter to the supreme court.

The Plague in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 20.—The official cholera statistics just issued show that from March 13 to March 27 there were 400 cases and 120 deaths in the government of Pskov, and from March 27 to April 13, 113 new cases and 35 deaths in the government of Orel. Elsewhere in the empire fifteen new cases and seven deaths are reported.

Had a Narrow Escape.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—John W. Mackay, Jr., son of millionaire Mackay, last night accidentally swallowed some cocaine which was being administered for toothache. Prompt action by the physicians placed him out of danger in a few hours.

A Quarter of a Million Loss.

WORCESTER, Mass., April 20.—Fire destroyed the great structure of the Clinton Wire Cloth company's works at Worcester, yesterday morning. Loss $250,000; totally insured.

Four Seamen Drowned.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—The Merchants Exchange has a dispatch stating that the bark C. Southard Hulbert from New York for Redondo put into Montevideo with the loss of four of her crew. No particulars.

A California Blaze.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 20.—Fire yesterday in the town of Redondo destroyed the Ocean View hotel and a number of business houses. The total loss is estimated at $50,000.

Four Persons Killed.

PRAGUE, April 20.—Forty houses at Slivno, a village of Bohemia, have been destroyed by fire. Four persons were killed and forty injured.

Cholera in Austria.

VIENNA, April 20.—Two cases of cholera and one death are reported from Onnuth.

PAIN AND SUFFERING.

How Little we Realize How Much There is in the World.

It is Certain That Three-Quarters of It is Unnecessary.

And it Becomes Everybody's Duty to Stop it in All Such Cases.

We are among those who believe that there was suffering in the world, and which demonstrated how surely happiness follows on the relief of pain, and how easy and what a simple matter it is to relieve pain and suffering.

A gentleman by the name of Nelson Woodruff, who resides at West Mill Grove, Ohio, had never been free from pain and suffering for ten long years.

"For fully ten years," he said, "I could not get any rest, especially nights, from pain in my legs and chest and across my kidneys."

"I read what people said about being cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy in the Toledo Bee, and I commenced taking this medicine."

MR. NELSON WOODRUFF.

"It has done me much good, and I am improving every day; indeed, I already feel like a new man. I had spent lots of money with doctors for my case, but they did me no good."

"I cannot say enough for this wonderful remedy, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. Such a medicine should be known all over our land, for it would save lots of money and lots of pain and suffering. I know it has for me."

It is a fact that this remedy is the surest of all pain relievers. Sufferers from weak back and backache will be amazed at the rapidity of their cure by this medicine. Nervous and sick headache it cures by restoring a healthier condition of the nerves. The pains and aches of rheumatism and neuralgia it dispels by removing the cause.

Especially should it be used at this season, for it is the best spring medicine for the blood, nerves, liver, kidneys, etc. All druggists keep it for $1.

It is purely vegetable and harmless, and is the discovery and prescription of Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York, the successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter.

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her household. E. H. Johnson, of C. K. BUILDING AT ONEOTA

The Suburb up the Bay Will Not be Behind in the March of Improvement.

Work on the New Coal and Ore Docks Being Pushed—Several Fine Residences Contemplated.

New Brownstone Methodist Church to be Built This Summer—General West Duluth News.

Oneota is having its buildings this spring and is making a big score in the line of general development. Construction work on the big coal docks described in The Herald some time ago has been resumed by the contractors and the present summer will witness their completion.

The work of framing the timbers for the Missabe docks is well along and the carpenters are placing them in position upon the piling. There are at present about 200 men at work on the structure and of the 300 piles, 200 have already been driven. The piles for the trestle work, which will extend from the docks half a mile back to the bluff are nearly all driven and work will soon commence on the superstructure. This work will cross the street car tracks and the St. Paul & Duluth railway tracks at an elevation of about twenty feet and run on to the docks at fifty feet above the water level.

The activity in building is not alone confined to the docks and wharves, however, for the residence portion is being all over with new cottages and comfortable homes, many of them already finished and others in rapid course of construction. There are a few of the finer class of residences which will also be built the present summer. Among them is a $10,000 home for Mr. K. Merrick, another of costly design for H. W. Wheeler. The latter gentleman owns one of the choicest building spots that can be found in the vicinity, a beautiful area to furnish most beautiful surroundings.

The Methodist society has finished plans for a pretty little church, for which contracts will be let the present week. It will cost about $15,000 and furnish seating accommodation for 250 people. It will be built on a beautiful spot and will be surrounded with a handsome tower.

West Duluth Briefs.
Levi Levrick, a Russian, and his family, arrived this week to make their home in West Duluth. It is reported that they have been here a year, getting here from their former home having been quarantined at several points on the way. The trip cost them over $300.

Contractor McDonald says that he is willing to refund the village any surplus he may have received on the Oneota street or any other contract he has made with the village.

The box factory has made a shipment of 1000 boxes the present week.

The C. P. W. club met last evening with Mrs. E. W. McCormick.

The Ladies' Pedro party will entertain their friends this evening at the city hall. Over fifty invitations have been issued and a most pleasant time is anticipated.

The blast furnace shut down yesterday while some new valves were being put into the furnace.

Miss Schultz, of St. Paul, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. C. Merrick.

Company H. postponed its dance last evening on account of the blizzard, and will endeavor, weather permitting, to hold it next Wednesday evening.

Despite the storm about forty couples gathered at the hall and decided to dance and the result was a general good time.

L. L. Prescott left today for Virginia.

J. D. Boyd has returned from a business trip to St. Paul.

W. E. Lawrence has returned from St. Paul.

G. E. Hall has returned from Chicago.

R. C. Dent and wife are moving into apartments in the Manufacturers' Bank building.

Carl Fisher, formerly chemist at the blast furnace, will go to Two Harbors for the summer.

Mrs. W. J. Matthews and Mrs. R. S. Frazier are visiting relatives in Richmond, Va.

P. R. McDonnell expects to commence work on the rock cut on Fourth avenue the first of next week.

World's Fair Visitors.

An intending visitor to the coming World's fair at Chicago need have no fear as to the possibility of securing satisfactory accommodations at reasonable rates, at either the many hotels or residences listed in neat pamphlet entitled, "Homes for Visitors at the World's Fair," compiled at great expense and published by a trustworthy Chicago firm. This book contains a list of about 6000 private families who will accommodate visitors in Chicago during the time of the fair, viz: May 1st to October 30th; gives their names and addresses, and number of rooms each will have to spare. The book also gives a list of the hotels and their locations; has twelve full-page, large-scale maps, each representing a section of the city, so that with this information before him the intending visitor, himself can, at leisure, select the quarter of the city in which he would prefer to stop, corresponding in advance with one or more families in that locality with regard to rates and the accommodations desired.

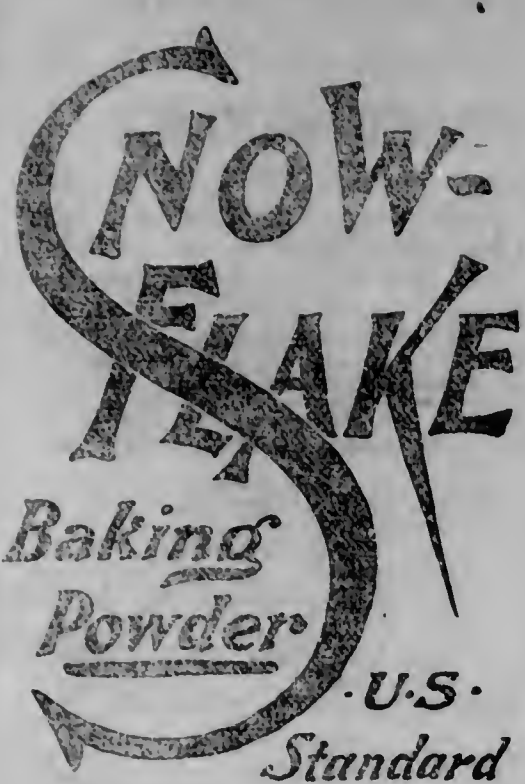

The Wisconsin citizens will in due time publish low excursion rates to Chicago and return for this occasion, while its double-daily passenger train service, including through sleeping and dining cars to Chicago, will be as usual at the head of the list in every particular.

To help you in fixing in advance upon your place of residence while attending the World's fair, we have placed in the hands of our agent at your station copies of this work, which may be obtained at 50 cents per copy.

MR. MAHANEY'S DREAM.

No Treaty Arranged Between This Country and Ecuador.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A Washington dispatch to the Philadelphia Ledger says: There is unfortunately little reason to doubt that the supposed treaty between the government of Ecuador and the United States by which our government was to acquire one of the Gallapagos islands, midway between Hawaii and Peru, for a coaling station has no existence except in the excited imagination of our eccentric minister at Quito, Mr. Mahaney of Buffalo, N. Y. It will be a matter of general regret that the many pleasant anticipations which have been raised by the circumstantial accounts of this successful diplomatic achievement of the youngest minister in our foreign service should be dashed to the ground, but the hard, cold logic of facts seems to point in that direction.

Quite recently Minister Mahaney addressed to this city letters entering into minute details of a treaty, which he was negotiating for the acquisition of one of the Gallapagos islands for a coaling station. He described the means he had brought to bear to effect his purpose and at last it was, cabled that the treaty had been made.

From this source arose the statement that such a treaty had been concluded and sent into the senate for ratification. Strange to say, one or two senators, being discreetly questioned on the subject (one of them a member of the committee on foreign affairs) appeared to rest under the belief until today that such a treaty had been sent in.

One of them explained today that there was something or other sent in and he thought it might have been this treaty. Getting down to hard facts it is ascertained that the only instrument that has been received from Ecuador is an imperial convention relating to claims between citizens of the two countries. The Gallapagos treaty, with all its alluring advantages, there is too much reason to believe, is merely a dream of Rowland B. Mahaney.

High officials of the state department confirm the statement that a coaling station has been negotiated with Ecuador.

THEY FELT SNUBBED.

True Reason Why the Supreme Court Will Not Go to Chicago.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The statement is made with much plausibility that, aside from the condition of the court docket, there was another and more potent reason which influenced the justices of the supreme court in declining to attend either the naval review or the opening of the World's fair.

The justices felt snubbed. They were not satisfied with the position assigned them in the official program. They do not think it becoming that they, occupying the conspicuous official position they do, should be judged with congressmen, assistant secretaries, governors and numerous subordinate officials of the government.

Individually, it is reported, the justices expressed a willingness to be thrown in with the party provided for the steamer Monmouth, but as a body they considered that on an occasion of such great official ceremony as the coming event, they should have a place next to president and cabinet.

Remarking that the court once before declined an invitation to participate in an official event because the invitations had been extended to the members individually and not to the court as a body, the navy department took special pains this time to send a separate invitation to each justice and the chief justice, and also one general invitation to the court as a whole.

They had not anticipated that there were any objections to the accommodations on the Monmouth or it is said, some different arrangement would have been made.

On the occasion of the visit of the supreme court to Chicago last fall at the dedication of the World's fair buildings, the justices declined to make part of the presidential train and instead upon having a special train of their own. Possibly, it was special arrangements had been tendered them for the review their decision might have been different.

They Got the Saxes Wrong.

Pedestrians on Sixth avenue yesterday during shopping time were much puzzled by an old woman who was playing a barrel organ at the corner of Thirtieth street. On one end of the organ she had pasted this sign, "Help the Blind."

At Twenty-sixth street an old man turning music out of a barrel organ as dilapidated as the one whose faint strains could almost be heard from up the street. He, too, wore goggles, and his organ bore this legend, "Help the Blind," and under it, "I Am the Mother of Seven Fatherless Children."

A man stepped up to him and said, "Look here, my friend, next time you go out you had better get the sign right on your organ." The griddle must have guessed what the error was, for, pushing the goggles back over his eyes, he neared quickly up and down the street as if looking for a policeman. Seeing none, he turned round and read the sign.

"Dot blud the old woman," he muttered, pushing the goggles over his eyes and shouldering his instrument to leave. "she's made them organs up again." —New York Sun.

A Narrow Escape.

The man had been away from his native town for five years, and when he came to visit the old place again he was quite anxious to hear about the people he had known. After many questions he came to the subject of those who had gone away about the time he did.

"Where's Henry Barker?" he asked. "Henry left three months before I did. I didn't take much stock in him, but when he went west he said he would make a name for himself, and I hope he did."

"That's just what he did," replied his companion.

"Well, I never would have thought it. How did he do it?"

"Signed it to a check. I don't know whose name Henry took, but it was good for $500, and Henry is now on his third year in the penitentiary." —Detroit Free Press.

"Humph! What is it you want to know?"

"I want to find out how many more Christmuses is going to be spoiled by comin on Sunday." —Good News.

A Conservative.

"So you are opposed to the state universities, eh?"

"Yes," said Mr. Wayback, "I am. This here thing of payin' out good state money to educate a lot o' dundes so's they will be smart enough some day to beat my boys out their farms after I am gone don't agree with my notion of things at all." —Indiana Journal.

INDIAN BATHS.

The Red Men's Knowledge of the Laws of Health.

"Turkish" and "Russian" Bath of Civilized nations known to the Indians.—How They Do It.—A Lesson From Nature which the Wise will Heed.—Kickapoo Indian Sagwa a Grand Remedy.

INDIAN TALKING VAPOR BATHS.

In this way an Indian takes a "Turkish" or "Russian" bath. They dig a hole in the earth, build a fire, heating the stones to a red heat, then pour water over them, creating a vapor. They then sit over the fire, breathing the vapor. This is a very effective way of treating many ailments, especially those of the lungs and throat. The Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is a grand remedy for many diseases, and is highly recommended by the Indians.

His preparations of roots, herbs and barks, now given to the world for the first time in the Kickapoo Indian Remedies are unequalled by any discoveries of the medical world of the whites.

When you feel twinges of pain in your joints, look out, a slight cold might develop into Rheumatic Fever. If you have pains in your back or sides your liver is congested or your kidneys are not performing their work and poison is gathering in your body.

Exposure to cold or contagious diseases would be fatal to you.

Pimples, blotches, and other humors indicate that the poison is working in your blood. You feel languid, heavy, dull, you awake in the morning unrefreshed. Beware! Drive these symptoms away at once!

Take Kickapoo Indian Sagwa. It will cleanse your system, heal your diseased organs, purify and enrich the blood, and drive every taint of poison from your body. Then you will feel strong, bright, and active as the Indian does.

Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is composed of nature's remedies, gathered and prepared by the Kickapoo Indians, who have a knowledge of their cures, and upon which the health of the nation is dependent. It is a grand remedy for many diseases, and is highly recommended by the Indians.

Why look at the animal? If your horse looks like a contented vigor you are taught to turn him out to pasture. Why? Because there grows in every field the tender leaves of some medicinal plant which instinct tells the animal to eat, and drive every taint of poison from your body.

—OF—

School Election.

Office of the Board of Education, Duluth, Minn., April 19th, 1893.

Notice is hereby given of a special school election to be held on Saturday, April 22nd, 1893, between the hours of ten o'clock a. m. and four o'clock p. m. for the purpose of voting on the further issue of school bonds, in accordance with the following resolution, adopted by the board of education of the city of Duluth, April 1st, 1893.

Whereas, it appearing from the report of the special committee appointed to examine into the necessity for more school accommodations in West Duluth, that the erection of a new school building of sufficient capacity for the city of Duluth, is absolutely necessary in three districts;

And it appearing from the petition of D. residents of Duluth, Minn., to the board of education of the city of Duluth, that a new school building is needed there, and that the erection of such a building is a public necessity;

And it further appearing from the report of the special committee that the erection of the above named four buildings would require an expenditure of $48,000 for buildings and sites;

And it further appearing from the report of the building committee that the amount of $25,000 over and above the amount available should be provided to complete and furnish the buildings now under construction by the board of education of the city of Duluth;

Therefore, be it resolved, That we declare it to be the policy of the board of education of the city of Duluth, to erect, at once, two hundred (200) school buildings, of sufficient capacity for the city of Duluth, and to provide for the same by the issue of bonds, in accordance with the following resolution, adopted by the board of education of the city of Duluth, April 1st, 1893.

Resolved, That the board of education of the city of Duluth, do hereby authorize the issue of bonds, in accordance with the following resolution, adopted by the board of education of the city of Duluth, April 1st, 1893.

Resolved, That the board of education of the city of Duluth, do hereby authorize the issue of bonds, in accordance with the following resolution, adopted by the board of education of the city of Duluth, April 1st, 1893.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH.
Entered at the postoffice at Duluth, Minn., as second-class matter.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, Minn.,
April 20.—The cyclonic storm that was over Duluth Tuesday has moved generally to the northwest, and is central this morning over Lake Superior, having increased greatly in force
and affecting nearly all parts of the country.
Storms of this character usually move rapidly, especially at this time of year, and the swiftness of movement of this one and its increase in energy is almost unprecedented.
Heavy snow is falling along the northern shore of the lake, with much rain to the south, and two-thirds lower than the average at the center,
and rain on the southern side, and very few stations report clear weather. Some of the heaviest amounts recorded in the past few days during the past twenty-four hours are:
St. Louis 1.25 inch, St. Paul 1.00, Milwaukee
1.00, St. Louis 1.00, Indianapolis 1.00, Kansas
City 1.00.
High winds and gales are also attendant upon the storm, some of which are Detroit 35 miles, Milwaukee 35, Cleveland 35, St. Louis 35, ranging from that down to 25 miles at many stations.
The temperature has fallen over the Northwest, where an area of moderately high barometer is now central, and also over the Southwest, although no very low readings are reported. The warmest section of the country is the South Atlantic region where it is from 50
to 60.
The storm will probably advance northeast
today and pass over the lower lakes with little if any decrease in energy, and will continue to this section all day with slightly lower temperature and continued northeast gales, and be followed tomorrow by better weather. The range in temperature has been small here for the past two days, while the wind velocity has averaged much higher than usual.

DULUTH, April 20.—Severe snow and wind storm today, slightly lessening in force shifting to northwest and decreasing in force;
tomorrow, with slight changes in temperature.
R. H. BRONSON,
Local Forecast Official.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
tomorrow: For Wisconsin: Destructive rain
and wind storms today and during the night;
northwesterly gales Friday, with clearing, colder weather. For Minnnesota: Rain or snow during the night or Friday morning; dangerous northerly wind;
colder Friday morning and in the eastern portion Friday evening.

The Legislature's Record.
The state legislature, which has just closed its ninety days' session, was not worse than those which preceded it, nor was it much better. While it has committed many faults, it has also done many things that must be entered to its credit.
The warfare made upon the coal combine was a work that will cause it to be held in grateful remembrance by the people who have been the victims of that grasping combine's extortion. Very convincing evidence was obtained, showing that all competition among the retailers had been stifled by a combine of the wholesalers, although there is no doubt that the latter's interests compare in turn controlled in this respect by the producers in the Eastern coal fields. Equally deserving of praise is the searching investigation made by the pine lands committee showing how the state has been grossly defrauded for years. This committee has been continued and will pursue its investigation
during the coming two years and report to the next legislature.

The bill providing for a new capital, befitting the wealth and standing of the state and adequate for the transaction of the public business, was one of the best measures that reached the governor and received his signature. The optional free text book bill was another good measure. It does not affect Duluth, because the free text book system is already in operation here, but it will be found beneficial in other parts of the state. Its only defect is that it is not compulsory instead of optional.

One of the best bills of the session was
the new election law introduced by Mr.
Winston of Minneapolis. It simplifies
the old law and makes a needed improvement in the method of counting the ballots after they are cast. Senator Craig secured the passage of a bill giving the railroad corporations but two years more in which to select their lands granted under swamp lands, which will be a benefit to the northern part of the state. The maintenance of the state university was also provided for, an action that will be warmly endorsed throughout the state.

An important bill, which was passed
during the past week of the session, defines what a legal newspaper is. There has been much confusion on this point,
owing to the numerous general and special acts dealing with the question, and the result was the endangering of tax sales and mortgage sales owing to defective legal publications. The state editorial association prepared this bill to remedy the difficulty and it passed both houses almost unanimously. It provides that no publication shall be considered a newspaper of general circulation until it shall have been printed in whole or in part and published in the county for one year, and it repeals all acts or parts of acts, whether general or special, inconsistent therewith. This clears up all the doubts which have existed on this point and will be welcomed by the legal profession as well as by the newspaper publishers.

While these are a few of the wise measures adopted, the legislature must be commended for killing several meritorious bills. Chief among them was the reapportionment bill. Its defeat denies to the northern part of the state the representation to which it is justly entitled. It was clearly the duty of this legislature to reapportion the state into senatorial and representative districts, and its evasion of that duty is not to its credit.

Equally discreditable was the defeat
in the senate of the bill for the taxation of railroad lands, which passed the house unanimously and was killed in the other branch by the powerful influence of the railroads. The municipal charter bill also failed to get through the house, owing to a dispute between the St. Paul and Minneapolis members over some of its provisions, but whether the house should be blamed on this account is doubtful.

These are some of the more important measures, but there were a host of others killed, some good and many bad, and some of the bad ones became laws. It is believed, however, that the amount of vicious legislation is very limited.

To Boom the City.
The Toledo Blade advises its readers to boom Toledo by removing the tin cans and rubbish from their alleys and backyards. This is good advice and it might be followed in Duluth to good advantage.
The condition of many sections of the city is deplorably filthy, and the heaps of garbage and other dirt are danger signs of disease that demand the attention of the board of health. Every citizen, however, should be sufficiently concerned about the health of himself and his family to clean his own premises. If all would attend to this duty, a vast improvement would be made in the sanitary condition of the city.

As long, however, as the municipal authorities fail to establish a garbage system, whereby all the garbage will be collected and disposed of by the city,
the people can hardly be blamed for filling their backyards with these disease-breeding heaps. It is the manifest duty of the council to attend to this matter at an early date. The city should be divided in districts and contracts let for the collection and disposal of the garbage in each district, under the supervision of the board of health. An efficient system can be established in this manner, much more efficient and cheaper than when done by men and teams in the direct employ of the health department.

Dr. Jane E. Robbins, of New York,
proposes to organize an army of 200,000
children to aid by means of pledges, badges and campaign songs the work of cleaning the great American metropolis, and it may be a good idea. Children are powerful missionaries in every good cause, and their enlistment in the crusade against filth would undoubtedly prove beneficial. A few moments every day spent by the teachers in talking to the children in the public schools of the dangers of dirt and the duty of cleanliness will be worth thousands of dollars to any city. Perhaps Superintendent Denfeld may consider this a good suggestion for Duluth.

Red Lake Reservation.
According to a Washington dispatch,
President Cleveland is back of the activity of the interior department in preparing for an investigation of the pine land frauds in Minnesota. That the department has become thoroughly aroused to the importance of the charges made by Maj. Baldwin and the necessity of taking instant action to prevent further frauds is shown by the dismissal of all the appraisers on Red Lake reservation.

This action is the direct result of representations made by Maj. Baldwin that crooked work had been contemplated in the sale of the timber on that reservation,
and that a certain clique of lumbermen had formed a combination whereby the valuable pine was to be purchased at very small figures. He claimed to be in possession of evidence that shows that the government surveyors were working in the interest of the lumber ring and appraising the timber lands at prices far below their actual value. That the evidence he produced in support of this assertion was strong is shown by the dismissal of the surveyors against whom the charge was made.

Maj. Baldwin is doing splendid work in his crusade against the pine land ring.
The Grand Rapids Magnet (Republican) voices the feelings of the people of the whole Sixth district when it says that "Mr. Baldwin is deserving of the deepest thanks for his prompt action in preventing a repetition of the steals that have been alleged to have taken place in times gone by."

Mr. Wack of Le Sueur, who was roasted in the legislature on Tuesday as a spy in the interest of the lumbermen and was summarily bounced from the pine lands investigation committee, is reported to be very sore over the castigation he received. He declares he will not return as a member of the next legislature, as he is sick of legislatures.
If the people of Le Sueur be wise they will not send him back, and the whole state is sick of seeing men of the Wack stamp in the legislative halls.

A Georgia colonel came suddenly upon Baby Ruth and her nurse in the White House the other day and before the nurse could stop him, lifted up Baby Ruth and kissed her. And now it is announced that President Cleveland intends to make him consul to Edinburgh.
Here's a pointer for the other anxious place hunters in Washington, not forgetting several hundred Georgians.

It is expected that the vote on the Irish home rule bill will be reached in

The Athletic Exhibition.
The athletic exhibition by the members of the Y. M. C. A. at the Temple last evening drew a good audience and was a clever entertainment. The tumbling by Messrs. G. Greene, leader, Mc-Phail, Mitchell, Richey, Scott, King,
Blake, Bellevue, McGuire and Groschman was one of the features. The horizontal bar work by Messrs. S. McPhail, leader, Barnes, Lutes, Larson, Richey, Gros-
schman and King was also very well done.
Julius Barnes' club swinging was fine and received great applause. The wrestling by Walter Lutes and Dr. Day was a good exhibition although rather one sided. Lutes being considerably the heavier. F. Kretschmar's solo was received with great favor by the audience
as was also George Ransom's cello solo.

the presentation of 'Galatea,' being an operatic version of 'Pygmalion' and
'Galatea.' Of course Miss McCusker as
'Galatea,' who is the star of the company,
came in for the largest share of the applause. Her singing is always wonderfully clear and sweet, and last night was no exception. Her solo at the beginning of the second act was the crown of the evening. Her spirited, unaffected and graceful manner, and matchless voice, place her in the front rank of operatic singers. She was repeatedly encored last evening. Miss Cushman made a splendid impression, as did Miss

KIMBALL'S MORTGAGES

Some Facts Disclosed by an Examination of the Records in the City Clerk's Office.

The Articles Covered Include Nearly Everything From Diamonds and Furniture to a Dog and Parrot.

Interesting Reminiscence Connected With the Parrot "Harry," One of the Finest in the West.

C. R. Kimball denies that he is leaving town with any intention of leaving his creditors in the lurch, but some of the creditors think otherwise. In order to refresh the gentleman's memory, the following list of mortgages on chattels, recorded in City Clerk Richardson's office, is given. Only two satisfactions appear, and according to the filing date, some of the goods released were mortgaged within ten minutes of the recording of the satisfaction.

For instance, on May 23, 1892, a mortgage appears running from Chas. R. Kimball to J. W. Trumble and covering the following goods: One diamond shirt stud, one watch, one gold watch chain, a gold watch and chain, a crescent diamond pin and a diamond ring. The number of this document is 3638, on the record books. A satisfaction (No. 8297) of this mortgage was recorded on June 24, 1892, one month later. The same articles with the addition of a pair of diamond cuff buttons were placed "in hole" and G. J. Ramsden was the holder of the new lien, and there is no further record of its satisfaction.

Smith, Farrell & Steele appear to hold an unsatisfied mortgage of several hundred dollars against M. S. Kimball dated Feb. 10, 1892, which covers a lot of carpets and draperies, and the record number is 8218. Instrument No. 4283 is a mortgage on a lot of furniture running from C. R. Kimball to Rainey & French company, dated Aug. 12, 1890, for $322.25. There is a satisfaction of a $247.15 mortgage to H. Heier recorded on Sept. 10, 1892.

Kimball's large safe appears to have been fearfully and wonderfully transferred, sold and disposed of. The Diebold Safe and Lock company had a $250 interest in it on Sept. 17, 1890, and on Jan. 27, 1890, a bill of sale of C. R. Kimball's interest, subject to certain mortgage balances, was given to L. J. Kimball, the satisfaction being $100. Near the close of the same year, or Dec. 24, 1890, the same safe was mortgaged by L. J. Kimball, parenthetically described as (Sons, B. S.) to Chas. R. Kimball for $200, and two days later the safe was mortgaged to Mrs. Mattie Kimball for $200. In June 10, 1891, M. S. Kimball mortgaged a lot of furniture, etc., to Mrs. F. J. Ramsden for $300, and on the previous mortgage the pug dog "Dud" and "parrot Harry" and cage were included in the list of mortgaged articles.

The Kimball parrot, "Harry," is a remarkable bird, probably one of the best in the West, and is one of the remnants of the Kimball bird store experience in Minneapolis some years ago, before the present Mrs. Kimball landed up so largely in Charles Kimball's close proximity. Thereby hangs a tale which does not altogether belong to the parrot. The story goes, about with the trials of the Kimball family in Minneapolis, the palmer days in Minneapolis he became enamored of a lady whose husband kept a bird store in that city. Charles's track of amatory ploys was not at all reciprocated by the lady, but as a grand coup Charles bought the bird store out and the result is there was a parrot truce sale, the original proprietor going elsewhere in search of health and a new place to commence business. He agreed to leave his wife for a certain time to instruct Mr. Kimball in the intricacies of the bird business, the lady's presence being part of the conditions of the trade.

The husband departed and Charles's passion was lulled into a fancied somnolence by the cooing of his doves, the chatter of his parrots and the trials of his hennies and other songsters, but love laughs at restraint and Charles is said to have avowed his passion. The lady refused to remain any longer in the store, whereupon Mr. Kimball declared the agreement broken and refused or neglected to settle for the balance of the trade. He left the feathered business shortly afterwards, taking with him the celebrated parrot "Harry" as a souvenir of his days of dealing with feathered creatures.

The present Mrs. Kimball has had a rather varied experience not the least striking part of which is her alleged account of a shipwreck which she says she witnessed with great gusto. Mrs. Kimball has her dates and the course of the vessel somewhat mixed up, but the mere fact that the record of any such shipwreck as the one spoken of does not appear on marine records is probably an oversight on the part of the reporter, but the story is well told nevertheless.

There are eight unsatisfied judgments docketed against the Kimballs in the district court, some of them from Hennepin county. Holts Brothers have one for $160.35; Schuchman & Evans $272.73; M. S. Burrows & Co., $74.95; Silberstein & Bondy, $74.77; H. E. Kimball, $18.01; McMullen & Co., $30.30; Milton D. Wilson, $137.77; and Verline Truesdell, $49.92. On the Wilson judgment $43.67 has been paid.

TO HELP YOUNG WOMEN.

Organization of the Young Women's Christian Association in Duluth.

The women of Duluth are interested in all good works, and the latest movement is the organization of a Young Women's Christian association to provide for the improvement of the physical, social, intellectual and spiritual condition of the young women of the city. Both old and young have entered enthusiastically into the work, and it is hoped that centrally located rooms can be secured where young women can congregate, hold evening classes, social and spiritual meetings, have parlor and reading-room, facilities for light gymnastics, a place for any who are in business to enjoy the noon hour and rest, and by boarding-house directory and information bureau, to aid in a sisterly way any who may be strangers in the city.

So far as possible the association will endeavor to touch the various sides of young women's nature and seek to develop the true and noble in all young women who come in touch with the work. At a meeting held in the Congregational church parlors yesterday afternoon the following were elected as permanent officers: President, Mrs. C. F. Howe; vice president, Mrs. J. A. Watson; secretary, Mrs. C. W. Rickard; treasurer, Miss Ella Roe; board of managers to represent the different churches for a term of one year, Mrs. Watson Moore, Mrs. Geo. Buck, Mrs. H. B. Moore, Mrs. J. S. Reeves; for two years, Mrs. S. F. White, Mrs. J. C. Davis, Mrs. J. E. Wieland, Mrs. C. Roecker; for three years, Mrs. C. E. Shannon, Mrs. W. A. McGonagle, Mrs. G. M. Smith, Mrs. H. H. Hanford.

Far and Wide.
Not on this broad continent alone, but in distant breeding tropical regions, in Guatemala, Mexico, South America, the Isthmus of Panama, and elsewhere, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters affords to inhabitants and sojourners protection against malaria. The miner, the freshly arrived immigrant, the tiller of the virgin soil, newly robbed of his forests by the ax of the pioneer, find in the superb and febrile specific a preserver against the poisonous miasma which in vast districts thick in natural resources, is yet fertile in disease. It annihilates disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels, fortifies those who use it against rheumatic ailments, breed and fostered by outdoor exposure; induces general warmth into a frame chilled by a rigorous temperature, and robs of their power to harm morning and evening mists and vapors laden with hurtfulness; strengthens the weak and conquers incipient kidney trouble.

A LEGAL NEWSPAPER.

Publication for One Year Necessary in Order to Publish Legal Notices.

The following bill, which was prepared by the state editorial association, was passed by the house on April 14, with only two dissenting votes, and on April 17 went through the senate and received the governor's signature. It defines what is a newspaper entitled to publish legal notices, official proceedings, etc., and repeals all the former general and special laws on the subject.

Section 1. A newspaper in order to entitle it to publish the laws of this state or any legal notices required by law to be published, shall, in addition to all the requirements of the law now in force, conform to the following definition, viz.: A newspaper is a collection of reading matter in columns and sheet form, the matter consisting of general and local news, comments and miscellaneous literary items, printed daily, tri-weekly, semi-weekly or weekly at an established office or known place of business, equipped with the necessary materials except presses, skilled workmen for preparing and printing the same in whole or in part in the village, town or city at which it is dated, and generally circulated in the town, city or county where said office or place of business is located. Provided that no publication shall be considered a newspaper of general circulation unless it shall have been printed in whole or in part for one year, and shall consist of four pages of five columns or more to each page, each column not less than seventeen and three-quarter inches long or its equivalent in space, and the proprietor or publisher thereof shall print, publish and deliver at each regular issue not less than 250 complete copies of such publication to paying subscribers. Provided, further, that publications which are substantially duplicates, and publications which are made up of newspaper clippings or plates and patents and advertisements shall not be recognized as legitimate newspapers of general circulation.

Sec. 2. The publisher of any newspaper in this state desiring to publish the laws or legal notices required by law to be published shall file with the county auditor of the county in which the newspaper is published an affidavit in writing, or partly in writing and partly printed, subscribed by the affiant and sworn to before a justice of the peace, to administer oaths, stating the name of the town, county, city or village where said newspaper is printed and published, and whether said newspaper is a daily, tri-weekly, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper, and the days of the week on which said newspaper is published, and that the number of the regular paid subscribers of said newspaper exceeds 250; and until the filing of such affidavit no money shall be received by the publisher for the publication of the laws of any county, town, village or city, and no action shall be maintained by such proprietor or publisher for the collection of any fees for publishing any notice required by law to be published.

Sec. 3. Any newspaper conforming to the description given in section 1 and complying with the requirements of section 2 of this act shall be considered a legal newspaper in all the meaning of the term, and shall be entitled to publish all legal notices, general laws, foreclosures of mortgage sales, probate notices, and any other legal or official notices of any kind whatsoever required by law to be published in a newspaper.

Sec. 4. If in any county but one newspaper is published and such newspaper does not comply with this law as to length of time for publication and number of papers printed and published, and any other legal or official notices of any kind whatsoever required by law to be published in a newspaper.

Sec. 5. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage; provided, however, that so far as printing and publishing the general laws of the state are provided in section 12, chapter 5, of the General Statutes of 1878, this act shall be in force and effect from and after the first day of July, 1893.

MAY APPOINT NILSON

There is a Possibility That Mayor d'Autechmont May Nominate Him for Another Term.

Several Democrats Waited on His Honor Yesterday and Requested That He be Appointed.

He Agreed to Take the Matter Under Advisement—The Council Would Undoubtedly Confirm.

There is a prospect that Nils Nilson will be his own successor on the board of public works for the next three years—not by default either, but by actual and regular appointment by the mayor and confirmation by the city council.

Yesterday a committee of prominent Democrats called upon the mayor and requested that he reappoint Nilson. Among the arguments made was that of the desirability of maintaining the non-partisan features of the board, in accordance with the precedent established by Republican mayors and a city government overwhelmingly Republican. Then the demands of the times and the great necessity of having the matter settled for the business good of the city were pointed out to the mayor. Things now are unsettled. Certain important business should receive attention at once and in the present muddled condition of affairs and the doubts as to the legal status of the board and its powers, the public good imperatively demands that the mayor take some action that will meet the ready confirmation of the council.

It is well known that Mr. Nilson would be quickly and probably unanimously confirmed by that body. The Democratic members of the board would raise no objections nor complaints at Nilson's reappointment, as they consider his knowledge of stone and brick work of great value during the construction of the canal tunnel.

The mayor agreed to take the request of his visitors under advisement and there are those betting two to one that he will consent to carry out the wishes of the Democratic committee. "It will go mighty hard with the mayor to do that," said The Herald's informant, "for he has taken a stand and is a man who dislikes to recede. He never yet has appointed a Republican to office and will hate terribly to do so at this late day in his term of office. If he does, it will be because he thinks it is for the best good of the city, a patriotic act and because he feels that politics should be secondary to all that."

WENT A LITTLE TOO FAR.
 A Young Man of Sporting Inclinations Gets Into Trouble.

John Schneider, Jr., was brought into police court to answer to a charge of grand larceny in the second degree preferred by J. H. Boyle. The complaint alleges that the defendant secured $200 from the Marine National Bank of Duluth by making a draft on himself at the National German bank of St. Paul, knowing that he had no deposit there, and cashed it. His hearing was set for 2 o'clock next Monday afternoon, bail being fixed at $500.

Schneider is a young fellow with sporting inclinations and a wealthy father. It is said that the old gentleman has put up for his prodigal until he has become weary. Some who know something of young Schneider's actions express an opinion that he has led the pace that kills until he is not wholly right in the upper story. He has been around town all winter and has an uncle here.

Frank Galinsky pleaded guilty to the charge of assault in the third degree. His offense was committed by throwing a hatchet and cutting a gash in the arm of a boy whom Galinsky alleges had been stoning him and his house. Twenty dollars and costs were assessed on the defendant for his little burst of passion.

John H. Colson and Thomas Gibbons, for too intimate acquaintance with the cup that inebriates, were sent up ten days. Charles Johnson, John Fillburn and S. Peach, charged with trespassing on private property by stealing a ride in a box car from Minneapolis to Duluth, were sent up five days each.

The Doctors Answer.
 Drs. Magie and Boyer, who have been sued in the United States circuit court for damages for malpractice by James H. Howard, of Superior, filed their answer yesterday. Howard claims that his arm was not properly set, but the defendants deny this and say that if it did not heal it was his own fault.

Notice I. O. O. F.
 There will be a meeting of Duluth Encampment tonight. All members are requested to be present as there will be a delegation from La Prairie and the whole work will be exemplified. By order of the C. P. E. GOERING, Scribe.

ANOTHER LAKESIDE FIRE.

The Residence of Hiram N. Rhodes Destroyed Early This Morning.

At 2 o'clock this morning the residence of Hiram N. Rhodes at Lakeside was wholly consumed by fire together with the contents. About a year and a half ago, Mr. Rhodes lost quite a substantial dwelling by fire, which he never yet has rebuilt. The building just burned was a small structure standing on the lot back of the site of the larger house. The scene of the fire is just across the street from the residence of Alexander Robert which was burned at almost the same moment yesterday morning. The origin of this morning's fire is not known nor has it been possible since if Mr. Rhodes was at home. His family is visiting in Dakota. The loss is probably about $500. The residents of Lakeside feel that it is a disaster which has taken up quarters in their midst.

THE COURT FILINGS.
 List of Legal Papers Filed With or Issued by Clerk Sinclair Today.

The following important legal papers were either filed in or issued out of the office of Clerk Sinclair, of the district court:

Complaint in Ed. M. Thorpe vs. M. Penber and J. L. Penber. The facts set forth are as given in The Herald yesterday. The damages asked for are $5294.75.
 Notice of a motion for an order to allow the filing of a claim and a release of Levy Brothers in the matter of the assignment of Ludwig Kahn, insolvent.

An unsatisfactory account of $53.37 against Robert McFerran in favor of Herman Beier.

Notice of appeal and statutory bond to the supreme court in H. M. Bradley vs. R. B. Whitesides et al.

An execution on a transcript from the municipal court in favor of Thomas Benton and against J. A. Ross et al. for $339.75.

Marriage license issued to A. August Hammar and Ida Backman.

First citizenship papers issued to Ambrose Kelly, of Canada.

THE DISTRICT COURT.
 David Ogilvie Gets a Verdict For Three Hundred Dollars.

Before Judge Ensign in room 1, of the district court the case of James Sheridan et al. vs. Chandler Iron company et al. was by stipulation placed at the foot of the calendar. The jury was waived in the case of Benj. F. Howard et al. vs. the St. Paul & Duluth railroad and the action goes on the court list. The case of John Young vs. Jethro Mitchell was reported as settled. The damage suit of Marcha Peters vs. the city of Duluth is still on trial.

Before Judge Lewis in room 2, the jury in David Ogilvie vs. Otto Erickson returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $202. A stay of twenty days was ordered. The suit of C. W.ingham, as executor against H. P. Mills to recover a verdict on a disputed promissory note is on trial.

A SCENE OF SPLENDOR.
 M. S. Burrows & Co.'s Elegant Store Presents a Beautiful Sight Today.

On the outside of the clothing store of M. S. Burrows & Co. today rages an unseasonable, half-tamed blizzard; within, all is a scene of beauteous splendor and solid comfort. When this reliable firm says a thing, it means it; when it agrees to do a thing, it is accordingly done. Today was fixed for the World's Columbian Exposition sale and opening. That sale and opening is now in progress.

Because of the inclemency of the weather the grand ball tendered at the Pavilion to the clerks by the proprietors of this popular establishment has been postponed until next Monday evening. The low prices which are always made at these special openings will continue tomorrow, Saturday and Monday.

Today many ladies and gentlemen braved the storm and dropped in to secure bargains, examine the display of goods and feast their eyes on the decorations upon the handsome decorations which are lavishly arranged in every possible nook and corner. The mammoth show windows under the careful attention of the dressers attract universal attention.

Entering the wide front door, the eye is greeted with the large oil portrait of Columbus. On the many gables of the store are striking decorations in the form of flags of various nations. The stars and stripes are seen with pleasing frequency—loyalty to customers and country being one of the characteristics of this firm.

The floral decorations are being furnished by the wholesale houses patronized by M. S. Burrows & Co. The designs are most beautiful and represent no small expense to the donors. Roses predominated and up to noon, the wholesale houses of Chicago, Sternberg Bros., of New York, and Danube, Cohn & Co., of Chicago, had been heard from. The evening train will bring many additional contributions. Endeavors will be made to keep all these fresh until Monday.

At the front of the store stands the tiny cart of natural wool, only 30 inches high, with a double seat and corduroy trimmings, together with the silver trimmed little harness. Those go with the pony, which will be presented to the child who guesses nearest its weight. This little animal is a thoroughbred Shetland, and standing on the floor, hitched to the cart, is 42 inches high, 30 inches long and 30 inches in girth. Little Prince is now 4 years old, is a black bay, with a flowing mane and tail, can be ridden or driven and cost the importer $1000 in the Shetland islands.

Columbian half dollars are being given away to each customer who spends $20 and asks for the coin. The clerks are engaged in a friendly rivalry to see who can offer the customers and visitors the most attention, while Mr. M. S. Burrows himself presides over the scene and takes part in its features in a manner that is both natural to him and productive of much credit and numerous compliments.

The moral to this brief story is, "attend Burrows' Columbian exposition sale and spring and summer opening."

Cutting Down the Force.
 WASHINGTON, April 20.—Secretary Morton yesterday ordered the dismissal of forty-one assistant microscopists, one clerk and a bookkeeper attached to the bureau of animal industry and assigned to duty in Chicago. The dismissals take effect April 22. The reason for the dismissal is the reduced condition of the work.

MUDGE IS DISCONSOLATE.

A Duluth Husband Whose Wife Fled With an Actor.

Bert Mudge, the husband in a little triangular affair at the Hotel Nicolet in Minneapolis last Friday night, in which Actor Babcock of the Nat Goodwin company and Mudge's wife were involved, writes from Duluth to the Minneapolis papers giving his version of the affair.

He declares that he tried to secure the arrest of both his wife and Babcock, but as the alleged offense was committed in Chicago he could not do so. Mudge declares that both his wife and Babcock admitted their guilt to him. He closes his letter in this tragic vein: "This is a true story, and nothing but the truth, by all my hopes in heaven. May God forgive Babcock for his crime. To satisfy his lust he has made two people unhappy for life. He has robbed me of the sweetest that earth could hold for me and I am today a witless husband with nothing but a ruined life and a blotted name. I am yours very truly, BERT MUDGE."

They lived in Chicago before coming to Duluth recently.

CHARTERS AT CLEVELAND.
 Little Attention to Duluth Offers on Wheat to Chicago.

CLEVELAND, April 20.—Brokers are offering tonnage freely at 15 cents on ore from Escanaba, but shippers say they are not disposed to hurry matters on account of their relations towards the furnacemen and preparations not having been made as yet for moving ore from Escanaba. They are unwilling to talk of charters at any price.

Little attention is paid to the Duluth offer of 34 cents on wheat to Chicago on account of the danger of boats being tied up at Chicago, where the facilities for unloading are said to be confined to one elevator.

THE ANN ARBOR TROUBLE.
 The Road Will Not Discharge Any Non-Union Men.

TOLEDO, O., April 20.—The brotherhood men are still in session. They say that nothing has developed today. They will not talk on the situation. The Ann Arbor officials say they will take the strikers back as they need them, but that is all. They will not discharge any non-union men.

The advisory board, as gathered from their language, are not pleased with General Manager Ashley's attitude. They do not talk, but are in session all the time, and say they will be here for several days to come. Their plans, they say, will suffer from being made public just now.

A South Dakota Elopement.
 SIOUX FALLS, S. D., April 20.—News comes from Bridgewater, that James Develin and Mrs. Bert Michael have eloped. Charles Young, who was Develin's constable, stole a team from Michael, and while the latter was searching for the horse thief his wife and Develin disappeared.

OWING TO THE Unseasonable Weather TODAY

We have thought best to postpone the ball until Monday evening of next week, April 24th, which will take place at the Pavilion as formerly arranged.

The Floral Display is Most Beautiful!

Large quantities of flowers have already arrived and every incoming express is laden with fragrant perfume and flowers for the Great Eastern. We shall do everything possible to preserve them, just as long as possible, in all their natural beauty, but would suggest that all come as early as convenient to see them at their best. Many who braved the storm were very enthusiastic in their praise and felt fully repaid for their trouble.

SUFFERED BY STORMS

Ypsilanti, Mich., Which Was Recently Struck
by a Destructive Cyclone, Received Another Hard Blow.

Terrific High Seas on the Atlantic Coast and Several Vessels Known to Be Ashore.

Fourteen Men Were Drowned at the Milwaukee Waterworks Tunnel, James Miller Alone Being Saved.

DETROIT, Mich., April 21.—Throughout this city business and private houses suffered severely by a fierce gale last night. Roofs were torn off, electric towers blown down and a number of persons were seriously injured by falling signs. At one time the wind attained a velocity of seventy-five miles an hour, and at 8 o'clock last night was blowing
forty-seven miles an hour.

Ypsilanti, which suffered so heavily from the recent cyclone, received another hard blow yesterday. The heavy rains have damaged property there to the extent of $50,000. Cook & Brown, furniture dealers, suffered another big loss to their stock by reason of water pouring in.
The work of putting roofs on buildings damaged by the recent tornado has progressed as rapidly as possible, but most buildings are open to the elements. The Scharf toy factory, valued at $40,000, was nearly ruined.

At 8 o'clock last night a telephone message from Amherstburg, Ont., at the month of the Detroit river, stated that a small schooner has been blown on to the bench of Lake Erie and that three of her crew are missing. The report failed to give the names of the vessel or the missing men. A relief party at once started for the scene.

TERRIFIC HIGH SEAS.

Steamers Arriving Today Report Violent Weather at Sea.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The heavy easterly gale destroyed all communication with Sandy Hook and the life saving stations along the coast, and nothing has been heard from them since yesterday. The steamers arriving this morning all report violent weather and terrific high seas.

The steamer Adams, which arrived
this morning from Colon, reports passing off Long Branch yesterday two boats,
one with three coal barges and the other with two in tow. The barges were in a sinking condition and the tow boat was alongside taking off the crew.

Another barge had broken adrift. The tow boat appeared to be the Morsa and one of the barges was marked "Pocahontas." One of these vessels belongs to the Boston Tow Boat company.

FOURTEEN WERE DROWNED.

Only One Man Escaped at the Milwaukee
Waterworks Tunnel.

MILWAUKEE, April 21.—Only one of the fifteen workmen employed in the construction of the waterworks intake tunnel escaped with his life from the fierce storm yesterday, the others being drowned. This was James Miller, who was saved by the heroic efforts of the life saving crew.

The following is the list of the dead:
John McBride, engineer, Chicago;
Michael Dyer, fireman, Milwaukee;
William Priesner, fireman, Chicago;
George Gregg, lock tender, Milwaukee;
James Murphy, miner, Milwaukee;
Joseph Pezot, miner, Milwaukee; Gustav Lickowicz, miner, Milwaukee; Peter Sones, miner, Milwaukee; William Marion, miner, Chicago; Charles Johnson, miner, Chicago; John Healy, miner, Milwaukee; Frank Brown, miner, Milwaukee; John Donovan, miner, Chicago; Edward Cambrian, (colored), steward, Chicago.

The steamer Burroughs went out to the wrecked crib this morning and ten bodies were removed from the air shaft where yesterday fourteen men met death. The bodies recovered were those of William Priesner, Michael Dyer, Joseph Pezot, Gustav Lickowicz, John Healy, Frank Brown, John Donovan, John Martin and James Murphy. They were removed to the morgue.

The district attorney will impanel a jury for the inquest tomorrow morning after which the funerals of the men will take place.

Two bodies were washed ashore this morning. They were those of George Gregg and Jack MacBride. This list with James Miller, the sole survivor, leaves
but one man unaccounted for. His body is doubtless floating around in the lake.
Miller is doing well this morning and will live.

THE WORST ON RECORD.

A Hotel and Other Buildings at Cheyboygan Unroofed.

CHEYBOYGAN, Mich., April 21.—The gale which has been raging here for the past twenty-four hours or more is the worst ever experienced. The new Cheyboygan hotel is partly unroofed. Many other buildings have been unroofed, and lumber has been blown into the river and lake.

The loss will reach into the thousands of dollars. The big steamer Cheyboygan drifted ashore in Duncan bay but was pulled off with little damage. More wrecks are expected.

TWO SCHOONERS ASHORE.

Twenty-Seven Lives Saved by the Life Saving Stations.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Supt. Kimball is informed that the schooner Hattie
S. Williams, of Taunton, Mass., from Baltimore to Fall River, Mass., went ashore at Squan Beach, N. J., last night in the severe storm. Her crew of ten men was saved in the breeches buoy.

The crew of seven men of the schooner Henry Congdon from Boston to Norfolk, Va., which stranded last night off Asbury Park, N. J., was also saved by the breeches buoy. This makes a total of twenty-seven lives saved yesterday by the United States life saving stations.

THE COLUMBUS CARAVELS.

They Reached Hampton Roads Today and Were Royally Received.

FORT MONROE, Va., April 21.—The three Columbus caravels arrived here at 10:30 o'clock this morning in tow of the three Spanish war ships and were received with great thunder of salutes and display of the flags of the coast. They represented by the fleets, and camped anchor at the end of the American line of vessels.

The day could not have been more beautiful or the scene more impressive,
as they came in the roads decorated from jib boom to tailfall, with the flags of Castile and Aragon and Queen Isabella standing out and fluttering in the gentle breeze. The little fleet were tumbled about off the Virginia coast yesterday in a lively fashion by the northerly wind that blew all day, but they managed to make the capes early this morning and taking pilots abroad proceeded in.

At the head of the fleet was the unprotected cruiser Infanta Isabel, towing the flag-ship Santa Maria which displayed the flag of an admiral. Behind and a mile astern came the torpedo vessel Espana with the Nina as her charge, and in the latter's wake was the big black protected cruiser Reina Regente with the Pinta.

They were towed by at least a quarter of a mile of hawser and looked like so many ducks setting on the water with the feathers of their tails plucked. When off the fort the stars and stripes were broken out and saluted by the leader,
the fort quickly responding.

Before the Santa Maria was abreast of the Philadelphia, the Dutch frigate Van Speyk ran up the ship's colors and saluted them with thirteen rounds. Then the Russian ship General Admiral commenced to salute, and later every flag ship in the harbor honored these curious looking crafts and the country they came from.

THE IRISH HOME RULE BILL.

The Final Encounter Over Its Second Reading at Hand.

LONDON, April 21.—The members of the house of commons flocked early to the house to secure seats for the final encounter over the second reading of the Irish home rule bill. Dr. C. K. Tanner, Nationalist member for Middle Cork, was the first to arrive, being present at 6 o'clock in the morning.

Several other Nationalists and several representatives of the Ulster Unionists followed Dr. Tanner closely, and many other members were in their seats much more promptly than usual. Dr. Tanner had a special reason for being early, besides his interest in the home rule bill.
He was entrusted with the pleasing duty of presenting to Prime Minister Gladstone, at 8 o'clock, a beautiful bouquet of flowers, sent from Ireland and accompanied by the inscription: "All blessings and power to the friend of the poor and distressed Ireland. May God preserve you."

MORE SCARED THAN HURT.

The Report of a Negro Riot in Arkansas is Baseless.

MORRILLTON, Ark., April 21.—There has been no riot or any indications of one. A construction train came here last night about 12 o'clock. The negro hands made a great noise unloading some ties and several citizens, thinking it was a negro uprising, rushed down town.

During the excitement a shotgun was discharged and a flesh wound inflicted on a special agent of the U. S. marshal.
Everything quiet and no indications of any trouble.

Approved the Compromise.

BRUSSELS, April 21.—The Belgian senate has approved the compromise granting universal suffrage accompanied by plural voting based on education and property as adopted by the chamber of representatives. By the Belgian constitution the power of making laws is vested in the chamber of representatives and the senate.

The Pullman Company.

NEW YORK, April 21.—At the adjourned annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pullman Palace Car company held in this city today it was voted to increase the capital stock 20 per cent to be issued at the discretion of the board of directors. The company has declared a quarterly dividend of $2 per share, payable May 15.

Mr. Carlisle's Statement.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Secretary Carlisle's statement on the gold situation was the general topic of conversation in Wall street this forenoon. It was not favorably received, on the ground that it was found to be indefinite. Most of the bankers seen professed themselves unable to comprehend the secretary's exact intention with reference to the treasury notes.

Ambassador Bayard.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Hon. T. F.
Bayard, ambassador to Great Britain,
who came over to Washington yesterday
to attend the reception given last night by Sir John Lubbock, the British ambassador, was at the White House and state department this morning. He will sail for London May 20.

Mr. Booth's Condition.

NEW YORK, April 21.—It was announced this morning at the Players club that the condition of John Wilkes Booth,
the tragedian, was unchanged.

Into a Receiver's Hands.

PHILADELPHIA, April 21.—The Pennsylvania Steel company has gone into the hands of a receiver.

plumbers in this city are out on strike
because the master plumbers will not recognize their right to the employment of apprentices.

BLINDED BY PEPPER

Two Murderers Made Their Escape From Sing Sing Prison at an Early Hour Today.

They Threw Pepper in the Guards' Eyes, Took Away Their Revolvers and Locked Them Up.

Several Officers Were Suspended as There Is Evidence That the Prisoners' Freedom Was Purchased.

NEW YORK, April 21.—A special to the Evening World from Sing Sing, N. Y., says: Murderers Thomas Pallister and Frank W. Rohle, both under sentence of death, have escaped from Sing Sing prison. The discovery was made at 5:40 o'clock this morning. When Guard Glim entered the condemned cell row
as usual he was astonished at discovering the two night watchmen locked in the murderers' cells.

When the guards were released they told a remarkable story. According to Guard Hulz, at 7 o'clock last night he passed supper in to Pallister. The condemned man threw a handful of pepper into the guard's eyes. Hulz was blinded and Pallister rushed on him, took his revolver away from him and under threats of death forced Hulz into his (Pallister's)
cell, first taking the keys away from him.
He then unlocked the cell of Murderer
Frank Rohle.

The two murderers then unlocked the cells of Carlyle W. Harris and Murderer Osmond. They invited these two to escape with them. Both Harris and Osmond refused the offer to escape. Pallister and Rohle waited until 9 o'clock when Guard Murphy came on duty. As Murphy entered the corridor, Pallister presented his pistol at Murphy's head and took his keys away from him and locked him up.

Pallister took Guard Hulz's shoes and cap away from him and put them on himself, threatening to kill the guards if they made any outcry. The two murderers climbed to the top of the cells and knocked off the shuttles in the roof.
In this way they got on the roof, climbed down into the yard and made their escape, whether by the river or over the walls was not known this morning. The terrible story night of course facilitated their escape.

As soon as the escape was reported,
Warden Brown sent out his men to scour
the country. It is supposed that Pallister had been saving the pepper given him daily with his meals with the object of escape in view.

Guards Glim and Murphy have been suspended, also. Officers of the Guard Glim and Maher. Glim and Maher are supposed to make the rounds of the murderers' now. It leaked out this morning that a brother of Rohle arrived in this city about ten days ago from Germany with $7000 which Rohle had inherited.
The brother upon seeing his brother
upon Goldberg & McLaughlin, the prisoner's counsel, and informed them that he was going to Sing Sing. After a stay of a few days there, he returned to the city and said he would immediately return to Europe. He is believed to have remained in this country and assisted in his brother's escape.

AGAINST THE EDISON COMPANY.

An Important Decision in Relation to Incandescent Lamps.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 21.—In the United States court of appeals this morning a decision in the case of the Edison Electric Light company against the Columbia Incandescent Lamp company was given against the Edison company and in favor of the Columbia Incandescent company.

Heavy Gold Shipments.

NEW YORK, April 21.—At the subsidiary meeting of the $200,000,000 interest notes were deposited against the withdrawal of an equal amount of gold.
Of these notes $500,000 were treasury
notes and the remainder gold certificates and United States notes. Cashier Muhl-man of the sub-treasury has not received any word from Washington to make a change in the method for receiving payment for gold. Counting $500,000 engaged by the Canadian Bank of Commerce yesterday, the total gold engagement for shipments to Europe and Canada amount to $5,140,000.

The Duchess to go to Prison.

LONDON, April 21.—The dowager duchess of Sutherland, who was sentenced Tuesday last by Sir Francis Jeune, president of the court of probate, to be imprisoned for six weeks and to pay a fine of £250 for contempt of court in having burned a document she was permitted to inspect by order of the court, will surrender tonight to undergo the sentence of imprisonment.

The Cabinet in Session.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The cabinet
was in session two hours this morning, at which it is understood the financial situation was discussed. Secretary Carlisle returned to the treasury at 2:30, and in response to an inquiry declined to say anything regarding the financial situation.

A Desperate Shot.

DENVER, Col., April 21.—Dick Taylor,
a noted desperado, was shot and killed
by Constable Dafer in South Denver early this morning while attempting to break into a store. Taylor was known as a terror from Wyoming to Texas and was wanted in a hundred different places for horse stealing, highway robbery and burglary.

A Big Price.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The New York hotel property was sold at public auction today. The bidding began at $500,000 and ran up rapidly to $1,300,000
at which figure the property was knocked down, the buyer being Mrs. Elmer J.
Gay.

THE BELGIAN TROUBLE.

Claim That Grant of Universal Suffrage Was Not Due to the Moths.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The passage of the bill granting universal suffrage to the people of Belgium, was not due to the influence of the moths," said
Mr. Leghuit, Belgian minister to Washington, today.

"The question has been before parliament for six months, and everyone knew that some such result would be reached,
but the decision was not influenced by outside pressure. I am sure parliaments do not act that way any more than the congress of the United States would respond to demands from such a source.
The change was inevitable. We had our constitution for sixty-three years, and in some respects it was antique and modifications had to be made to suit the different conditions of today.

"The Nyssen bill," continued the minister, "provides for universal suffrage with limitations. The right to vote additional votes is conferred upon the owners of property of a certain value to the holder of a certificate of higher education, or of a professional position and upon a voter who has arrived at a certain advanced age. My belief is that the result of the first election under the new measure will show an increased number of Conservatives in parliament and a corresponding decrease of the representatives of the Liberal party who stood for the extension of the right of suffrage.

TO TEST THE GEARY ACT.

The Supreme Court Will Hear Argument in a Test Case.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The supreme court has given notice that it will hear no further arguments after the 28th of this month. It will probably then take a recess for ten days or two weeks;
again convene about May 8 and adjourn
about May 15.

The only case in which argument will be heard is a case in which the constitutionality of the Geary act will be tested.
May 5, by the provisions of this act, all Chinese now in the United States, and who have not complied with the provisions of this act as to registration are subject to deportation. This, of course, is impracticable, but as already stated in these dispatches the understanding is that several Chinamen will be arrested in New York city on May 6 and in this way the case will be brought directly to the supreme court whereby the law can be tested.

Solicitor General Aldrich will appear for the United States, making his last official appearance in the supreme court in support of the constitutionality of the Geary act. As at present arranged, the new solicitor general, Mr. Maxwell, will officially enter upon the discharge of his new duties on June 1 next. Assistant Attorney General Whitney, of New York, will assume the discharge of his official duties Sept. 28.

GOING TO BERING SEA.

American Vessels to Aid in Preventing Pelagic Sealing.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Orders have been issued at the treasury department for the revenue cutters Rush, Corwin and Bear to prepare at once for their summer cruise in the Arctic ocean,
where they will assist the United States men-of-war in patrolling the open sea,
in conjunction with British vessels, in carrying out the provisions of the modus vivendi agreed upon by the United States and Great Britain to prevent pelagic sealing in these waters.

These revenue cutters will rendezvous at Port Townsend, Wash., until about May 15, when they will enter the Arctic ocean. The Bear will sail up from San Francisco the United States man-of-war Iroquois, which has been turned over to the United States marine hospital service and will be stationed at Port Townsend as a hospital ship during the summer.

Officers have been ordered to these vessels in addition to those already on station. The Bear will be commanded by Lieut. J. E. Johnston, to the Rush, Third
Lieut. F. G. Dodge, to the Bear, First Assistant Engineer F. B. Randall to the Corwin.

BERING SEA TRIBUNAL.

Mr. Carter Continues His Able Argument for the United States.

PARIS, April 21.—J. C. Carter, of counsel for the United States before the Bering sea tribunal of arbitration, continued
his argument today, in behalf of American claims in the Bering sea. Mr. Carter criticized the weak points of the case presented in behalf of Great Britain.
He admitted that the United States asked for a monopoly of the seals, but a monopoly, he argued, could only be injurious when artificial prices were induced by it. In the present instance, that was impossible. On the contrary, the monopoly asked for by the United States will encourage production and be beneficial to humanity in the same way as the laws providing for patents and copyright.

Mr. Carter proceeded to refute the argument that the seals devoured British fish in the waters of British Columbia.
The fish in those waters, Mr. Carter said, were the property of the world. Mr.
Carter quoted from the joint report of the commissions of Great Britain and the United States, appointed to investigate the condition of seal life in the north Pacific ocean, to sustain his contention that pelagic sealing was wrong.
The United States, Mr. Carter said, would tolerate the right of the Indians to pursue the seals for their personal sustenance, but not for commercial purposes.

Kaiser in Rome.

ROME, April 21.—The German emperor rode in the suburbs of Rome this morning accompanied by the German empress and the imperial suite. The imperial party drove to the forum of Trajan and viewed the excavated remains of that magnificent structure. The emperor and empress also visited the coliseum and the emperor and party walked about the ruins of the vast amphitheater.

Gresham is Mum.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Secretary
Gresham has received a report from Commissioner Blount but states that he has nothing to give out about it.

AT THE LAND OFFICE

Land Commissioner Lamoreux Is Now at Work and His Ability Will Soon Be Demonstrated.

This Is a Position in Which the People of the Duluth District Are Greatly Interested.

Assistant Bowers' Forestry Ideas Not Likely to Be Carried Out Owing to Baldwin's Opposition.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—(Special to The Herald.)—Land Commissioner Lamoreux and Indian Commissioner Browning have finally established themselves at the head of the different departments over which they are to preside, probably for the next four years, and everybody interested in the workings of these two divisions, are in hopes that they are the right men to fill the positions for which they have been chosen.

Duluth and the surrounding country is, of course, very much interested in the transaction of business both in the land office and in the Indian bureau, and it is but natural that the citizens of this section of the country watch very carefully the policy of both these men. If the land commissioner gives the country a wise and conservative and fair administration, Duluth and the Sixth district of Minnesota will be fully as much benefited by it, than any other section of the country.

It is believed that the records of the general land office will show that fully as much important business is transacted at the Duluth land office as in any other in the United States. The business has increased, of course, owing to the fact that things have been and are still being made, not only for valuable timber lands but mineral as well as agricultural. In many instances, as is well known to The Herald readers, some very valuable mineral lands have become tangled up in legal controversies, and, on account of this fact, it is considered that the land office of Duluth and of that section of the country adjacent, will be highly gratified if Land Commissioner Lamoreux is big enough to fill the position he occupies satisfactorily.

Everyone in Washington is disposed to give the new land commissioner, as well as the commissioner of Indian affairs, a chance to see of what timber they are made, and, as it will be some weeks yet before it will be fair to criticize them, the country will have to wait until they are well in their official harness. It is to be hoped, of course, that Land Commissioner Lamoreux will not be influenced by Assistant Commissioner Bowers in withdrawing from the public domain any forests in Northern Minnesota, and especially in the Sixth district, for forest reservations.

Assistant Commissioner Bowers is an enthusiast on this point and will probably have a great deal of influence over his chief in matters of this kind. The Sixth Minnesota district, however, will have its interests watched very closely by Representative Baldwin, and, for this reason, it does not appear now that the people of that section need have any fears about the establishment of forest reservations in the valuable timber lands of the Sixth district.

Interstate Commerce.
WASHINGTON, April 21.—Senator Butler, chairman of the committee on interstate commerce, has not yet arranged for the investigation authorized by the senate and will take no step in that direction until in May some time, when he will call the committee together for that purpose. It is not likely, Mr. Butler thinks, to go to Toledo to investigate the troubles of the railroad men, but which came the decision of Judge Taft. Such investigation of this particular matter as may be made would be conducted in this city.

A Premature Statement.
LONDON, April 21.—It was announced yesterday and the report was generally credited that the earl of Derby had succumbed to the attack of heart disease from which he had been suffering. A later dispatch states that the announcement was premature.

STRICKEN DEAD.

TRUSTWORTHY STATEMENTS.

A recent New York dispatch reads: "James C. H. is a fine looking and apparently healthy man, was observed to stagger while walking on Fifth Avenue this afternoon, and after taking one or two uncertain steps fell to the sidewalk. When picked up he was dead. A physician examined the body, and pronounced heart disease the cause of death. A peculiar fact feature of the case is that Mr. H. was on his way to Maine, to settle in the home of his brother. He had passed the previous ten years in the western mining country, and had amassed a fortune. If YOU have any of the symptoms given in the following testimonials you should lose no time in seeking relief."

From John L. Roberts, Stratford, Pa.: "I have suffered with palpitation, irregular pulse, fainting and smothering spells, pain in shoulders, side, and arms for over forty years. For twelve years have been treated without avail by prominent physicians in my neighborhood and in New York. Growing constantly worse, smothering spells followed one another, so my life was often in danger and I needed constant aid. As my son had been cured by Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, he sent me three bottles. The first dose gave me instant relief. Before using the last bottle I was completely cured. I feel twenty years younger. I claim my cure to be almost a miracle."

Here is a letter from Mrs. John Kolges, of Cleveland, O.: "I had been troubled with my heart and stomach for years, but for sixteen months had been confined to my bed. I had four of the best doctors in the city, but none of them could benefit the weakness of my heart. I also had dropsy and rheumatism. I never took medicine that relieved me at once as Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure does. It is safe, effective, agreeable, and does cure." I gain strength with every dose. I have gained more in six weeks from your treatment than in sixteen months from all the doctors."

"Dr. Miles' New Cure for the Heart is sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists. It is safe, effective, agreeable, and does cure." Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

WORLD'S FAIR DAMAGED.

The Heavy Storm Caused Losses Aggregating Several Thousand Dollars.

WORLD'S FAIR GROUND, CHICAGO, April 21.—Wednesday night's storm was the worst experienced since the building of the White City. The wind attained a velocity of sixty miles an hour and the rain came down in torrents. The storm was at its height at about 5 o'clock.

The east lagoon bridge leading to the naval exhibit was undermined by the waves from Lake Michigan. The government building looks as though a volley of musketry had been fired at its eastern front, the glass being shattered in countless places through which the rain poured in.

The great dome, with its elaborate and costly decorations, is water-soaked and will require much work to be put in condition again. Books and pictures in the education department were found lying on the floor water-soaked and in the engineering department of the war exhibit many models were badly damaged and rendered useless. The patent office department, too, fared badly. A large number of models were found wet and rusted.

The manufactures building sprang leaks in scores of places and much glass is missing from the roof. The bulk of the damage is in the gallery, which in measure protected the main floor. Machinery hall, which almost escaped injury from Wednesday night's gale is suffering from the west wind which sprang up yesterday afternoon. Many panes of glass are out of the dome over the central pavilion. The buildings on the whole stood the storm fairly well, but much of the "staff" decoration was blown away. No estimate of the financial damage has yet been made by the expositors authorities, but the loss will run well up into the thousands.

SHORT IN HIS ACCOUNTS.

A Texas Man Charged With Stealing $80,000 From an Insurance Company.

ARLINGTON, Tex., April 21.—George A. Peary, a prominent citizen, church member and a business man, was arrested yesterday charged with the grand larceny of $80,000 from the Merchants and Planters' Insurance company, of Mobile, of which he was formerly secretary. Peary is a brother-in-law of Thomas H. West, a St. Louis millionaire. He was connected with the firm of Peary, Reeves and Peary, which he had joined in 1887, and he had been in the firm for several years. He was arrested by the St. Louis police, and he is now in the St. Louis jail, where he is being held for extradition to Texas.

ENDED THE DIFFICULTY.

Chilean Refugees Escape From the American Legation at Santiago.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The Herald's Valparaiso correspondent cables: There are no Chilean refugees in the United States legation. By their own act the ex-Balmacedists whom Minister Egan sheltered, and whose surrender has been demanded by the Chilean government, have terminated the difficulty so far as the governments are concerned.

News has just been received at Santiago that the refugees determined to leave the city. Blenden Holley was more successful than ex-Col. Fuentes, with whom he sought refuge in the American legation. He got away, but Fuentes was captured and placed in prison.

HUNDREDS ARE HOMELESS.

Business Portion of an Idaho Town Destroyed by Fire.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 21.—A Warden, Idaho, special says: The business portion of this city is in ruins and hundreds of people are homeless. Fire started in Lamson's clothing house between 1 and 2 o'clock Thursday morning and the flames had full headway before discovered.

The wind scattered the blazing cinders everywhere, and in a short time the whole square was a roaring furnace, and owing to the heat the firemen could not get near the buildings. Panic seized upon a portion of the crowd and men and women rushed frantically about in all kinds of costumes, carrying their goods to a place of safety.

The total loss is estimated at between $500,000 and $700,000. It is thought that less than one-third of this amount is covered by insurance.

WAS FOUND NOT GUILTY.

Sir Henry Isaacs, London's Former Lord Mayor, Acquitted.

LONDON, April 21.—The special jury in the Hansard Union case yesterday returned a verdict, declaring that Sir Henry Isaacs was not guilty of the charges preferred against him. Justice Hawkins reserved his decision as to whether the charges against Joseph Isaacs, Horatio Bottomley and Charles Dollman should go to the jury.

This long drawn out case has attracted considerable attention, owing to the fact that Sir Henry Isaacs was formerly lord mayor of London, and also because of the former extensive operations of the Hansard Union, a publishing concern which failed some time ago.

Col. McMichael Dead.

NEW YORK, April 21.—Col. Wm. McMichael, the well known lawyer and assistant attorney general, under Gen. Grant in his bed at 33 East Sixty-first street yesterday morning. Col. Wm. McMichael was born in Philadelphia, March 4, 1817, and served in the late war.

Maxwell's Disceptions.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The total number of fourth class postmasters appointed yesterday was seventy-seven, all of whom were to fill vacancies caused by removals and death.

A Boy Killed.

COLUMBUS, O., April 21.—During a high wind storm last evening the chimney of a house at 158 McDowell street blew off, burying Daniel Dirskell, a boy, under the debris, killing him instantly.

Parties who have not already secured a World's fair souvenir half dollar pocket piece, will find a few of the original 1892 issue at Day's jewelry store.

TO BE A CLEAN SWEEP

Democratic Politicians at the Capital Are Now in a More Cheerful Frame of Mind.

Said to Have Assurances That the Party Rank and File Will Have a Fair Showing.

Before the Middle of July All the Offices Will Be Filled by Democratic Workers.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The Post, in its political news has this to say: Some Democratic politicians in Washington are much more cheerful than a month ago. They have come to the conclusion that the administration intends to give the rank and file of the party a pretty fair showing after all. It was their original belief, based upon expressions coming from the White House and the various departments, that changes in office would be made only where changes were compelled, that the spirit of the mug-wump was abroad in the land and that civil service reform had at last come to stay.

For some reason best known to themselves they have changed their minds. It is now the conviction that by the 15th of next July there will be a clean sweep in all the offices, or nearly all, that are not directly governed by the civil service law. Richard Field, of Kansas City, is in Washington as an applicant for the United States attorneyship of the western district of Missouri. He is one of the most prominent members of the state bar and is backed by the leading citizens of his section. He has long been celebrated in the jurisprudence of the West and is a relative of the Field family which has displayed so much forensic and legal ability.

There was especial war yesterday among those scattered remnants of the Tennessee politicians who still work with hollow footsteps the corridors of the Elbitt house. Nine out of every ten have gone home, but a few of them are left. The cause of the trouble appeared to be in the fact that the first assistant postmaster general had not yet been appointed, and as Mr. Bissell goes to New York to witness the naval review, during his absence the ranking officer of the postal department will be Hon. Clay Evans, second assistant postmaster general and one of the most prominent Republicans of the South. They considered the Tennesseeans did, that the administration leaving a Republican at the head of one of its most important departments even for a week was an outrage.

Knocking at the Door.

The Four Territories That Are Anxious to Become States.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The committee on territories will begin the investigation of the condition of the four territories now knocking for admission to the sisterhood of states early in June. Chairman Faulkner has not yet made his selection of the sub-committee, but he has decided that the start will be made from Chicago, June 10, and will visit the territories of Nevada, Utah, Arizona and New Mexico, and will return by way of Oklahoma. The committee will pay special attention to the mental culture of the citizens and the character of the schools and buildings created for educational purposes.

MOUNTAIN IRON NOTES.

Fred Hall's Feet Frozen During Wednesday Night's Storm.

MOUNTAIN IRON, Minn., April 20.—[Special to The Herald.]—Fred Hall, while crossing from Superior City Wednesday night, froze his feet and will have to go to Duluth for repairs.

The total loss is estimated at between $500,000 and $700,000. It is thought that less than one-third of this amount is covered by insurance.

Cadets at West Point.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Cadet appointments to the West Point military academy have been made as follows: Scott Corvill, Denver, Col., and William D. Williams, Denver, Colo., to the latter; F. R. Desloge, St. Louis, Mo., to the latter; N. Allison, of St. Louis, alternate; W. L. Reed, Newberg, N. Y.; F. L. Jordan, Phoenix, Ariz.; H. J. Bartles, Mansfield, Wis.; S. M. Henderson, Franklin, Tenn.; H. N. Smith, Blanchard, Mich.; Ray B. Hayes, Chicago.

His Mind Unbalanced.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 21.—A sorrowful sequence to the recent troubles of Crocker, Fisk & Co. is furnished in the announcement that George Crocker, senior member of the firm, has been taken to a private insane hospital at Wauwatosa, near Milwaukee.

THE HAWAIIAN QUESTION.

A Brother of President Dole Discusses the Situation.

CHICAGO, April 21.—The Tribune this morning has the following special from Riverside, Cal., April 20: George H. Dole, a brother of Sanford B. Dole, president of the provisional government of Hawaii, arrived here last night and was asked how he thought the halting down of the American flag would affect the question of annexation. He said: "I do not believe that Hawaii's action in removing the American flag and troops from Hawaii will affect our chances for annexation in any way. In fact I believe it will help it. I think the President stands a fair better chance of annexation if she were left free to treat as an independent power."

As to the question whether the movement on the part of England in forfeiting Vancouver has any significance in regard to Hawaii, I am satisfied that neither England nor any other foreign power wants Hawaii, or in any way cares to raise complications with the United States. The report that the queen will be re-established is absurd. The provisional government has now a fine body of trained troops and is in a position to maintain itself against any internal disaffection."

WILL READ A POEM.

William A. Croft Has an Allegory for the Fair's Opening.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—William A. Croft, a well-known literature of this city, was today advised by President Palmer of the World's fair commission, that he had been designated to read a poem at the dedicatory services of the World's fair.

The poem, an allegory of about 1000 words, purports to be a conversation between Columbus and Martin Furzon, who commanded the Pinta, one of the vessels of the Santa Maria, Columbus vessel, in which the two discuss the nature of the land which, if successful, they should discover. The building of the poem is said to be a very finished production and fully sustains the reputation of its author.

CAR SHOPS COLLAPSED.

Blown Down by the Wind, but Twenty Men Escaped Injury.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 21.—Yesterday, while the wind was blowing at the rate of sixty miles an hour, the workmen in the Big Four car repair shops at Brightwood noticed the roof and walls of the structure shaking, and as a precautionary measure they all climbed into box cars which were in the building for repairs. The building, the whole building collapsed, but the cars were strong enough to support the big timbers and not a man of the twenty at work was injured. The building was 600 feet long and 150 feet wide.

Some of the cars in which the workmen were imprisoned were slightly damaged. The building was an old one and the loss is not great.

FIRE AT MINNEAPOLIS.

Inmates of a Lodging House Escaped in Their Night Clothes.

MINNEAPOLIS, April 21.—J. A. Shea's fruit commission house on Bridge square was burned at 2 o'clock this morning and the jewel lodging house adjoining badly damaged. The lodgers escaped in their night garments and two men were almost unconscious when they were dragged from the third story.

Shea's loss is $40,000; insurance $35,000. The building, owned by the Great Northern Railway company, was valued at $20,000. The lodging house was damaged several thousand dollars.

PAT EGAN WILL RESIGN.

Will not Await Mr. Porter's Arrival to Relieve Him.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The Herald's Valparaiso correspondent telegraphs: El Mercurio says that Minister Egan has decided to resign and will not await Mr. Porter's arrival to relieve him.

The Herald's Monte Cristi, San Domingo, special says: President Hipolyte, of Hayti, and President Heuraxa, of San Domingo, met yesterday. The two presidents had a conference which lasted five hours. This was followed by a banquet during which the alliance for peace formed by the two presidents was sealed in many bumpers by their followers. Hipolyte started for Cape Haytien this morning.

THE BOY OBJECTED.

Lawyer Arbury Ejected a Boy From His Premises and Was Arrested.

The criminal docket in municipal court this morning bore a charge of assault in the third degree against Geo. E. Arbury, complaint having been made by John Ingus. The matter was not called up and upon being informed that the fracas would be settled, the deputy clerk crossed it off his book.

Arbury is an attorney in Duluth. The complainant alleges that Arbury assaulted him by slapping him and "kicking him upon his body." The defendant explains his part in the fracas by a statement that the complainant was with a company of boys who were playing on his front yard and making an unseemly noise. Being ordered off, the intruders declined to go, whereupon Mr. Arbury assisted and accelerated their departure by using the toe of his boot upon the posterior of young Ingus.

SOUNDS LIKE A ROAST

Judge Ensign Warns the Jurors That Jury Room Proceedings Are Supposed to Be Secret.

He Objected to the Singling Out of a Certain Juror and Commenting Upon His Opinion.

Jury Disagreed in the Case of Martha Peters vs. the City—Will Be Tried Again.

Before Judge Ensign in room 1, of the district court last evening the jury in the case of Martha Peters vs. the City of Duluth, reported a disagreement and was discharged. This morning Judge Ensign announced that some complaints had reached his ears this morning that the jurors had been singled out by the morning paper. This morning's issue stated that a juror had asserted that L. B. Manley's persistence prevented the awarding of nominal damages. Mr. Manley was greatly displeased at this and characterized it as false. Some of the jurors complained to Judge Ensign, that the juror who had singled out L. B. Manley, was not proper and that the publication of the secret of the jury room was not proper and would destroy the good work sometimes accomplished by juries. The judge remarked that the law threw a certain amount of protection about jurors, that their duties were not voluntary but compulsory and that the deliberations of the jury room were supposed to be secret and that the publication of the secrets of the jury room was not proper and would destroy the good work sometimes accomplished by juries. The judge had never before noticed the manner of singling out a certain juror and commenting upon his action and he hoped it would not occur again. He warned the jurors against disclosing what occurs in the jury room.

The case of Marcha Peters against the city of Duluth was then reached on the calendar and put at the foot of the jury actions. The cases of M. A. Kingman vs. the city of Duluth and Copman & Robbins vs. city of Lakeside were reported settled or continued. Patrick McKee vs. Fred McNaughton was continued, as was Harriet W. Haynes vs. the city of Duluth. The cases of James Sheridan et al. vs. Chandler Iron company et al. and the Duluth & Iron Range Railway company vs. Edward Lynch et al. were continued by stipulation. There was no appearance in the case of John Malencheck vs. Jacob Skola and the action was continued. The jury was called in by Judge Ensign, as assignee, vs. the State bank of Duluth and at this point Judge Ensign retired from the bench and Judge Lewis took the seat. The case is still on.

In room 2, before Judge Lewis, at the opening of the court the judge charged the jury in the case of C. W. Bingham, as executor, vs. H. P. Mills, and the jury were still out deliberating about noon.

PERSONAL.

Clyde W. Stillson, the attorney, has been severely ill for a week past, but now is steadily recovering.

William Lawver, who has been ill, is convalescent and will be out in a few days.

Mrs. E. D. Ayers is rapidly recovering from her serious illness.

Charles Himmold, of the blast furnace company, arrived this morning from Chicago.

George Wallace, of Marquette, is in the city.

Robert Mitchell, of Hong Kong, China, is at the Spaulding.

D. H. Williams leaves tomorrow for a visit to his mother at Potosi, Wis. After he has spent a week there he may go down to Chicago to the Northern Pacific of the exposition.

W. A. Russell, assistant general passenger agent of the St. Paul & Duluth railway, is in the city.

Auditor LaVague is expected home tomorrow from Fargo.

Will be the Major.

It looks very much as though Capt. Bert Braden, formerly commander of Company C, would be the major of the Third regiment. There is to be an election held at the office of Col. Shandrew, in the Endicott block, St. Paul, on the evening of May 1. Gen. Bend and Col. Shandrew will both be in attendance. Capt. Braden has recently come to Duluth to live. It seems to be generally accepted that he will be the man, and there is no doubt that he will make a good officer.

THE CINCINNATI MEETING.

Stockholders Had an Interesting Meeting and Did Not Reduce the Royalty.

At the meeting of the Cincinnati Iron company stockholders yesterday afternoon to consider the request of the Standard Ore company for a reduction of royalty from 35 cents to 30 cents and for the release of the company's right to forty acres, which the latter wishes to plant there 66,399 shares represented.

F. A. Bates, of the Standard Ore company, presented his side of the matter and made what even opposing stockholders admitted was a good statement. He gave comparative figures on cost of mining and transportation from the Goebels, Menominee and Mesaba ranges, and also pressed statements from the furnace company as to how the ore was running in metallic iron, these showing it to be considerably below expectations.

A. C. Humphreys made a somewhat humorous speech against the reduction, in the course of which he made the statement that he would take more stock in what Mr. Bates said if he did not know him to be such a professional liar. To this Mr. Bates retorted that "if there were not so many professional liars around here there would not be so much $5 and $6 stock." Mr. Humphreys closed by remarking that he thought that would be best to hold the company to the 35 cents royalty.

It was mentioned during the talk that an expert had been sent up by the directors of the Cincinnati company to examine the property and that he had made a report. Thomas S. Wood, a stockholder wanted to hear this report read but it could not be found and the matter was about to be passed off when Mr. Wood again demanded this time vociferously that the report be produced. Mr. Humphreys gave the substance of it as nearly as he could and it was favorable to the property.

F. F. Patten moved that "the Standard Ore company be given leave to withdraw." Nobody seemed to know what it meant and all voted away under the impression that it was a request for the Standard Ore company representatives to get out of the room. Mr. Bates got his hat and coat and President Humphreys accelerated his departure by informing him of the adoption of the motion.

Mr. Patten then moved to adjourn and blank amazement fell over the crowd. Mr. Patten explained the effect of his motion and said that he was misunderstood and that the action taken be rescinded. This carried and he explained that his motion meant a rejection of the proposition and put the motion again. Thomas S. Wood rose to protest but the motion was declared null and void. It was tested that the stockholders ought to be given a chance to vote on the question. F. G. Chapman intimated that he would like to know how much the gentleman was being paid for his services but the chairman rapped him to order and declared a motion to adjourn carried.

Tired of Seeing Them.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—It was stated today by a gentleman whose position gives weight to his words, in explanation of the delay by President Cleveland in making appointments, that none would be made until after the pressure by applicants is relieved by their departure.

WANT COUNTY AID.

Three Railroads File Applications With the County Auditor.

The Duluth, Missabe & Northern, Duluth & Winnipeg, and Duluth Great Western railways have filed applications with the county auditor for county aid under the provisions of the general laws. The applications were filed in the order named, the first asking for $250,000, the second for $300,000 and the last named for $300,000. The Missabe agrees to build its road into Oneota as planned and to extend into the city of Duluth proper and promises much in the industrial line. The Duluth & Winnipeg agrees to extend its line from Ironston to Fifth avenue west in Duluth. This would cost an enormous sum as the right of way would be very expensive. The Duluth Great Western proposes to build 100 miles of road from Duluth up through the Mesaba country.

The Missabe road being in first is entitled to have its application voted on first and the law provides that only one shall be voted on each year. It has been suggested and seems to meet with favor that it would be advisable for the three roads to enter into an agreement so that all can be voted to all at one election. There is some talk of calling a public meeting to discuss the question.

Want it Aced Upon.

On the ninth of last September the board of public works submitted to Judge Ensign for confirmation an assessment roll aggregating about $80,000. Since then, so far as heard, the district court has taken no steps towards handing down a decision. T. W. Abell, clerk of the board of public works, sent a communication to Judge Ensign calling attention to the submission of the rolls, the fact that the city wants funds badly for present use and asking his honor if he cannot accelerate the wheels of the justice mill a little.

Entered by Burglars.

Some time last night the dressmaking and dry goods emporium of Madame La Ferre at 604 West Superior street, was entered by burglars and goods to the value of $1000 taken. Madame La Ferre locked up her establishment and went home. This morning the loss was discovered together with the fact that entrance had been made by the front door. The detectives are energetically hunting the thieves in Superior and Duluth, but aside from the fact that a couple of men were seen hanging around that vicinity yesterday, there is no clue as to their identity.

Locating Range Lights.

Maj. M. B. Adams, U. S. N., district lighthouse engineer, and Commander U. J. Read, U. S. N., inspector of lighthouses, are in the city today arranging for the placing of range lights to mark the channels in Duluth harbor, Superior and St. Louis bays. Sixteen lights will be located in all. The Rice's Point, St. Louis river, Superior bay and Alouez bay channels will be marked. The lights will be placed as soon as the ice goes out.

The Union Pacific Strike.

OMAHA, Neb., April 21.—The strikers in the Union Pacific shops are conferring with the company this afternoon and hope to settle the strike by night.
